Hammurabi, the King of Babylon, initiated a practice some 4000 years ago which has become a cornerstone of democratic government — a written code of laws. This ancient concept of the public's right to know is acknowledged and protected by the "due process clause" of the Fourteenth Amendment of the United States Constitution, the Alabama Constitution, and the Code of Alabama, which require that Alabama's laws be published and made available to the public.

However, because the laws are available to the public does not necessarily mean that they are accessible. It is said that one of the hateful acts of the ill-famed Roman Emperor Caligula was that of having the laws inscribed on a pillar so high that the people could not read them. In an effort to lower the "pillar" a tiny notch, and thereby make our laws slightly more accessible to for those who are regular users of the Alabama Acts, a new numbering system has been devised.

Under this new system, every act of the Legislature, regardless of the type of session in which it was enacted, is numbered sequentially in the order received by the Secretary of State from the Governor. Numbering begins at the commencement of each calendar year and incorporates a two-digit prefix corresponding to the last two digits of the year of enactment. For example, the first act passed by the organizational session of 1979 is designated as Alabama Act 79-1. This numbering system is continued through the special and regular sessions and concludes with Alabama Act 79-835.

People behind the scenes who have made these volumes possible include: McDowell Lee, Secretary of the Senate; John Pemberton, Clerk of the House of Representatives; Ann Worthington and Meridith Graves, enrolling and engrossing clerks; Dody Pappanastos and Helen Thorington, technical proofreaders, Louis Greene, Director of the Legislative Reference Service; the staff of the Secretary of State's office; and Edward Still, a Birmingham attorney, who provided voluntary advice on the new numbering system.

Questions or suggestions regarding the publication of these acts are welcomed.

ADDRESS TO JOINT SESSION OF THE LEGISLATURE
BY GOVERNOR FOB JAMES
AT ORGANIZATIONAL SESSION JANUARY 16, 1979

President Pro Tem St. John and Speaker Pro Tem Manley and distinguished members of the Alabama Legislature, I want to tell you that I appreciate your having me among your ranks this evening. I would like to say to you that yesterday in my inaugural talk I attempted to set forth a philosophy and a set of principles that will undergird and underwrite basically every decision that I make and every recommendation that I present to you. I hope the philosophy is set. I hope now it is time to talk operations. To talk nuts and bolts. To talk performance. And to talk productivity. And that is what I wish to do for the next 15 or 20 minutes.

I would like first to make mention of the fact that I understand certain resolutions are coming forth and being discussed in these bodies regarding economics. And I understand that there is keen interest here on maintaining Presidential guidelines. When I hear figures like 400 dollars and 65 dollars, I can say to you, that is defensible. This body in the fixed monthly sum of 300 dollars hasn't had a raise since 1967. And on the 50 dollar per diem, it hasn't had an increase since 1974. But I ask you to understand the President of the United States in my humble opinion is fighting a battle against inflation, an enemy that is deadlier than any foreign army America has ever had to face. And although we are not talking about a lot of money, sometimes things that are symbolic set a philosophy and set a tone and I beg you to give that due consideration. If there is a serious effort here, and I think there is, to stay within these guidelines, I want you to know that I will support you from one end of the state to the other because I think it is right.

I would now like to call the names of four members of the legislative body, the House of Representatives, whom I think deserve a very special welcome from all of us and I'm going to call their names, and then I'd like to lead this body in applause to Representative Martha Jo Smith of Huntsville, Representative Shelby Dean Ward of Opelika, Representative Ann Bedsole and Representative Mary Zoghby, the latter two from Mobile. They grace these halls and they make this body much more pleasant to gaze upon.

Comes a question of program and many of you have inquired about what programs I might have and I am appreciative of that. I am going to try to hit the highlights here in the next few minutes and give you some detail and some concept to the best of my ability of what our programs will be. I want to say that, basically, my program is verbatim, to the letter, what was in my campaign brochure. I wrote this brochure in January of 1977 and I meant every word of it. To me it is a binding contract. It is a solemn commitment to the people of Alabama and of course I ask for your patience and your support in making it a reality.

I would like to go down it page by page and talk to those points that would be the backbone and chief interest of our administration.

I said it's time we had a government that is economical instead of wasteful and I mean that. Now what do we mean when we say that. Well, we are talking about reorganization or restructuring state government and I have a book here written by a committee on state government reorganization for the State of Alabama. It's got 500 pages in it and it was, I'm sure, put together by very brilliant people and consultants and folks that have a lot more education than I've got. But I'm not going to insult your intelligence by standing up here and asking you to support a reorganization of a $3 billion operation that you own simply by showing you a book.

I prefer to take the course that as we are putting our cabinet together, we are bringing in a skeleton crew and doubling up and tripling up to help give us the edge a little bit. And we are going to make a lot of mistakes. I want you to know that there will be mistakes from the head and not from the heart.

Let us put together some operating procedures and test them for 6 months. Let us test them for a year. Let us, when we come to you to ask your blessings, be able to say to the legislators of this state: Ladies and gentlemen, here is a year of solid performance at "x" number of dollars. Here are the services we rendered and we think we ought to ask for your legislative approval so that we can start to reorganize a little bit in this way. That would be our approach to coming to you with cost saving measures.

Now I've got another book here, and it talks about the Governor's Cost Control Survey. I went up to Chicago a couple of weeks ago and talked with consultants who write all about that task force and a lot of good citizens around the state did a lot of good work here. This report from the Chicago consultants says that we can save 100 million dollars and that we've implemented some 40-odd million dollars, but I'm not sure I accept that. Our approach will be that we will take their good information and we'll designate a person, and we have Mr. Reuben Finney, and he is going to be in my cabinet and head up this task force. Now, Reuben went to Auburn as I did and the only difference between my Cousin Reub and me is that when I got through I had made one "B" and the rest of it was “C’s” and “D’s” and Cousin Reub had made one “B” and the rest of it was “A’s”. Following that he had an outstanding record with a large commercial firm in Birmingham in the business world and what we are going to do is get Mrs. Annie Laurie Gunter to set us up some accounts over in the Treasury and as this task force moves to implement these economies we want the money to go into those special accounts because I don’t want to show you any more blue ribbon reports, I want to show you cash in the bank where we can say to you: Here is the cash, now reappropriate it like you think it ought to be reallocated. To me, that is productivity and that is performance and anything less than that is sheer nonsense. That is the way we will work.

I made the statement that I thought certain aspects of our tax laws were wrong and those two tax laws that I dislike, that I think are a disgrace to this state, are the sales tax on food and the sales tax on prescription drugs and medicines. The reasons I think they are wrong is that they hurt those least able to pay and as we get into these savings and we evaluate our current tax structure to try to figure out really what Amendment One means in terms of revenue to this state and the constitutional challenges it must face, we’ll come back to you with a tax package we think is right and is fair. We want to involve you in the investigation, the work, all along, but everyday it will cross my mind when I get up in the morning and when I go to bed at night that we have not yet eliminated the sales tax on food and drugs and I want to see that happen as soon as we can possibly bring it about.

You’ve all read in the paper about Alabama Power Company. There isn’t a person in this room who doesn’t know who that is, I know. And I made the statement in my brochure that it’s time that we found some real answers to the rising cost of electricity in Alabama. I don’t have a magic wand and everybody in this state and in this room who is honest with themselves knows that there is an energy crisis that we are facing.

Also, we know the hardships that high electric rates place on our people and we have a very dangerous phenomenon developing here. The credibility gap between those that generate power and the public grows wider and wider. On one hand, we jeopardize the economic future of Alabama and that is not good. The only answer is a strong, well staffed Public Service Commission that understands the workings of the power company like the palm of their hand. And I say to the commissioners that they have got my support and I’ll ask them and you for the support as well to design a Public Service Commission that can determine what it ought to cost to generate and deliver power, can fathom the purchasing procedures of a billion dollar a year operation, so that we can say to the power company in all fairness to them: Present us a profit plan in June for what you want next year and then let us know in advance if we are going to have cost increases and labor contract negotiations or rising fuel costs, and let's monitor how much hydro-power is used in this state every year, how much coal generated power, how much oil generated power and how much nuclear generated power. And let's understand this—that balance sheets are not that complicated. Nobody's. And anytime someone tells this body that it can't understand the figures, that they are too complex, you button up your back hip pocket.

The Public Service Commission, once they know their business and have done their homework, will stand up and tell the people of Alabama what is right and what is fair for consumer and power company alike. That is our ultimate goal.

It's time to give our children a decent education before we hand them a diploma. I mentioned illiteracy yesterday because if we could improve by about 15 or 20 percent the literacy level in Alabama we would unleash creative strengths and energies the like of which you have never seen before.

I'll also tell you I'm not an educator but I want to set forth some concepts that we are going to live by. You hear a lot about teacher testing and pupil testing. There are three elements that I'm interested in out in our schools where the action is. One is the school board, and another one is the superintendent and the principal. That is management. And the other is the classroom teachers. Now I put my finger primarily on the school boards, management. I think the great majority of teachers in Alabama are probably competent and dedicated and I think they deserve the highest respect and the greatest esteem from all of us. Those that are not we need to get away from our children and I'm not so sure that if we got the right management in every school that that could not be done.

I asked Dr. Teague, and we've talked about this: The process has been set up where I'm the chairman of the state school board. I have never heard of blaming the loss of a war on the soldiers before. We are responsible, myself, the state school board, local school boards and administrators. It is up to us to get the job done.

Now I'd like to talk about a new constitution. I believe we need a new constitution for several reasons. First, we need to give our local governments the flexibility to deal with local problems. And we can do this by granting them Home Rule.

Second, by granting Home Rule to local government, we can enable the Legislature to deal more effectively not only with current problems but also with future and unforeseen needs.

Third, by including the initiative, referendum and recall provision in a new constitution, we can provide the good people of Alabama with a direct means of voicing their opinions in state and local affairs. These provisions would give the grass roots government to the people of Alabama. They have a good record in other states and I think that speaks well of the collective wisdom of the people. I beg your close consideration of these provisions.

And last, just general housecleaning. We've got a lot of material in the present Constitution that is either unconstitutional, outdated or irrelevant. We need to get it out of there. We need just a good document that sets forth the basic principles that this country was founded upon.

We have a volunteer group called a Governors Working Party for a New Constitution and there has been some misunderstanding about that. I would like to explain it. It is made up of men and women, seven, eight or twelve of them leaders in the work of the 1969 Constitutional Revision Commission. Most of them are lawyers represented by the leadership of these houses and as you go in to discuss point by point the new Constitution, we've got to have some folks that can put it in words, get it framed, keep it moving. That is the only reason for the Governor's Working Party. A new Constitution has got to come from you, from your intuition, from your heart. I hope we can keep it moving along. If you say, "This is all right", we'll put it down and move on. We are not trying to write a new Constitution without input. What we want to do is set the framework and structure a working arrangement that will give you all the tools that you need to do the research, the thinking, to give you the alternatives.

I think we need a new Constitution, Ladies and Gentlemen.

I have a proclamation setting forth two requests that I would like to make to this body. First, legislation to postpone the convening of a regular session of the legislature of Alabama from February 6, 1979 to April 17, 1979. The primary reason for that is to give us an opportunity to get the budget ready for you. Second, a resolution to authorize the appointment of a joint committee of the two houses of the Legislature for the purpose of studying revision of the Constitution of Alabama of 1901. That sets forth the machinery to consider a new Constitution.

Most of you have read in the newspaper about our appointments. I would like to run down them very quickly. Dean James E. Foy, Executive Secretary; Mr. Mike Waters, Legal Advisor; Jon Ham, Press Secretary, Hal Sumrall is going to handle appointments and let me say something about appointments. The people we will appoint come from somebody's district and if you all don't object, we are going to seek your advice so you won't be surprised when you read about it in the newspapers.

You have been very kind to Mr. Dick Forster, who is going to be liaison with the Senate, and he did, I think, a tremendous job in handling the ten thousand details of the inauguration, in which you participated, and for which I am grateful. Mr. Don Bryan who will be Dick's counterpart in the House; Mr. Jim Littleton, human resources; Dr. Bob Lager, advisor for education; Capt. Ron Dunson, in charge of security and who will be traveling with me a good bit; Mr. Reuben Finney I've already mentioned; Mr. Tom Ventress, Acting Director of Finance, to give us a base, somebody who has seen all aspects of the department and who can save us countless weeks and months by sharing what is going on, what is being done, and we are grateful to him for doing that.

And let me explain something. You know I am going to act as my own Finance Director. There is a reason for it. Right now, every department in this state is coming to the executive branch for their budgets and they bring in five or six or seven or as many as ten personnel from various departments. I've got great hopes, and great expectations and anticipations from the innovation that we are going to get from the Alabama State Employees. I know that once they fully understand that we are looking to reward one thing, competency, that they could disagree with us, say what is on their mind and it would be appreciated. During the next four years, in promoting Alabama State employees, you can forget that there ever has been any politics coming into play in giving to or withholding from a good man or a good woman any promotion that they deserved.

And I have to get that point across and I thought that one of the best ways to do it and to familiarize myself with the operations of your government is to serve as Finance Director. That fits me right into the back of the plant. I mentioned Dr. Rainer—he is a big man and also in addition to giving him the Highway Department, we've got the Bureau of Highway and Traffic Safety for him and we'll probably ask that Aeronautics be put there, too. Again we are hoping to find better ways, more economical ways of running your government.

General Henry Cobb, our Adjutant General, is here tonight and we are going to load him up, too. We will try putting Civil Defense under him and see how that works.

You know about Mr. Bob Hope down at the State Docks, and we are pleased with that. There is not a job on the docks that he hasn't done in his lifetime. And I think I have mentioned Mayor Bobby Davis at ADO.

In the Department of Revenue, I've ask Mr. Ralph Eagerton to stay on to be acting director for a month or so and have done the same in other departments where we found very capable ranking merit employees, such as Mr. Whittle in Consumer Protection and Mr. Farquhar at the Commission on Aging. But I think for the first month for our shakedown cruise, the ship of state is fairly well manned.

I want to thank you for the time that you have given me this evening and I've expressed to you before on a number of occasions, how I view State Legislatures. The historical sense of duty that is here, the fact that you are the first legislative body in the mainstream politics in America. I've often reminded you that these bodies about four decades ago elected our U. S. Senators.

I will watch you with great respect, great respect for you as individuals and as a body. You'll never see the executive branch acting any other way. We may disagree many times, and if we do I want you to come into my office and tell me what's on your mind and I want you to say when you feel like it, "Governor, you're wrong". And if you say, "Fob, you're wrong," I'll probably realize quicker that you're talking to me. And I mean that. No individual here has ever anything to fear from me as far as utilizing the press in the wrong way, because when you boil it down, we're going to make it together or we aren't going to make it.

In closing, I would like to leave you with one thought. There is a special bond between you and I, very special, and it's a bond different from any relationship that you or I have with anyone who walks the halls of this Capitol. On Capitol Hill in Montgomery, Alabama, you and I alone were elected by the people. That does not mean that I do not have respect for the various good and great people who come here, but in these halls, this is our house and we were elected to give to the people of Alabama the best within our minds and the best within our hearts. Ladies and Gentlemen, I submit to you that within this house we are blood brothers and sisters and I will live every day of my term with that in mind.

I thank you very much.

ADDRESS TO JOINT SESSION OF THE LEGISLATURE
BY GOVERNOR FOB JAMES
AT REGULAR SESSION APRIL 17, 1979

May I proceed Governor McMillan and Mr. Speaker? (You may proceed)

Senators and Representatives, ladies and gentlemen, I would be out of order if I did not, on behalf of the Executive Branch of the government, welcome each and every one of you to Montgomery, Alabama and the Capitol in the remainder of this wonderful spring and the tremendous summer we are all going to enjoy together here in the Capitol city.

And also I would be remiss if I did not express my gratitude to Senator Figures, Senator Barron and Senator Britnell and Representatives Cobb, Gilmer and Hall for coming down in the early part of the afternoon and letting me know that the Legislature had gotten into town, and I thank you very much for that. And also for Senator Denton, Cook and Smith and the wonderful Representatives from my home county, Mr. Turnham, Representative Ward and Whatley for showing me where the Legislature comes once they get to town. And so here we are.

One other note of gratitude in a very serious vein is in order and that is to members of the House and the Senate for the very serious vein in which you held your budget hearings. You asked hard questions and in my judgment every one was justified. You persevered, you suffered some frustrations because the numbers were not orderly and disciplined and available to you, and I suffer those same frustrations some now. But I want to pledge to you members of the budget committee that a few months from now when you resume again next year I think we will spare you those frustrations because we will have a base to start with--something to compare by--and we will do our duty by your having information on which to base many of the hard decisions you are called upon to make.

Next week I am going to submit to you the budgets. I believe the budgets will reflect a way of thinking, a way of thinking confirmed overwhelmingly by the people of Alabama in the elections of 1978. That is a total disbelief that large expenditures of tax dollars alone necessarily can solve one problem--it can not.

There is no such thing as a free lunch. There is no such thing as something for nothing. Always somebody has to pay. They will reflect too a growing resolve that government should live under the same discipline and the same restraints and at times suffer the same hardships as do the citizens who pay for government. And above all government must be accountable. Accountable to who? Accountable to the House and accountable to the Senate--each and every member--because this is a body the people of Alabama have entrusted the pursestrings and I love this system. It is right and proper and all we have to do is make it work. Accountability: there lies the challenge of the 80's. The most grass roots body in these United States--and I have said it to you before and I want to say it to you again--are the State Legislatures of America, that original body the founding fathers set forth and put so much emphasis on years ago. You are closer to the people than any other body in all of government and that's why you are so fundamental and that is why you better than anyone else, in my judgment, can meet the challenge. I will do my best to prevent the executive branch from administering itself away from the problems you want solved, or allowing bureaucratic buffers to hide from you true utilization of the tax dollar. To this end, ladies and gentlemen I request, I humbly request, your approval and your support of two actions of which I feel very strong.

First tonight, I want to begin the war on illiteracy. I want you and I to win the war on illiteracy for the children of Alabama. Illiteracy is real, illiteracy is a human tragedy, illiteracy in 1979 is hell. The state government along with local governments and school boards bear the responsibility of seeing that our children are taught to read and write, spell and count and if we fail there a child is handicapped for life.

Now let me hasten to add to that. Governments of all sizes, any shape, form or fashion and billions of dollars cannot win this war without mass human commitment on part of parents to help their child, to discipline their child, to support their teachers and principals. To do less is an injustice to the child and to their fellow citizens who pay their taxes that finance education.

My plea tonight to every parent in the state of Alabama is to join us in this commitment. Now, you've heard a lot of talk you've read a lot of headlines about teachers. You talk about schools and you inevitably get around to talking about teachers. The great majority of our teachers are competent and dedicated. Obviously, those that are not should be removed from the classroom by the principals and the superintendent, period. I call on all teachers to reclaim their authority in the classroom to discipline and teach and to do so they must have the full backing of parents, local officials, state board of education, state superintendent of education, the legislature and the governor. To every classroom teacher in this state tonight I say you have my backing in this regard without equivocation.

Further, our high schools and technical colleges must offer training in the great vocational and industrial skills that underwrite America's productive capacity and industrial might. Now I know what I am talking about, ladies and gentlemen. From the ranks of skilled craftsmen come the leadership of American industry, always has and always will and we in the South need those skills today as we are on the verge of moving this state economically more than ever before. And too, we must ensure the quality of our junior colleges and universities so that any Alabamian with the determination and dedication can reach the highest level of academic excellence without having to leave his home state to do so. But it all starts in grammar school and so often, for too many youngsters, in reality it ends there. Therein is the war on illiteracy. Here is the battle plan that I submit to your good judgment.

You know that we are just finishing the testing in basic skills of every child in every school in this state. The reason for that was to tell us precisely where our problems were grade by grade, school by school, in the basic skills and to look at each of the grades up and down the line so we can know where we stand.

If we have got in any given school 150 fourth graders and 100 of them are doing second grade work and no more, we need to know that. We need to know it now because we have from now until school opens again in September to get ready. And I propose this--that you allow the state superintendent and your governor to have a task force--12 task forces--in this state made up of seven or eight men and women.

Where are these men and women coming from? They are coming from the ranks of the teachers that are out there in the classrooms. As we take these tests and look at them and we see in a school four third grades all the same and we see outstanding performance there then the person teaching in that school is a candidate for one of these teams. But we want them to live in the area. I want this to boil up from the bottom, not come in from the top. We don't want to add to the bureaucratic buffer. We want it to boil up from the bottom. And to do that--that team of people has got to know its business and has got to have a proven record that its contemporaries know and understand or they will never be able to go in and get the cooperation and keep our mind on our goal. They will go into the school where we see the obvious problems and ask in June what are the problems, why is it that we have such a high failure rate, what can we do to help? And they will then stay there and live there for one full year and monitor the school to see in reality if we can make a difference, because come next May and June we are going to be testing again, no guesswork but testing, to find out exactly where we stand. To do that will cost three million dollars and I ask that be put in the education budget.

Next, when they get in there and may just find that in some grades there are teacher ratios of forty to one and they may decide we need seven or eight new teachers to get the job done. We want to be able to put those teachers right there where the problem is. It may be curriculum, it may be supplies. Whatever it is we want to be able to remedy it before school starts in September. To give you some idea of what that means, if it is 50 schools--and I use that as an example--that is two hundred thousand dollars, that will put 10 teachers in there, 10 teacher units.

I don't believe money is the whole problem. There has got to be a know-how, there has got to be human commitment and there has got to be management and there has got to be accountability. That is what we are trying to do, to do a rifle approach where any child in this state who is not getting the basics is the target.

Kindergartens. Evidence presented to me since I have been in Montgomery causes me to believe that kindergarten helps to bring a child who perhaps comes from a background that is lacking in some things to a position where he is on par with first graders. So, in those schools that suffer the most we want to put in 320 kindergarten units next year--where the need is. Where the need is. And that is six million dollars. And then another million dollars we want to use to buy materials and through a joint program with the state technical colleges we want to use students to fix the classrooms that are in terrible shape. That is twenty million dollars, less than 2% of the total education budget.

And when we come back and when I come back and you come back and we look at it in May and June of next year we will be much closer to the solution of this problem of illiteracy. We will have a record, we will know if we can change it for the better and, if we see that we can, then it makes sense to look at it on a heavier basis. A year from now I can account to you in full the results--by school--of this action. I recommend it, I ask you for it. It will be reflected in the budget that I send up.

Now, let me talk to the Special Education Trust Fund budget. As we review the figures we receive daily from the Finance Department and from Mr. Eagerton over in Revenue, it appears that we are going to have about 30 million dollars in new money. I think twenty million of it needs to capture this program and the other 10 million approximately is going to be needed to be sure that we wind up with a balanced budget.

The second subject I would like to discuss with you is roads and highways. As I understand it, governors and legislators have been discussing roads and highways ever since the system started and I am sure they will be doing it in the years to come. I don't have to tell you what a transportation system means to this state, what it means to income, what it means to industry, what it means to the safety of our people, what it means to the safety of our school children as they move in their buses from home to school.

You know about the frost action we have had, you know about the floods. I've traveled this state, as many of you have--and I can see it in my mind's eye right now from one end of the Tennessee Valley starting up on Sand Mountain and coming across to the Tri-Cities--and we have problems with our roads and highways. Then you move down to Cullman County and Walker County where the farm-to-market roads of the 50's have simply been ground into dust and in many cases, they are plowing them up because they can't carry the high impact loads of industry and mining today. And then you move eastward into Calhoun and Etowah and you find the same, and as you come down zigzagging to Baldwin County you find a state that has a tremendous capital investment in its transportation system and it is deteriorating.

Not only is it deteriorating but we have got bridges that are unsafe and we know it. Three winters ago I was floating the Patsaliga Creek down in Covington County duck hunting and I floated under a bridge, an old bridge, and I looked up and the main beams were broken. I couldn't believe it. Later I called the highway director, it was then Ray Bass, and I said "Ray, you are not going to believe what I saw down on the Patsaliga Creek in Covington County" and he said, "Fob we have hundreds of bridges just like that."

Now we need to fix those bridges or we are going to have some terrible accidents, some terrible accidents. I am talking about highway dollars now. We are not talking about, as I read in the newspaper, building a larger highway department. The fixed overcost there is scheduled to go down. We are talking about money to buy roads, money to buy resurfacing. We are talking about showing to the Legislature in advance the projects they can expect of a road program if they decide to buy it. I believe it is necessary. I believe it will save the people of Alabama money because their cars are taking a terrible beating on many of our roads. And it is very difficult for them to carpool, as nowadays folks ought to do and want to do, with the price of gasoline going like it is.

In these projects, there will be legislative input, they will be reviewed every legislative session or twice a year. We are in a position in the Highway Department to lay it out. Where you know in advance what you are getting, and I think that is important. There is a price tag on it. You have been reading in the newspapers about a number of proposals. I want us to come down on the right price tag. I want us to look very carefully when we buy a fixed number of roads three years from now or four years from now to see that the price tag is automatically eliminated in the main. But there is no way to do that unless we buy the roads, and we need to buy them as effectively as we can.

So I urge you, through the Joint Highway Committee purposely set up for this, and through our discussions, let's come down on a road program that is right for the state of Alabama and go with it. I look forward to working with you on it.

I want to make mention, too, of the ten captive counties that we have. I believe we are in a position in those captive counties to turn them back over to the local officials and somehow get them enough equipment to where they can maintain their own roads. I believe it will be better for the counties. I believe it will be more responsive and we are prepared to do that. I have great faith in local officials and I like to see them assume their responsibility and they can do that better than the Highway Department. I believe, I believe, that is the right approach. I can't tell you that I know much about government. You have all found out by now by reading the newspapers that I don't know about government. But I can tell you that between Dr. Rainer and some mighty men in the Highway Department that we know how to build roads. If you tell us how many roads you want to build, we will build them cheaper than anybody else in the United States or we will get them built and they will meet the specifications. I think that is what progress is all about.

The Legislature of 1979 has within its grasp a new constitution. It was my desire from the start to put the document right here. As you say, in the bosom of the House or the breast of the Senate, or vice versa. There has been a lot of work on it going back years with the Commission, and the Governor's working party and the joint committee, and they are to be commended. Many long, hard hours have been spent. But the document now is ready.

There was some talk of calling a constitutional convention, but what do you need to call a constitutional convention for when you have got the duly elected representatives of the people in the House and the Senate?

I think we need a new constitution for several reasons. I think it ought to be a statement of principles leaving you with full legislative prerogatives. I believe in a home rule concept, and that is a hard balance to strike between state government and city and county government and I realize that it is a balance that has got to be right. Certainly the elimination of the statewide elections for local business is in order, but that doesn't really get to the heart of the matter. It is a balancing act that gives adequate protection to the various governments. That if it is not done right is very very dangerous. But it can be done right.

I believe, too, in the initiative and in the recall. The initiative, in particular, I think serves a good purpose. And I ask that you consider that. Then comes the subject of craftsmanship. Our constitution has 100,000 words today, the 1901 constitution. The new one has 22,000 words, the average state constitution in America is 25,000 words. I hope you will give the people a new constitution.

I think it would be an outstanding accomplishment for this body, this legislature of 1979 and I like the mix of this body, liked it from the time I first studied it. You have got some seasoned veterans here, a good number of seasoned veterans and also the freshness of a lot of new members. And I am proud to be downstairs while you are working upstairs.

I have told you that I look at our relationship as a partnership. Partners ought to talk to one another. Partners need to be candid with one another. Partners need to tell one another if they are not pleased with what they are doing. And I am going to try to be just as accessible as I can to each and every one of you so that you can come down to my office and say, "Fob, you are out of order." You need to do that when you feel it. I would appreciate it. You are subject daily to your constituency and I can't feel that. But you can tell me what is going on and tell me when we are a little bit wrong or out of order. And I ask for that. I need that.

In closing, let me thank you for allowing me to come here again. Your governor and the Executive Branch will walk the last mile to help you make this session and this legislature the greatest in the history of the state of Alabama. I thank you very much.

CREATING A COMMITTEE TO STUDY THE FEASIBILITY OF CONSTRUCTING A BUILDING TO HOUSE THE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT AND CONVERTING THE PRESENT BUILDING FOR LEGISLATIVE AND OTHER DEPARTMENTAL USE, AND TO CONSIDER BUYING AND HOLDING ADDITIONAL PROPERTY FOR FUTURE USE.

WHEREAS, the State of Alabama already owns property near or adjacent to buildings currently in use by the State Highway Department; and

WHEREAS, the Highway Department can function and perform their duties equally as well away from the Capitol Complex as they do now in their present location, but legislative offices and some other state departments, by virtue of the services they perform, must and should be located in close proximity to the Capitol; and

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION
 CONDEMNING THE REPREHENSIBLE ACTIONS OF

THOSE RESPONSIBLE FOR THE BOMBING OF THE BESSEMER CITY HALL ON MAY 2, 1979.

WHEREAS, the sensitivities of civilized and compassionate persons throughout the entire State of Alabama and the nation were shocked and stunned by news of the bombing which occurred in the Bessemer City Hall on May 2, 1979; and

WHEREAS, explosives sent through the United States Postal Service were detonated when a package was routinely opened and the resulting blast immediately killed veteran Police Lieutenant Clifford T. Hill, critically wounded Police Commissioner Max Williams, seriously injured Mr. Gene Lint, executive secretary to Bessemer Mayor Ed Porter, and also wounded city employee Willie Jones; and

WHEREAS, it is intolerable to the members of this body that such an atrocity could occur within the boundaries of our state and it is totally unthinkable that those responsible should go undetected and unpunished for this diabolical crime, a scheme of an obviously demented and less-than-human mind; now therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF ALABAMA, BOTH HOUSES THEREOF CONCURRING, That we do unanimously and vigorously condemn the actions of those responsible for yesterday's violence in Bessemer, Alabama, and call upon Governor Fob James to provide all necessary assistance of all possible state agencies to aid in the apprehension, arrest and conviction of the perpetrators of these crimes of murder and mayhem.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be dispatched forthwith to the Governor that he may know of our request for the assistance of his office and agencies under his direction, and of our desire that he post the highest possible reward within his powers for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the Bessemer City Hall bombers.

Those motor vehicles brought into the state during any tax year and new motor vehicles for which licenses have never been issued that have been sold from the stock of a dealer during any tax year, shall be subject to taxation as if they had been held or owned in the state on the first day of October, except that taxes thereon shall be assessed on a quarterly basis as follows:

Each owner of a motor vehicle shall continue to have the right to pay taxes and to receive a tag in person without the payment of an additional fee.

Section 18. Every purchaser of a motor vehicle shall, within 10 days after transfer of title to him, file such transfer with the office of the County License Commissioner. Failure to do so shall result in a penalty fine of $1.00. This penalty shall be remitted by the collecting authority to the county general fund.

costs, penalties and commissions as license inspectors have heretofore been authorized by law to charge and collect. All such monies collected by said commissioner shall be paid into the general fund of the county.

MOURNING THE TRAGIC DEATH OF CLIFFORD T. HILL OF BESSEMER, ALABAMA.

MEMORIALIZING THE UNITED STATES CONGRESS TO TAKE IMMEDIATE ACTION TO RESOLVE THE UNCERTAINTIES SURROUNDING THE USE OF PUBLIC LANDS AND TO TAKE OTHER SUCH NECESSARY ACTION SO AS TO PROVIDE FOR DEVELOPMENT AND PROGRESS TO MEET THE CHANGING NEEDS OF OUR NATION.

WHEREAS, wilderness studies are now being conducted on over 300 million acres of public land in Alaska and the Lower 48 states by Congress, the Forest Service, Bureau of Land Management, Fish and Wildlife Service and National Park Service; and

WHEREAS, wilderness study status and wilderness designation prohibit or severely restrict grazing, timber cutting, construction of temporary and permanent roads, exploration for and production of oil, gas and other valuable minerals, water projects, permanent campsites, sanitary and other facilities, the use of vehicles and power machinery of all kinds, and access by the elderly and physically handicapped; and

WHEREAS, under current management guidelines, these multiple uses will be prohibited indefinitely, as long as the wilderness and other land management planning studies are being conducted; and

WHEREAS, these prohibitions and restrictions are causing continued impairment of farming and ranching operations, imports of fuel and nonfuel minerals known or thought to be present in many wilderness study areas, timber shortages to local mills, an absence of critically needed information on mineral resources, increased balance of payment deficits, higher inflation, unemployment and continued erosion of dollar values abroad;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF ALABAMA, BOTH HOUSES THEREOF CONCURRING, That we memorialize the Congress to act immediately to:

1. Resolve the uncertainties surrounding the future of these public lands;
2. Prohibit lawsuits and other legal and administrative delays regarding these wilderness studies;
3. Avoid overly restrictive federal requirements which can prohibit the most environmentally responsible development of valuable resource commodities;

4. Provide reasonable access across federal lands to state and private lands; and

5. Provide the mechanism for future reevaluation of all federal lands as the needs of the nation and changes in technology dictate.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that a copy of this Resolution be sent to the Alabama Congressional Delegation, the Presiding Officer of both Houses of Congress, the U. S. Secretary of the Department of Agriculture, and U. S. Secretary of the Department of the Interior.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION

COMMENDING THE SCHOOL OF COMMUNITY AND ALLIED HEALTH AT THE UNIVERSITY OF ALABAMA IN BIRMINGHAM.

WHEREAS, ten years ago there existed in the State of Alabama an acute shortage of trained allied health care personnel, a need which was recognized by the Legislature of the State of Alabama; and

WHEREAS, the Legislature also realized that the training of health care personnel to fill this need would require technical equipment, skilled faculty and clinical facilities and that providing for these requirements on a statewide basis would be costly; and

WHEREAS, they further realized that providing one centrally located training center for preparing health care professionals would minimize the costs for training these professionals and make it possible to provide a full range of health care services to the medically underserved areas of Alabama; and

WHEREAS, by doing this the State of Alabama would afford the citizens of Alabama the opportunity for an enhanced quality of life through benefit of the access to and availability of health care services; and

WHEREAS, at the University of Alabama in Birmingham, the Alabama Legislature did create by Legislative Act the School of Community and Allied Health to serve these purposes; and

WHEREAS, during the last decade, the School of Community and Allied Health has graduated over 5,200 health professionals and has become recognized as a national leader in the field of allied health manpower preparation; and

WHEREAS, the Regional Technical Institute, which is a part of the School of Community and Allied Health, is a national model for training health professionals and with the assistance of the W. K. Kellogg Foundation and the Appalachian Regional Commission has developed a linkage with the state's junior colleges which has made available training for many Alabama citizens who otherwise would not have been able to pursue allied health training; now therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF ALABAMA, BOTH HOUSES THEREOF CONCURRING, That we hereby honor the University of Alabama in Birmingham's School of Community and Allied Health on the occasion of the School's Tenth Anniversary and also congratulate Dr. Keith D. Blayney, Dean of the School of Community and Allied Health, for so ably providing the leadership to guide the school in fulfilling the charges given forth by this Legislature a decade previous.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION

Whereas, the Vietnam War was the longest, most expensive, most divisive and most costly in human lives and suffering in the history of our nation; and

Whereas, the courageous and loyal Americans who participated in that conflict were denied the honor, glory and the gratitude which was their due because of the lack of agreement among our citizens as to what constituted our highest duty; and

Whereas, we join all fair minded and patriotic Americans in recognition of the valor and loyalty displayed by all those who served in our Armed Forces during the war in Southeast Asia; and

Whereas, we offer our respect and gratitude to those who served and to those loved ones who were left behind we offer our concern and understanding, and to those who suffered the wounds of war we offer our continued support:

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, that the Legislature of the State of Alabama, both Senate and House of Representatives concurring that we honor the patriotism of our Vietnam era veterans and their families, and call upon our fellow citizens to join all Americans to observe the week of May 28 through June 3, 1979, as Vietnam Veterans Week; and

Be it Further Resolved, that we commend the veterans for the high patriotism and the valor which they demonstrated during the extreme challenge of war and for their contributions to their communities in this time of peace.

Section 3. That, except as may be herein otherwise provided, that amounts herein specifically appropriated shall be in lieu of the amounts heretofore provided or appropriated by law for such purposes. That the amounts herein appropriated are the maximum amounts to be expended for the purposes herein designated and in no event shall the maximum expenditure provided for any items of expense exceed the amount allocated herein except as may be provided for under Section 4 and 5 of this bill, as provided in the Budget Management Act of 1976, Act No. 494, 1976 Regular Session, and those appropriations herein made, except appropriations to the Alabama Alcoholic Beverage Control Board for the purchase of alcoholic beverages, are and shall be subject to the terms, conditions, provisions and limitations of Title 40, Chapter 8, Section 80-96, Code of Alabama 1975 and the Budget Management Act of 1976 (Act No. 494).

Section 4. That any surplus remaining in any appropriation herein made from the General Fund to any office, department, bureau, board, commission, or agency may be transferred, on order of the Governor, to any other appropriation herein made from the General Fund when such appropriation to any office, department, bureau, board, commission, or agency is insufficient to pay salaries in that office, department, bureau, board, commission, or agency.

Section 5. In addition to appropriations herein made, all gifts, grants, contributions, appropriations, entitlements or any other funds, in excess of the amount carried in the bill, including grants by the Congress of the United States, municipalities or counties, to any department, division, board, bureau, commission, agency, institution, office or officer of the State of Alabama are hereby appropriated and, in the event the same are recurring, are reappropriated to such department, division, board, bureau, commission, agency, institution, office or officer to be used only for the purpose or purposes for which the grant or contribution was or shall be made.

The amounts appropriated in this section are to be in lieu of any revenue sharing funds appropriated in Section 2 to the above mentioned departments. The revenue sharing funds in Section 2 should not be construed to be an additional appropriation. In the event that the amount of funds actually received is more than the anticipated grants or entitlements, said funds together with any interest, accruals, or reversions accruing from Revenue Sharing Investments are hereby appropriated for General Government. AN ACT

Relating to Jefferson County; levying an additional 1% lodging tax to be used by the Greater Birmingham Convention and Visitors Bureau to be used for the promotion of Birmingham as a convention and visitors' destination; providing that the Director of Revenue shall collect such tax.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of Alabama:

Section 1. This Act relates to Jefferson County.

Section 2. (a) The taxes levied by this Act shall become effective, or go into effect, on the first day of the calendar month next following the calendar month in which this Act is adopted.

(b) Commencing on the effective date of the taxes, as specified in subsection (a), above, in addition to all other taxes imposed by law, there is hereby levied and shall be collected by the Director of Revenue as herein provided a privilege or license tax in the amount hereinafter prescribed against every person engaging in the county in the business of renting or furnishing any room or rooms, lodging or accommodations, to any transient in any hotel, motel, inn, tourist court, or any other place in which rooms, lodgings or accommodations are regularly furnished to transients for a consideration. The Director of Revenue shall deduct and pay to the treasury of the county one percent (1%) of the total amount of the said taxes, to compensate the county for the expenses incurred by it in collecting said taxes and in administering this act. Following that deduction, the Director of Revenue shall pay the remainder of the taxes to the Greater Birmingham Convention and Visitors Bureau of the county created under the Act adopted during the Regular 1969 Session of the Legislature. The amount of the tax shall be equal to one percent (1%) of the charge for such rooms, lodgings or accommodations, including the charge for use of rental of personal property and services furnished in such room or rooms.

The amount so collected shall be allocated to the Greater Birmingham Convention and Visitors Bureau, established by Act No. 794, 1969 Regular Session (Ala. Acts of 1969, p. 1425), and this amount shall be used for the promotion of Birmingham as a convention and visitors' destination.

Section 3. There are exempted from the provisions of the tax levied by this Act and from the computation of the amount of the tax levied or payable hereunder the following: Charges for property sold or services furnished which are required to be included in the tax levied by the State Sales Tax Act; boarding houses, tourist homes and similar establishments regularly offering less than five (5) rooms for rental to transients; charges for the rental of rooms, lodgings or accommodations furnished by any hospital, nursing home, convalescent home or by any charitable or eleemosynary institution; charges for the rental of rooms, lodgings or accommodations to a person for a period of thirty (30) continuous days or more. The exemption hereby provided shall apply to any property sold or services furnished which are required to be included in any sales tax now or hereafter levied by the State of Alabama.

The taxes levied by this Act, except as otherwise provided herein, shall be due and payable on or before the 20th day of the month next succeeding the month in which the tax accrues. On or before the 20th day of each month after the effective date of the taxes every person on whom the tax is levied by this Act shall render to the Director of Revenue on a form prescribed by him, a true and correct statement showing the gross proceeds of the business subject to the said tax for the then preceding month, together with such other information as the Director of Revenue may demand and require; and at the time of making such monthly report the taxpayer shall compute and pay to the Director of Revenue the amount of taxes shown to be due; provided, however, that any person subject to the tax who conducts any business on a credit basis may defer reporting and paying the tax until after said person has received payment for the items, articles or accommodations furnished; and in the event he so defers reporting and paying any such taxes he shall thereafter include in each monthly report all credit collections made during the then preceding month and shall pay the amount of taxes computed thereon at the time of filing such report.

It shall be the duty of every person engaged or continuing in any business subject to the taxes levied by this Act to keep and preserve suitable records of the gross proceeds of such business and such other books or accounts as may be necessary to determine the amount of tax for which he is liable under the provisions of this Act. Such records shall be kept and preserved for a period of five (5) years and shall be open for examination at any time by the Director of Revenue or by any duly authorized agent, deputy or employees of the said Director.

Any person who fails to pay the tax levied by this Act within the time required by this Act shall pay in addition to the tax a penalty of ten percent (10%) of the amount of tax due, together with interest thereon at the rate of one-half of one percent ($\frac{1}{2}$ of 1%) per month or fraction thereof the date on which the tax became due and payable, such penalty and interest to be assessed and collected as a part of the tax; provided, however, that the Director of Revenue may, if good and sufficient reason be shown, waive or remit the penalty or any portion thereof.

Section 4. The failure of any person to pay any tax levied by this Act within the time specified for the payment of the same by the Act shall constitute a misdemeanor; and the violation of any of the provisions of this Act by any person shall constitute a misdemeanor. Any person violating any provisions of this Act shall upon conviction be punished by fine of not more than five hundred dollars ($500) and may also be sentenced to hard labor for the county for not exceeding six (6) months, either or both, unless a different punishment is prescribed herein.

Section 5. None of the provisions of this Act shall be applied in such manner as to violate the commerce clause of the Constitution of Alabama. Should any provision of this Act be held invalid, the invalidity thereof shall not affect the remaining provisions of the Act.

Section 6. All laws and parts of laws, whether general, special or local, in conflict with the provisions of this Act are hereby repealed to the extent of such conflict; provided, however, it is not intended by the provisions of this section to repeal or affect in any way the privilege or license tax levied by any of the following Acts: Act No. 248 of the Regular Session of the Legislature of Alabama of 1955 (Ala. Acts 1955, p. 586), as amended by Act No. 269 of the Regular Session of the Legislature of Alabama of 1963 (Ala. Acts 1963, p. 715), Act No. 525 of the Regular Session of the Legislature of Alabama of 1965 (Ala. Acts 1965, p. 775), and Act No. 794, 1969 Regular Session (Ala. Acts 1969, p. 1425).

Section 7. There are hereby repealed all existing ordinances of all municipalities within the county imposing, or levying any license tax on the hotel, motel or tourist court business based on the gross receipts of such business or on a percentage of the charges made for rooms, lodgings or accommodations. Such repeal of municipal ordinances shall not impair the power of the governing body of any municipality to reenact any ordinance hereby repealed, or to enact any new or different ordinance imposing, or levying, a license tax on the hotel, motel or tourist court business based on the gross receipts of such business or on a percentage of the total charges made for rooms, lodgings or accommodations.

Section 8. The provisions of this Act are severable. If any part of the Act is declared invalid or unconstitutional, such declaration shall not affect the part which remains.

Section 9. This Act shall become effective upon its approval by the Governor or upon its otherwise becoming law; but the taxes levied by this Act shall not go into effect, or become effective, until the date specified in Subsection (a) Section 2, of this Act.

Approved May 29, 1979.

The secretary-treasurer shall keep a full and complete record of all proceedings of the board and perform such other duties as may be imposed upon him by the board. He shall keep a record of the terms of office of each member of the board and shall notify the electing body or bodies not less than 30 days nor more than 60 days prior to the date that an election of a member or members should be held.

"Section 5. The board shall be the trustee of the fund and have exclusive management and control thereof. It shall have the power to adopt and enforce necessary rules and regulations to carry out the purposes of this act and to enable it properly to manage and administer the fund. The board shall hear and decide all applications for pensions and benefits under this act and its decisions shall be final except as hereinafter provided. The board shall meet upon the call of the chairman, but in no event, less than once in each calendar quarter. The chairman shall call a meeting of the board within ten days after the receipt of a claim or complaint hereunder.

"Section 6. The board, at any time after considering the probable demands upon the fund in the near future, may determine what portion thereof may be withdrawn safely for investment for revenue purposes; and, having determined what portion thereof shall be withdrawn for that purpose, the board then shall determine in what manner such investment shall be made, and all proceedings of the board relating thereto shall be entered at length upon its records. Such investment shall be only by purchase of the interest bearing bonds of the United States of America, or the state of Alabama, or any bonds lawfully issued by the city of Anniston, or any bond, stock, security, investment, or deposit which is guaranteed by the United States government or any of its instrumentalities; however, not over 25 percent of the fund may be invested in the bonds of the city. All income from such investments shall be and become a part of the fund. All such securities shall be deposited with the secretary-treasurer of the board and shall be subject to the management and control of the board.

"Section 7. The board shall make a quarterly report to the governing body of the city of the condition of the fund and shall cause an annual report to be published by the 31st day of January of each year in a newspaper of general circulation published in the city.

"Section 8. There shall be kept by the secretary-treasurer of the board a book to be known as the list of retired policemen and firemen. Such book shall give a full and complete history and record of the action of the board in retiring any and all persons under this act, showing the names, date of entering the service of such fire or police department, date of retirement, and the reason for such retirement.

"Section 9. It shall be the duty of the city attorney of the city to give advice to the board in all matters pertaining to the duties of the board and the management of the fund whenever he is requested to do so; and he shall represent and defend the board as its attorney in all civil actions that may be brought against it and in all civil actions in its behalf that may be required or determined by the board.

"Section 10. The board shall be authorized to pay out of the fund all reasonable and necessary expenses, including, but not limited to, the cost of advertising local bills amendatory of or supplementary to this act and the costs of actuarial services hereunder, that may be incurred by it in the performance of its duties under this act and in the management and administration of the fund; however, in no event shall the members of the board receive any salary or compensation for their services out of the fund.

"Section 11. The secretary-treasurer shall receive contributions to the fund which shall consist of the following: (a) all of the money, securities, things of value, and assets belonging to any similar fund now being maintained by the city; (b) all money or properties that may be given or donated by any person, firm, association, or corporation for the uses and purposes for which the fund is created, and the board may take, by gift, grant, devise, or bequest, any money, personal property or real estate, or any interest therein or any right of property for the benefit of the fund; (c) ten percent of the monthly salaries, including overtime and any other pay, of each member of the police and fire departments, which shall be deducted from such salaries and paid to the secretary-treasurer of the board on or before the tenth day of each month next succeeding the month in which earned; (d) an amount equal to the amount paid into the fund under subsection (c) of this section shall be paid into the fund monthly out of the city treasury, said payment to be made at the same time that the payment provided by said subsection (c) is required to be paid; (e) each public utility, qualified to do business under the laws of Alabama and selling electricity or electric current or natural gas or intra-city bus transportation or local exchange telephone service or telegraph service in Anniston, shall annually, on or before the first day of February of each year, pay into the fund a sum equal to one-half of one percent of the gross revenues of such utility from the sale of electricity or electric current or natural gas or intra-city bus transportation or local exchange telephone service or telegraph service within the corporate limits and police jurisdiction of the city during the preceding year; however, the sum equal to one-half of one percent of the gross revenues of such public utilities selling electricity or electric current or natural gas or intra-city bus transportation or local exchange telephone service or telegraph service in such city and its police jurisdiction, from the sale of electricity or electric current or natural gas or intra-city bus transportation or local exchange telephone service or telegraph service therein, required by this subsection to be paid by such public utilities into the policemen's and firemen's retirement fund, and shall be deducted from and offset against any privilege or license tax which the municipal corporation may by law impose upon such public utility engaged in the business of selling electricity or electric current or natural gas or intra-city bus transportation or local exchange telephone service or telegraph service within such city. Accompanying such payment by each public utility there shall be filed with the secretary-treasurer a sworn statement by an officer or authorized agent of such utility showing the amount of the gross revenue received by such utility from the sale of electricity or electric current, natural gas, local exchange telephone service, telegraph service, or intra-city bus transportation in such territory during the preceding year. Any such utility which fails or refuses to comply with the provisions of this section shall forfeit to the fund the sum of $1,000.00 to be recovered in a civil action instituted in the name of the fund by the city attorney.

"Section 12. Any member of the police or fire department on the effective date of this act who has been in continuous service as such member for a period of 20 years shall be entitled to retire and receive a monthly benefit from the fund equal to 1.4 percent of the average of his monthly income for the last five years preceding his retirement multiplied by the number of his years of continuous service; provided, however, that he shall not receive credit for continuous service in excess of 30 years.

"Any member of the police or fire department who was not such member on the effective date of this act and who has been in continuous service as such member for a period of 25 years shall be entitled to retire and receive a monthly benefit from the fund equal to 1.4 percent of the average of his monthly income for the last five years preceding his retirement multiplied by the number of his years of continuous service; provided, however, that he shall not receive credit for continuous service in excess of 30 years.

"The board shall retire from service any member of the police or fire department who has attained the age of 60 years, and such member shall be entitled to receive a monthly benefit from the fund equal to 1.4 percent of the average of his monthly income for the last five years preceding his retirement multiplied by 30.

"Section 13. If any member of the police or fire department becomes physically or mentally permanently disabled for service as a result of injuries received in line of duty, regardless of the length of the period of his service, so as to render his retirement from such service necessary, he shall be entitled to receive a disability benefit of 1.4 percent times the average of his monthly income for the last five years preceding his retirement multiplied by 30, and if his total service is less than five years, he shall be entitled to receive a disability benefit of 1.4 percent times the average of his monthly income for all years of his service times 30.

"If any member of the police or fire department becomes physically or mentally permanently disabled for service from any cause, except injuries received in line of duty, and has completed one year of continuous service, so as to render his retirement from such service necessary, and after such disability has continued for a period of three months, he shall be entitled to receive a disability benefit of 1.4 percent times the average of his monthly income for the last five years preceding his retirement multiplied by 20, and if his total service is less than five years, he shall be entitled to receive a disability benefit of 1.4 percent times the average of his monthly income for all years of his service times 20.

"The determination of a member being physically or mentally permanently disabled for service so as to render his retirement from such service necessary shall be made by the board based upon information supplied to it by a duly licensed physician. After any member of the police or fire department shall have retired upon pension by reason of disability, the board shall have the right at any time to cause such retired member to be brought before it and examined by the city physician or other competent physician or surgeon selected by it, and also to examine other witnesses for the purpose of ascertaining whether such disability continues and whether such retired member shall be continued on the pension roll. Such retired member shall be entitled to notice and to be present at the hearing of such evidence. He shall also be permitted to propound any questions pertinent or relevant to such matter. He shall also have the right to introduce in his own behalf any competent evidence under oath. Any member of the board is authorized and empowered to administer oaths to witnesses. Should the board determine that such member is no longer disabled for service, it shall order that benefits to him from the fund shall cease and that he return to service.

"Section 14. If any active member of the police or fire department dies from any cause and leaves a surviving spouse, the board shall direct the payment to the surviving spouse of a monthly pension equal to 50 percent of the amount such deceased member would have been entitled to receive if he had been permanently disabled for service as a result of injuries received in line of duty, so long as the spouse does not remarry. If such deceased member leaves no spouse surviving or if the surviving spouse remarries, and if he leaves a surviving child or children under the age of 18 years, the board shall direct the payment to the legal guardian of such child or children who are then under the age of 18 years of a monthly pension equal to 25 percent of the amount such deceased member would have been entitled to receive if he had been permanently disabled for service as a result of injuries received in line of duty for the use and benefit of such child or children until the youngest child reaches the age of 18 years. As each child reaches the age of 18 years, he ceases to participate in said 25 percent, thereby increasing the share or shares of the child or children under the age of 18 years.

"If a retired member of the police or fire department dies from any cause and leaves surviving a spouse, the board shall direct the payment to the spouse of a monthly pension equal to 50 percent of the amount of the pension being paid to such retired member at the time of his death, so long as the spouse does not remarry. If such deceased retired member leaves no spouse surviving or if the spouse remarries, and if he leaves surviving a child or children under the age of 18 years, the board shall direct the payment to the legal guardian of such child or children who are then under the age of 18 years of a monthly pension equal to 25 percent of the amount such deceased retired member was receiving prior to his death for the use and benefit of such child or children.

"In no event will a child or children receive any benefit from the fund under section 14 of this act after he or they attain the age of 18 years.

"Section 15. If a retired or disabled member of the police or fire department is receiving payments from any similar fund being maintained by the city on the effective date of this act, he shall receive an increase in payments of $60 a month. If the surviving spouse of a former member of the police or fire department is receiving payments from any similar fund being maintained by the city on the effective date of this act, he shall receive an increase in payments of $30 a month. If a child or children of a former member of the police or fire department is receiving payments from any similar fund being maintained by the city on the effective date of this act, his or their legal guardian for their use and benefit shall receive an increase in payments of $15 a month. In no event will a surviving spouse receive any payment from the fund after he remarries, and in no event will a child or children receive any payment from the fund after he or they attain the age of 18 years.

"Section 16. In addition to all other benefits provided by this act, if any active or retired member of the police or fire department shall die from any cause whatsoever leaving a spouse, the board shall direct the payment from the fund to the spouse of the sum of $500. Should such deceased member leave no spouse, but a child or children under the age of 18 years, the board shall direct the payment from the fund to the legal guardian of such child or children under the age of 18 years the sum of $500 for the use and benefit of such child or children.

"Section 17. When the spouse or children of an active or retired member of the police or fire department shall be entitled to benefits under this act, such spouse or children shall make or cause to be made an application to the board through the secretary-treasurer which shall show proof of the marriage of such member to the claimant by marriage certificate or other competent evidence or the ages of such children shall be shown by birth certificate or other competent evidence, as the case may be. All such applications and proofs shall be kept and retained in the custody of the board.

"Section 18. If the employment of any member of the police or fire department is terminated for any reason prior to his qualifying for any of the benefits set for herein, he shall be entitled to receive the return of all contributions, without interest, made by him to the fund. If he subsequently returns to the employment of the police or fire department, he shall be treated as a new employee and accrual of benefits shall begin as of the date of his reemployment.

"Section 19. Within 30 days after any final decision of the board, any party, including the governing body of the city, aggrieved at the decision of the board may appeal from such decision to the circuit court of Calhoun County. Such appeal shall be de novo and shall be heard by a judge sitting without a jury. Upon the taking of such appeal, the appellant shall serve notice thereof upon said secretary-treasurer. Such appeal shall be heard by the court at the earliest possible date. No bond shall be required for such an appeal. Such an appeal shall be perfected by the appellant filing a notice thereof with the clerk of said court. An appeal may be taken from any decision of said court to the court of civil appeals in the manner provided by law and/or rule for taking appeals in other cases.

"Section 20. The board shall retain the services of a competent actuary and/or actuarial firm on a continuous basis at a fee to be determined by the board. The actuary and/or actuarial firm shall be required to submit its reports in writing to the board. These reports shall become a permanent record of the board.

"Section 21. The board shall have an audit made annually of the fund by a certified public accountant.

"Section 22. If at any time there shall not be sufficient money in the fund to pay each person entitled to the benefits therefrom the full amount per month as herein provided, then an equal percentage of such monthly payment or payments shall be made to each beneficiary until the fund shall be sufficient to warrant payment in full to each of the beneficiaries.

"Section 23. All monies ordered to be paid from the fund shall be paid by the secretary-treasurer only upon warrants signed by two members of the board and countersigned by the secretary-treasurer. No warrant shall be drawn on the fund except by order of the board, which order shall be duly and regularly entered in the record of the proceedings of the board.

"Section 24. No portion of the fund shall, before or after its order for distribution by the board to the person or persons entitled thereto under the provisions of this act, be held, seized, taken, subjected to, detained, or levied upon by virtue of any attachment, garnishment, execution, injunction, writ, order, decree, or any other process whatsoever issued out of or by any court of this state, for the payment or satisfaction, in whole or in part, of any debt, damage, demand, claim, judgment, or decree against any beneficiary of the fund, but shall be exempt therefrom so that the fund shall be kept, held, and distributed solely for the purposes of this act.

"Section 25. All funds, monies, property, and assets belonging to or being a part of any similar fund by the city existing on the effective date of this act shall be transferred, assigned, and conveyed into the policemen's and firemen's retirement fund created by this act immediately upon the effective date of this act.

"Section 26. Words used in this act in the masculine gender include the feminine and neuter. A member of the police department of the city of Anniston is a sworn police officer. A member of the fire department of the city of Anniston is a firefighter.

"Section 27. The provisions of this act are severable. Should any part of it be declared unconstitutional or invalid, such declaration shall not affect that which remains, or should any part be declared unconstitutional or invalid in its applicability to, or operation upon, any territory, group, person, or situation, such declaration shall not affect its applicability or operation otherwise.

"Section 28. All laws or parts of laws which conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

"Section 29. This act shall become effective on the first day of the month next succeeding its passage and approval by the governor or upon its otherwise becoming a law."

Section 2. This act shall become effective on the first day of the month next succeeding its passage and approval by the governor or upon its otherwise becoming a law.

H.J.R. 153—Manley, McMillan

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION

RECOMMENDING THAT THE STATE DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE ADOPT CERTAIN REGULATIONS PERTAINING TO CURRENT USE VALUATION OF AGRICULTURAL AND FOREST PROPERTY IN THE STATE.

WHEREAS, pursuant to Amendment No. 373 to the Constitution of Alabama of 1901, Section 2 of Act No. 46 enacted at the 1978 Second Special Session of the Legislature, and Section 4 of Act No. 135 enacted at the 1978 Second Special Session of the Legislature, all agricultural and forest property in the State (in addition to certain other property in the State) shall, at the request of the owner thereof, be appraised, for purposes of ad valorem property taxation, according to its current use value and not at its fair and reasonable market value; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to Section 4 of Act No. 135, the State Department of Revenue is required, among other things, to prescribe all needful rules and regulations for the enforcement and implementation throughout the State of "current use valuation" of all agricultural and forest property, with respect to the methods of appraisal to be employed by the several county tax assessors and the forms to be used by taxpayers and county tax assessors in connection with the appraisal and assessment of agricultural and forest property; and

WHEREAS, it is the sense of the Legislature that the method of appraisal of agricultural and forest property described in Exhibit 1 attached hereto and made a part hereof is consistent with the intent and purpose of the Legislature in proposing Amendment No. 373 to the people of Alabama for their consideration and with the will of the people of Alabama expressed by their ratification of Amendment No. 373, and that the adoption by the State Department of Revenue of the aforesaid method of appraisal would fulfill the legislative mandate contained in Section 4 of Act No. 135 with respect to agricultural and forest property; and

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF ALABAMA, BOTH HOUSES THEREOF CONCURRING, That we recommend that the State Department of Revenue promulgate regulations adopting the method of appraisal of agricultural and forest property at its current use value described in the aforesaid Exhibit 1 and approving the application form set forth in the aforesaid Exhibit 2; and

CURRENT USE VALUATION OF AGRICULTURAL AND FOREST PROPERTY

Current use valuation of agricultural and forest property for purposes of Alabama ad valorem taxation shall be determined on the basis of ten soil groups (as determined by the Soil Conservation Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture) and the net crop, pasture or timber income potential within each soil group. Current definitions of each soil group is attached to this exhibit as Appendix A. Landowners electing current use valuation shall have the current use value of their agricultural and forest property determined from the net income approach. The net income potential is determined by capitalizing potential net agricultural or forest income for each type of soil group. The current use value of a piece of property is therefore assumed to be the present worth of the net income property of that particular soil group will produce.

To determine current use value using this income approach a discount rate is to be selected annually utilizing the most recent five-year average of the interest rates on long-term United States Government bonds, as reported in the Federal Reserve Bulletin. (These have averaged 7.14 percent over the past five years, and this rate is the rate to be utilized for valuation for the ad valorem tax year beginning October 1, 1978.)

Then, using approved agricultural budgets for various farm enterprises as published by the Cooperative Extension Service of Auburn University and soil groups from the Soil Conservation Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, net income flows are to be derived from land of each soil group as if the land were put in its highest and best agricultural or forest use. Three different subclasses of agricultural and forest property are recognized: cropland, pastureland and timberland. Using available 1978 data from the above sources current use cropland values are determined for 1978 as follows:

RECOMMENDED CROPLAND VALUES FOR CURRENT USE VALUATION FOR 1978

Soil Group	Net Income Per Acre	Value Per Acre @ .0714	Assessed Value Per Acre @ 10%
1	$ 34.00	$476.19	$ 47.61
2	30.60	428.57	42.85
3	22.10	309.52	30.95
4	27.20	380.95	38.09
5	25.50	357.14	35.71
6	17.00	238.10	23.81
7	6.80	95.23	9.52
8	27.20	380.95	38.09
9	17.00	238.10	23.81
10	0	0	1.00*

Since it is assumed that cropland in each soil group can be placed in its highest and best agricultural use, cropland budgets for three universal crops — cotton, soybeans, and corn — are used in determining potential net income flows for cropland.

Similar net income flows and computations are also to be developed within each soil group for timberland and pastureland, again using the approved Auburn University budgets and soil groups from the Soil Conservation Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture. Current use values for pastureland and timberland prepared in a manner comparable to that illustrated above for cropland are, for 1978:

Soil Group	Pastureland	Timberland
1	$20.24	$ 9.71
2	18.22	8.74
3	13.16	6.30
4	16.19	7.76
5	15.18	7.28
6	10.12	4.85
7	3.03	1.46
8	16.19	6.30
9	10.12	4.85
10	1.00*	1.00*

* It is assumed that all land has at least some minimal value for ad valorem taxation.

All applications for current use should be accompanied by a Soil Conservation Plan Map for the parcel in question, if a plan map has been prepared for the owner or is otherwise reasonably available. Any disputes or questions as to which soil group a particular parcel of land belongs shall be finally determined by the Board of Equalization of the county in question, after consultation with the Soil Conservation Service and the County Farm Agent. Fish ponds and the like not classified under Soil Group 10 shall be classified in the same class as the land surrounding the body of water in question.

An appropriate filled-in form exemplifying this approach to current use valuation for a hypothetical piece of land follows as Exhibit 2. Total acreage is assumed to consist of 100 acres (90 in crops, 10 in pasture) in Soil Group 1, 50 acres (25 in pasture, 25 in timber) in Soil Group 5, and 90 acres (timberland) in Soil Group 7.

APPENDIX A

Soil Groups¹

NEARLY LEVEL UPLANDS

Soil group #1. Nearly level soils on uplands; mostly deep and well drained (0 to 2 percent slopes). Soils in this group have no limitations that significantly restrict their use for agriculture. They are well suited to a wide range of plants and may be used for cultivated crops, small grains, hay crops, pasture, or woodland. They have moderate to high available water capacity and are responsive to fertilization. (Approximately 3% of total acreage)

Soil group #2. Nearly level soils in uplands; mostly deep, imperfectly drained (0 to 2 percent slopes). Soils in this group have a wetness limitation that restricts their use for agriculture. The choice of plants may be restricted on some soils but as a group they are suited for cultivated crops, small grains, hay crops, pasture, or woodland. The wetness limitation can be partially overcome by drainage. The soils have high available water capacity and are responsive to fertilization. (Approximately 4% of total acreage)

Soil group #3. Nearly level soils on uplands; mostly deep, well drained with thick sandy surface layers (0 to 5 percent slopes). Soils in this group have a low available water capacity that restricts their use for agriculture. The choice of plants is restricted and the soils require special considerations when used for cultivated crops and small grains. Most soils in this group are well suited for hay crops, pasture, and woodland.

¹Grouped according to factors that affect productivity.

Special practices must be used to prevent deterioration of the soils and to maintain yields if used for cultivated crops. Most soils in this group have low fertility levels that are not easily corrected by fertilization. (Approximately 2% total acreage)

SLOPING UPLANDS

Soil group #4. Gently sloping to sloping soils on uplands (2 to 6 percent slopes). Soils in this group have moderate limitations that restrict their use for agriculture. The choice of plants may be restricted on some soils but as a group they are well suited for cultivated crops, small grains, hay crops, pasture, or woodland. Limitations can be overcome by conventional practices but the soils require careful management to prevent deterioration and maintain maximum crop yields. Limitations include one or more of the following: slopes of about 2 to 6 percent, a somewhat restricted rooting zone, very slow permeability of the subsoil, and low available water capacity. Most soils in this group are responsive to fertilization. (Approximately 14% total acreage)

Soil group #5. Sloping to strongly sloping soils on uplands (6 to 10 percent slopes). Soils in this group have severe limitations that restrict their use for agriculture. The choice of plants is restricted and the soils require special considerations when used for cultivated crops and small grains. Most soils in this group are well suited for hay crops, pasture, and woodland. Special practices must be used to prevent deterioration of the soils and to maintain yields if used for cultivated crops. Limitations include one or more of the following: slopes of about 6 to 10 percent, very slow permeability of the subsoil, shallow rooting zone and, low available water capacity. Some sandy soils in this group have low fertility levels that are not easily corrected by fertilization. (Approximately 15% total acreage)

Soil Group #6. Moderately steep soils on uplands (10 to 15 percent slopes). Soils in this group have very severe limitations that restrict their use for agriculture. The choice of plants is restricted and very careful management is required to prevent soil deterioration, protect crops and to maintain crop yields. Soils in this group are generally poorly suited for row crops and small grains. They are suited to pasture and woodland but steep slopes restrict their use for hay crops. Limitations include one or more of the following: slopes of about 10 to 15 percent, shallow rooting depth, low available water capacity and surface stoniness that interferes with tillage. Some sandy soils in this group have low fertility levels that are not easily corrected by fertilization. (Approximately 14% total acreage)

Soil group #7. Steep soils on uplands (15+ percent slopes). Soils in this group have very severe limitations that make them unsuited for cultivated crops, small grains, or hay crops. They are suited for pasture only to a limited extent and are used mainly for woodland. Limitations include one or more of the following: slopes greater than 15 percent, shallow rooting depth, low available water capacity, and surface stoniness that seriously interferes with or prohibits tillage. Approximately 32% total acreage)

BOTTOMLANDS

Soil group #8. Bottomland soils that are well suited for cultivated crops, hay crops and pasture. Subject to occasional water overflow with only slight damage to crops. Soil wetness is correctable by drainage. Soils in this group are well suited for woodland. (Approximately 4% total acreage)

Soil group #9. Bottomland soils subject to frequent overflow with severe crop damage. Excessive wetness that persists after drainage restricts the use of these soils to mainly pasture and woodland. Woodland growth potential is excellent but equipment limitations and seedling mortality limit intensive forest management. (Approximately 12% total acreage)

Soil group #10. Soils normally covered with water or are saline. Soils in this group have such severe limitations that they are capable of only limited production of vegetative growth. They do not produce enough timber to justify management for production. (Less than 1% total acreage)

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION

OPPOSING CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET CUT FOR GENERAL REVENUE SHARING.

WHEREAS, the State of Alabama receives approximately $36,000,000 each year under the General Revenue Sharing Program which is applied to the operating budgets of Mental Health ($16,400,000), Corrections ($7,000,000), General Government ($5,000,000), Economic and Community Development ($1,000,000), and Highway Maintenance ($6,588,000); and

WHEREAS, over 95% of these funds are annually applied to the State's operating budget and less than five percent are annually applied to capital outlay; and

WHEREAS, the termination of the General Revenue Sharing program for the states will mean a loss in revenue to the State of Alabama of approximately $27,000,000 for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1980, and $36,000,000 each fiscal year thereafter, thus placing undue and severe strains on the services that the State provides its citizens, as well as the pocket books of those citizens who pay for the services; and

WHEREAS, there are ample other appropriations in the $532 billion budget which President Carter has proposed which are useless and wasteful expenditures and which are much less valuable to the people of the United States than the General Revenue Sharing program; and

WHEREAS, should the General Revenue Sharing program not be reinstated in the budget for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1980, the Alabama Legislature will have to be called into Special Session to impose new revenue raising measures and/or places to cut needed services, even though Alabama is regarded as a low service state, and thus will incur at least a half million dollars in unnecessary expenses at a time when the state is making every effort to streamline itself and operate efficiently at the least possible expense to the taxpayer; now therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF ALABAMA, BOTH HOUSES THEREOF CONCURRING, That we do heartily commend our Alabama Congressional Delegation

for their efforts and support to balance the Federal Budget, but they are hereby requested to cut unneeded and unnecessary programs in the Federal budget rather than imposing a crisis in state government because of the loss of revenue sharing. Alabama's General Fund has severe pressure caused by such programs as Medicaid and Mental Health, which are suffering from reductions in Federal funding or Federally mandated costs. The programs funded out of the General Fund have historically suffered from funding, and loss of Revenue Sharing would only result in loss of needed services or cause severe pressures for additional taxes.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by telegram or by other rapid communication, to each member of the Alabama Congressional Delegation that they might know our concern for the plight of the taxpayer in Alabama and our desire not to impose new taxes as a result of Congressional action.

This Act became a law under Section 125 of the Constitution on June 6, 1979 without approval by the Governor.

AN ACT

To authorize the production and sale of native Alabama farm wines; to impose a privilege and excise tax on the manufacture and sale of said wines; and to authorize the direct sale of said wines to retailers and consumers.

WHEREAS, the Legislature of the State of Alabama recognizes the vital contribution of the agricultural industry to the economy of this state, the necessity of the farmer to have fair and unencumbered access to the market-place, and declares that the intent of this act is to enhance and expand such industry by authorizing and encouraging the domestic production of native Alabama farm wines from grapes, berries, fruits and produce grown in Alabama; and

WHEREAS, the Legislature of the State of Alabama further recognizes the vital contribution of the tourist industry to the economy of this state, and declares that the intent of this Act is to enhance such industry by encouraging the planting and development of native Alabama farm vineyards, the construction of native Alabama farm wineries, and the production and sale of native Alabama farm wines so that tourists travelling through Alabama may visit vineyards, wineries and wine cellars and purchase Alabama domestic wines; and

WHEREAS, the Legislature further recognizes the need for the expansion, diversification and development of Alabama economy, and declares that the intent of this Act is to authorize and encourage the introduction of a new industry into this state which will provide new employment opportunities, additional income, and support for existing industries in Alabama; now therefore,

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of Alabama:

Section 1. When used in this Act, the following words and phrases shall have the following meanings, respectively, unless the context clearly indicates otherwise:

(a) "Native farm winery" shall mean a winery where the annual production does not exceed one hundred thousand (100,000) gallons, and seventy-five percent (75%) or more of the berries, fruit, produce or honey used in the manufacture of such wine is grown and produced in Alabama by the native farm winery permit holder upon land owned or leased by the permit holder in the vicinity of his farm winery.

(b) "Native farm wine" shall mean any product having an alcohol content not to exceed fourteen (14%) by volume and made in accordance with the revenue laws of the United States, which is produced on a native farm winery.

(c) "Person" shall mean one (1) or more natural persons, or a corporation, partnership, or association.

(d) "Board" shall mean the Alabama Alcoholic Beverage Control Board.

Section 2. It shall be lawful to produce native farm wine in the State of Alabama and to sell such native farm wine within or without the state. Every native farm winery in the State of Alabama shall apply for a license as provided for in Section 28-3-140, Code of Alabama 1975.

Section 3. Every native farm winery is hereby authorized to make sales to the board, directly to consumers for off-premises consumption, to alcoholic beverage permit holders of the board, including but not limited to wholesale dealers and distributors, stores, hotels, restaurants, clubs, dining cars, and to any producer, manufacturer, wholesaler, retailer or consumer located outside the State of Alabama.

Section 4. (a) Upon every manufacturer holding a license for the production of native farm wine, there is hereby levied and imposed for the privilege of engaging in the manufacture of native farm wine an annual privilege license tax in the amount of twenty-five dollars ($25.00) which shall be paid to the board.

(b) There is hereby levied and assessed an excise tax upon each case of native farm wine sold by a manufacturer to any source to be collected from the manufacturer in an amount equal to five cents (5¢) per gallon. However, native farm wine produced in Alabama for export and sale without this state shall not be subject to said excise tax, but such tax shall accrue or be collected on native farm wines dispensed, as free samples in quantities of not more than six (6) ounces, in the tasting room or wine cellar of a native farm winery. The excise tax provided for in this section shall be in lieu of all other taxes imposed.

(c) The privilege tax imposed by subsection (a) of this section shall be collected in the same manner as presently provided by law for the collection of other alcoholic beverages. The excise tax imposed by subsection (b) of this section shall be reported monthly by the producer to the board on all sales made in Alabama to the board, retailers, consumers, or any alcoholic beverage permit holder of the board, along with a statement of gallonage produced during that month, and the producer shall remit the tax due and owing with each report. The producer shall also include in the report a statement of gallonage sold and exported for sale outside this state.

(d) Provided that such fruit, produce or honey used in the manufacture of native Alabama wine is not available in Alabama due to an act of God, the holder of a farm winery permit may apply to the Alabama Alcoholic Beverage Control Board for permission to import such produce.

(e) All taxes imposed, levied, and collected under this section shall be deposited in the same manner as are other taxes collected by the board.

Section 5. The board may in its discretion direct that stamps purchased at cost from the board be affixed to the cartons, bottles or containers as a means of identification. The board shall promulgate rules and regulations as needed to protect the revenue of Alabama derived from the excise tax on native farm wine.

Section 6. All laws or parts of laws which conflict with this Act are hereby repealed.

REQUESTING THE MEMBERS OF CONGRESS TO PROVIDE DISPOSITIONS TO THE STATES OF CERTAIN REVENUE FUNDS

WHEREAS, PRESIDENT JIMMY CARTER has expressed a strong desire and interest to de-regulate oil and gas prices; and

WHEREAS, it is known that such de-regulations would

WHEREAS, such a program would cost tens of millions of dollars to a citizenry who are not only already overburdened with taxes and inflation but further will have to bear the additional burden of increased gasoline prices as a result of de-regulation.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED: That the members of the Alabama House of Representatives, the Alabama Senate, both Houses concurring do hereby encourage the President and Congress of the United States of America to consider the plight of the American people as regards to the de-regulation of gasoline and petroleum products;

STATING THE LEGISLATURE'S ENDORSEMENT OF THE CONTINUATION OF THE REVENUE SHARING PRO- GRAM TO STATE AND LOCAL GOVERNMENTS.

WHEREAS, the Revenue Sharing Program, which has been in effect since 1972, is a fair and equitable means of returning to the various states and localities federal tax monies which may then be allocated according to priorities as determined by the local entities as to degree and order of need; and

WHEREAS, since the program's inception, some $250 million have been paid to the State of Alabama, almost $184 million to the counties of our state, and more than $314 million to the cities and towns in Alabama, for a total to date which approaches $750 million of our taxpayers' money sent back to Alabama and to our local communities; and

WHEREAS, it now appears there are some moves underway in Washington to terminate the Revenue Sharing Program, or to drastically alter its present structure so that there will be less decision-making locally as to where and how revenue sharing money will be spent; and

WHEREAS, the present Revenue Sharing Program is considered by the Alabama Legislature to be consistent with the democratic process in that it allows decisions to be made by locally elected officials who are in the best position to know the needs of their respective communities; and

WHEREAS, the Revenue Sharing Program has been of tremendous financial assistance to state and local governments and the termination of this program would be a terrible setback in carrying out the many worthwhile programs which were generated and are operated by these revenue sharing funds; now therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF ALABAMA, BOTH HOUSES THEREOF CONCURRING, That, on this 29th day of May, 1979, we do wholeheartedly and un-animously endorse the concept of revenue sharing as it currently operates, and we also highly commend those members of Congress who, through an Act of the Congress, made the Revenue Sharing Program possible.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That we most strongly urge the President and the Congress to support the continuation of revenue sharing to the state and local governments as the program has in the past, and presently, operates.

RESOLVED FURTHER, That copies of this resolution be sent to President Carter and to each member of the Alabama Congressional Delegation in Washington, D.C. and all other members of Congress.

AN ACT

To amend Section 20-2-54, of the Code of Alabama, 1975, so as to make the conviction of a crime under any State or Federal law relating to any controlled substance and the excessive dispensing of a controlled substance grounds for suspension or revocation of a registration.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of Alabama:

Section 1. That Section 20-2-54, of the Code of Alabama, 1975, be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Section 20-2-54. Same—Revocation or suspension of registration—Grounds and procedure generally.

(a) A registration under Section 20-2-52 to manufacture, distribute or dispense a controlled substance may be suspended or revoked by the certifying boards upon a finding that the registrant:

(1) Has furnished false or fraudulent material information in any application filed under this article;

(2) Has been convicted of a crime under any state or federal law relating to any controlled substance;

(3) Has had his federal registration suspended or revoked to manufacture, distribute or dispense controlled substances;

(4) Has violated the provisions of Chapter 23 of Title 34 of this Code; or

(5) Has, in the opinion of his certifying board, excessively dispensed controlled substances for any of his patients. A registrant may be considered to have excessively dispensed controlled substances if his certifying board finds that either the controlled substances were dispensed for no legitimate medical purpose, or that the amount of controlled substances dispensed by the registrant is not reasonably related to the proper medical management of his patient's illnesses or conditions. Drug addiction shall not be considered an illness or condition which would justify continued dispensing of controlled substances, except in gradually decreasing dosages administered to the patient for the purpose of curing the addiction.

(b) The certifying boards may limit revocation or suspension or a registration to the particular controlled substance with respect to which grounds for revocation or suspension exist.

(c) If the certifying boards suspend or revoke a registration, all controlled substances owned or possessed by the registrant at the time of suspension or the effective date of the revocation order may be placed under seal. No disposition may be made of substances under seal until the time for taking an appeal has elapsed or until all appeals have been concluded unless a court, upon application therefor, orders the sale of perishable substances and the deposit of the proceeds of the sale with the court. Upon a revocation order becoming final, all controlled substances may be forfeited to the state.

(d) The certifying boards shall promptly notify the bureau of all orders suspending or revoking registration and all forfeitures of controlled substances."

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION

EXPRESSING THE LEGISLATURE'S CONCURRENCE WITH THE RECENT COURT DECISION ORDERING THE RELOCATION OF TVA ADMINISTRATIVE HEADQUARTERS FROM KNOXVILLE, TENNESSEE, TO THE MUSCLE SHOALS AREA OF ALABAMA.

WHEREAS, the Tennessee Valley Authority Act of 1933 required that said corporation locate and maintain its principal office in the vicinity of Muscle Shoals, Alabama; and

WHEREAS, in direct defiance of the provisions of this 1933 Act, administrative headquarters were located and have since remained in Knoxville, Tennessee; circumvention of the law was questionably achieved through the opening of what was termed a "principal office" at Muscle Shoals but has been described as little more than "a one-room office equipped with one typewriter and two file cabinets"; and

WHEREAS, on January 25, 1979, as a result of a suit filed in 1977 by the Attorney General of Alabama, U. S. District Judge Frank H. McFadden issued an order prohibiting TVA from maintaining headquarters anywhere other than in the Muscle Shoals area of Alabama and directing that said headquarters in Knoxville be moved to comply with the stipulation written into the 1933 Act; and

WHEREAS, it is the consensus of this body that the TVA Act of 1933 is explicit in language and in Congressional intent and that Judge McFadden's recent order of compliance serves to correct an injustice that has existed for more than forty years; now therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF ALABAMA, BOTH HOUSES THEREOF CONCURRING, That we unanimously voice total and unequivocal agreement with the Court's decision to relocate TVA headquarters to the Muscle Shoals area of Alabama as stipulated by the Tennessee Valley Authority Act of 1933, and therefore most strongly urge immediate implementation of Judge Frank H. McFadden's order of January 25, 1979.

Be IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the President of the United States and to the TVA Board of Directors, Mr. David Freeman, Chairman, with copies also sent to each member of the Alabama Congressional Delegation in Washington, D. C.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of Alabama:

Section 1. Law Governing —

(a) Definition. "Foreign limited partnerships" as used in this Act means a partnership formed under the limited partnership laws of any territory, possession, commonwealth or state of the United States other than this state, having as members one or more general partners and one or more limited partners.

(b) Subject to the Constitution of this State, (1) the laws of the State under which a foreign limited partnership is organized govern its organization and internal affairs and the liability of its limited partners, and (2) a foreign limited partnership may not be denied registration by reason of any difference between those laws and the laws of this State.

Section 2. Registration — Before transacting business in this State, a foreign limited partnership shall register with the Secretary of State. In order to register, a foreign limited partnership shall:

(a) file with the Secretary of State a copy of its certificate of limited partnership (or equivalent document) and all amendments thereto, duly authenticated and certified by the proper public authority;

(b) submit to the Secretary of State, in duplicate, on forms furnished by the Secretary of State, an application for registration as a foreign limited partnership, signed and sworn to by a general partner and setting forth:

(1) the name of the foreign limited partnership, and if different, the name under which it proposes to register and transact business in this State;

(2) the State and date of its formation;

(3) the general character of the business it proposes to transact in this State;

(4) the name and address of an agent for service of process on the foreign limited partnership whom the foreign limited partnership elects to appoint; the agent must be an individual resident of this State.

(5) the address of the office required to be maintained in the State of its organization by the laws of that State or, if not so required, of the principal office of the foreign limited partnership; and

(6) if the certificate of limited partnership filed in the foreign limited partnership's state of organization is not required to include the names and business addresses of the partners, a list of such names and addresses.

(c) pay a fee in the amount of Seventy-five Dollars ($75.00) for filing the Certificate of Limited Partnership, processing the application for registration as a foreign limited partnership and issuing the certificate of registration to transact business in this State.

Section 3. Issuance of Registration —

(a) If the Secretary of State finds an application for registration conforms to law and all requisite fees have been paid, he shall:

(1) endorse on the application the word "Filed," and the month, day, year and time of the filing thereof;

(2) file in his office a duplicate original of the application; and

(3) issue a certificate of registration to transact business in this State.

(b) The certificate of registration, together with a duplicate original of the application, shall be returned to the person who filed the application or his representative.

Section 4. Name — A foreign limited partnership may register with the Secretary of State under any name (whether or not it is the name under which it is registered in its state of organization) that could be registered in the State of Alabama.

Section 5. Changes and Amendments — if any statement in the application for registration of a foreign limited partnership was false when made or any arrangements or other facts described have changed, making the application inaccurate in any respect, the foreign limited partnership shall promptly file in the office of the Secretary of State a certificate, signed and sworn to by a general partner, correcting such statement.

Section 6. Cancellation of Registration — A foreign limited partnership may cancel its registration by filing with the Secretary of State a certificate of cancellation signed and sworn to by a general partner.

Section 7. Transaction of Business Without Registration —

(a) A foreign limited partnership transacting business in this State may not maintain any action, suit, or proceeding in any court of this State until it has registered in this State.

(b) The failure of a foreign limited partnership to register in this State does not impair the validity of any contract or act of the foreign limited partnership or prevent the foreign limited partnership from defending any action, suit, or proceeding in any court of this State.

(c) A limited partner of a foreign limited partnership is not liable as a general partner of the foreign limited partnership solely by reason of the foreign limited partnership having transacted business in this State without registration.

Section 8. Action by Attorney General — The Attorney General may bring an action to restrain a foreign limited partnership from transacting business in this state in violation of this Act.

Section 9. The provisions of this Act are severable. If any part of this Act is declared invalid or unconstitutional, such declaration shall not affect the part which remains.

AN ACT

To amend Sections 1 through 18 of Chapter 16 of the Code of Alabama 1975, relating to the University of Montevallo, so as to provide further for the board of trustees and for the operation of the university.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of Alabama:

Section 1. Sections 16-54-1 through 16-54-18, Code of Alabama 1975, relating to the University of Montevallo, are hereby amended to read as follows:

“§ 16-54-1. The school heretofore established at Montevallo as the Alabama Girls' Industrial School, subsequently known as and called the Alabama Girls' Technical Institute, later known as and called the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women and still later known as and called Alabama College is and shall remain a body corporate under the corporate name of University of Montevallo, and by that name may sue and contract, acquire and hold real and personal property and have and exercise all the powers of a corporation established to be a state educational institution of higher learning and shall succeed to all the rights, privileges, emoluments, benefits, interests and titles heretofore at any time vested in said institution in its respective names. None of the powers, authority or functions of the corporation provided for in this chapter shall be abated or impaired by this section. Only the name of the institution shall be changed by this section. Whenever such institution is referred to in the Constitution and in the laws of Alabama by any one of the respective names by which it has been known, the same shall be considered to refer to University of Montevallo.

“§ 16-54-2. The University of Montevallo shall be governed by a board of trustees composed of the governor, who shall be president, ex officio, the superintendent of education, ex officio, and eleven other trustees (one from each congressional dis-strict and, until as otherwise herein provided, a number of trustees from the state-at-large sufficient to bring the number to or keep it at eleven.) Five members of the board shall constitute a quorum. Trustees shall be appointed for a term of 12 years. In case of the creation and establishment of an additional congressional district in the state, the at-large trustee most recently appointed shall automatically cease to be a trustee from the state-at-large and become for the remainder of the term trustee for such new district. Otherwise, all new appointees, except for the state-at-large, shall be at the time of their appointment, residents of the district for which they are appointed, respectively. All appointments of trustees shall be made by the governor with the advice and consent of the senate. In case of a vacancy in the office of trustee, the governor shall appoint a successor, who shall hold office till the next meeting of the legislature, when the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, shall appoint a trustee, who shall hold office for the unexpired term. A trustee shall be ineligible to be elected by the board of trustees to or otherwise hold any office of the institution where compensation is provided. The trustees are entitled to receive payment of their actual expenses incurred in the discharge of their duties as such trustees.

"§ 16-54-3. The University of Montevallo is established generally for the purpose of giving therein instructions in the liberal arts and sciences and in technical and professional subjects suitable for both men and women. To that end, departments or subjects of instruction may be established from time to time by the trustees upon the recommendation of the president in accord with the provisions of Section 16-5-6 Code of Alabama, 1975.

"The overriding mission of the University of Montevallo, unique in Alabama higher education, is to provide to students from throughout the state an affordable, geographically accessible, 'small college' public higher educational experience of high quality with a strong emphasis on undergraduate liberal studies and with professional programs supported by a broad base of arts and sciences, designed for their intellectual and personal growth in pursuit of meaningful employment and responsible, informed citizenship.

"Growing out of that mission and inherent in it are a number of on-going goals which the trustees from time to time may affirm on the basis of recommendations of the president.

"The annual objectives of the institution, determined by the president, shall be consistent with the on-going goals and mission of the institution.

"§ 16-54-4. On the advice of the faculty, and with the approval of the trustees, the president may grant and confer diplomas, certificates or degrees (including honorary degrees) upon such students or persons as may be entitled thereto under the rules adopted by the trustees governing this subject.

"§ 16-54-5. The trustees shall elect a president for a term to be fixed by them, who shall not be removed during the term for which he or she is elected, except for just cause, which shall be explicitly set forth in writing in the minutes of the proceedings of the trustees and approved by a majority of all the trustees. No person shall be eligible to the office of president unless he or she is a graduate of some college or university of well known high standing, an educator by profession, of good moral character and possessing good business and administrative qualifications. The trustees shall fix the compensation of the president, including such emoluments and prerequisites necessary to carry out the functions of the office.

"§ 16-54-6. The president, with the advice and consent of the trustees, shall appoint and fix the compensation for all faculty, including professors, associate professors, assistant professors, instructors and other necessary teachers, and all staff, including professional and nonprofessional staff. The president, academic vice-president, professors, associate professors, assistant professors and instructors shall compose the faculty of the institution. Policies and procedures governing the employment, dismissal, promotion and disciplining of university faculty and staff shall be determined by the trustees.

"§ 16-54-7. The trustees of the university shall elect a secretary, who shall hold office for the term and receive such compensation as may be fixed by the trustees and shall perform such services as may be required of him or her. The president of the institution may serve in this position at the pleasure of the trustees.

"§ 16-54-8. The trustees shall elect a treasurer, who shall not be a trustee, who shall receive, hold and pay out all moneys belonging to the university or that may be paid in for the necessary expenses of students in the university or for their use and benefit, and the treasurer shall hold office for the term and receive such compensation as may be fixed by the trustees. Before entering upon the duties of the office, the treasurer must give bond in such penalty as the trustees may fix, payable to the University of Montevallo, with conditions that he or she will faithfully receive, safely keep and lawfully pay out, and promptly, fully and fairly account for all moneys or choses in action which may come to him or her by virtue of the office, and the trustees may require a new bond, or an additional bond, whenever they judge that the interest of the university requires it. The business manager or chief financial officer by whatever name appointed by the president may serve in this position at the pleasure of the trustees.

"§ 16-54-9. Whenever the funds in the hands of the treasurer or funds about to be received by the office are in danger of being lost, the trustees or president may remove the treasurer from office and take all funds and choses in action belonging to the university or any student therein, and may, in that event, appoint a temporary custodian with bond or security to hold such funds.

"§ 16-54-10. The secretary, the treasurer and all other officers, agents or servants of the university who are required to keep, use or dispose of any property of the university shall keep accounts of their transactions in books to be furnished them by the trustees, which shall at all times be open to the inspection and examination of the president, the trustees or anyone appointed by the trustees thereto; and any person withholding such book or books belonging to the university from the inspection of any officer entitled to examine the same shall be immediately removed from his office or employment by the president or trustees.

"§ 16-54-11. Any person residing in Alabama, of good character, good health and of sufficient physical, and mental development to support the assumption of success in his or her course of study, to be judged by the president or a designee, who shall comply with all the requirements prescribed by the trustees, may be admitted into the university and, upon completing the course of study prescribed at the time of his or her admission, to the satisfaction of the faculty, shall receive the certificate, diploma or degree he or she may have earned. Whenever the accommodations of the university are sufficient to admit more students than apply and are accepted from Alabama, then students from other states or countries may be received and instructed in the university upon such terms and conditions as may be imposed by the president or trustees.

"§ 16-54-12. The property of the university, of every kind and description, shall forever be exempt from all taxes, municipal, county or state, and from all local assessments. All employees are exempt from the payment of town licenses for their labor while working for this institution.

"§ 16-54-13. As far as may be practicable, students in the university may be employed in giving assistance in any department of work of the university to enable them to obtain instruction therein, but students shall be employed only in cases and to the extent that they may be able to render efficient service without injury to themselves or to the university.

"§ 16-54-14. All rights of property and action which may have accrued to the university before October 1, 1927 are confirmed and preserved, including the right to permit alumni and friends to establish such corporate entities as an alumni association and a University of Montevallo Foundation, which may be staffed by and housed at the university, and no grant or gift of any valuable thing or right shall fail by reason of a mistake in the name of this corporation or college; provided, that the intention to grant or give to the institute may be derived from the words used in designating the beneficiary or grantee. All rights, powers and remedies granted in and by an act to create and establish an industrial school in the state of Alabama, approved February 21, 1893, and any act amendatory thereof, are confirmed and preserved for the University of Montevallo.

"§ 16-54-15. Whenever the University of Montevallo needs any land or interest therein near the university for its purposes; and the owner thereof is a minor or an insane person, or refuses to sell the land to the state for the use of the university, or will not agree with the board of trustees or the president on a price therefor, the trustees shall have authority to institute in the probate court of Shelby county proceedings in the name of the state of Alabama, to condemn such land, which proceedings shall be conducted as nearly as may be possible in accordance with the provisions of chapter 1 of Title 18. It shall be the duty of the trustees to pay out of the funds of the university all costs of every condemnation proceeding instituted by them under the power hereby conferred.

"§ 16-54-16. The lands now owned by the University of Montevallo or granted by the United States or by the congress of the United States to the state of Alabama for the use of this insitution, shall be leased, sold, conveyed or disposed of only by the board of trustees; provided, that the board of trustees may delegate to its executive committee of three or more of its members the right and power to lease or sell any of said lands, and when any lease or sale shall have been made as herein provided, the governor, upon request of the board of trustees, or its executive committee, as the case may be, shall execute contracts of lease or deeds of conveyance as may have been agreed on between the board or its executive committee and the lessee or purchaser. All the proceeds arising from the sale, rental or lease of these and any other lands owned by the university, or any of the rights thereunto pertaining, shall be paid into the treasury of the state and kept in a separate account for the use of the university, subject to withdrawal as provided hereafter, and upon which there shall be paid to the college interest at the rate of six percent per annum on such funds therein deposited prior to January 1, 1979, it being the purpose and intent of the state of Alabama to execute in good faith the trust reposed in it by congress when granting the lands to the state for the benefit of the institution.

“§ 16-54-17. The proceeds of all lands sold or leased by the University of Montevallo, or income therefrom, shall be paid into a separate account in the treasury of the state and disbursed to the University of Montevallo as requested and when requested by the university. The university, out of the money appropriated by the state legislature for its maintenance, shall pay all the expenses of caring for, protecting and selling the lands.

“§ 16-54-18. On the last day of every quarter, the treasurer of the state shall pay to the treasurer of the University of Montevallo, upon the order of the president of the institution, interest at the rate of six percent per annum, on the whole amount of the fund in the treasury at the close of every quarter, arising from the sale of lands or any of the rights thereunto pertaining, and upon every sum paid into the treasury before the current quarter upon which interest has never been paid; it being the purpose and intent of the state of Alabama to execute in good faith the trust reposed in it by congress when granting the lands to the state for the benefit of the institution and to preserve the proceeds arising from the leases or sales of the lands of the institution so granted by congress as a fund forever and to pay the interest thereon for the support and maintenance of the institution.”

Section 2. The provisions of this act are severable. If any part of the act is declared invalid or unconstitutional, such declaration shall not affect the part which remains.

Section 3. This act shall become effective immediately upon its passage and approval by the governor, or upon its otherwise becoming a law.

After final action has been taken by the governing body on the overruling of any protests or objections with respect to any described piece of property, or in case no protests or objections have been received, the City Council of the City of Tuskegee, by motion or resolution, shall order the abatement of said nuisance by having the weeds referred to removed, and all necessary employees of the City of Tuskegee are hereby expressly authorized to enter upon private property for that purpose. Any property owner shall have the right to have any such weeds removed at his own expense providing the same is done prior to the arrival of the employees of the City of Tuskegee to do the same.

The amounts of the cost for abating nuisance in front of or upon the various parcels of land mentioned in said report shall constitute special assessments against the respective parcel of land and as thus made and confirmed shall constitute a lien on said property for the amount of such assessments, respectively. After confirmation of said report, a copy shall be turned over to the appropriate officials or employees of such county who are charged with the collection of taxes or assessments, whereupon it shall be the duty of said official or employee to add the amounts of the respective assessments to the next regular bills for taxes levied against the said respective lots and parcels of land for municipal purposes, and thereafter said amounts shall be collected at the same time and in the same manner as ordinary county taxes are collected, and shall be subject to the same penalties and the same procedures under foreclosure and sale in case of delinquency as provided for ordinary county taxes.

WHEREAS, each week, The Grand Ole Opry, broadcast over WSM Radio in Nashville, Tennessee, brings wholesome entertainment to millions of American Families; and

WHEREAS, the Federal Communications Commission is considering staff recommendations that would seriously reduce the coverage of the nation's clear channel radio stations and one such proposal, affecting WSM, would mean that those living or traveling more than 100 miles from Nashville, Tennessee, would no longer be able to hear the weekly broadcasts of The Grand Ole Opry; now therefore,

Section 5. There is hereby created the St. Clair county personnel board which shall consist of three members: (a) one member shall be appointed by the St. Clair county commission; (b) one member shall be appointed by the participating municipal governing bodies; if none participate, then such appointment shall be made by the employees of the county; (c) one member shall be appointed by the state representative and state senator representing St. Clair county. Thereafter, all appointees shall serve for a term of six (6) years. Initial terms of office shall be two (2) years for one member, four (4) years for one member, and six (6) years for one member, determined by drawing names after nominees have been appointed. All appointees to the board shall be residents and qualified electors of St. Clair county and over the age of twenty-five years. Members of the board shall take the constitutional oath of office which shall be filed in the office of the judge of probate. Vacancies on the board shall be filled in the same manner as original appointments. The members of the board shall elect a chairman and the county commission shall provide a secretary. Any member of the board who becomes a candidate or nominee for another public office shall forfeit the right to serve on the board.

Section 6. Each member of the board shall be paid twenty dollars per meeting day plus such mileage as is provided by law for the St. Clair county commission. The board shall have the power to hire such clerical assistance and to engage the services of such legal counsel as may be necessary to adequately perform its functions. The board shall hold such regular meetings as it deems necessary. Special meetings shall be held at such times and places determined by the board upon the call of the chairman, or as are otherwise dictated by complaints filed with the board as hereinafter provided. A majority of the board members shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. The board shall record the minutes of its meetings including all business transacted therein. All board records, except those required by board rules to be held confidential for reasons of public policy, shall be open for inspection by any resident of the city or county at all reasonable times.

Section 7. The board is hereby empowered to promulgate and effect a grievance procedure for all employees who may be subject to its authority under the provisions of this act. The rules and regulations governing such procedure shall be published by the board and distributed among such employees.

Section 8. The following guidelines shall govern appointments coming within the purview of the board's authority: (a) no temporary appointment shall be effective for longer than four months, and no such employee shall have protected status under this act; (b) all appointments, other than temporary appointments, shall be probationary for six months from the date of appointment; (c) a probationary subordinate employee may be discharged by his appointing authority for unsatisfactory service at any time before the expiration of that period; (d) a probationary department head employee may be discharged or demoted similarly by his appointing authority upon approval by the board; and (e) after the expiration of the probationary period, an appointment shall become permanent and thereafter subject to discharge only for cause.

Section 9. An appointing authority shall have authority to suspend an employee for any personal misconduct affecting or concerning his fitness or ability to perform his duties in the public interest. In the event an employee is suspended for more than thirty days, he shall be entitled to a public hearing before the board upon written demand filed within ten days from the date of the order of suspension. A hearing shall be held no later than ten days following receipt of the written request therefor. If, after such hearing, the board determines that the action of the appointing authority was without cause, the suspension shall be revoked, and the employee shall be reinstated with back pay to the date of discharge.

Section 10. (a) The governing body of any municipality within the county may, by resolution duly adopted, bring its municipal employees under the board. The governing body of any municipality so electing, or any member thereof acting individually, or the head of any department of such municipality; in the case of county employees, the sheriff, or other elected officials vested with powers to appoint employees as provided by law; may remove, discharge, suspend, or demote any subordinate employee of such municipality or county, provided such authority possesses, by law or regulation of the board, such disciplinary powers. Any supervisory employee to whom has been delegated such disciplinary powers may remove, discharge, suspend, or demote any subordinate employee provided that within five days thereof, a written report of such action is made to the board, giving the reason or circumstances surrounding such disciplinary action. If any aggrieved employee is suspended for more than thirty days or removed or discharged or demoted, such employee shall be entitled to a board hearing on such disciplinary action, upon written demand for such within ten days of such action. Such hearing shall be held within ten days of the receipt of the written request therefor. All meetings of the board on disciplinary matters shall be open to the public, and shall respect the aggrieved employee's right to face his or her accusers and be heard in his or her own defense. A permanent employee who has completed the six-month probationary period shall not have disciplinary action taken against him except for personal misconduct rendering his further tenure harmful to the public interest, or for any cause affecting or concerning his fitness or ability to perform his duties.

(b) Pending a hearing on any disciplinary action, the aggrieved employee may be temporarily suspended. Upon a hearing, the board may order said employee reinstated with back pay from the time of such action to the date of reinstatement, or take or approve such disciplinary action as, in their judgment, is warranted by the evidence. Any aggrieved employee shall, after an adverse hearing, have the right to rehearing and appeal as hereinafter provided.

Section 11. Written charges or complaints of wrongdoing or any other grievances may be filed, as herein provided, with the board by any employee, officer, supervisor, chief, or other employee of any county or municipal office to which this act applies. Such charges, complaints, or grievances shall be specifically stated, and sworn to before any member of the board or any person authorized to administer oaths. Upon receipt of such charges, the board, after due consideration, shall determine whether sufficient grounds exist upon which a hearing can be warranted, and if not, such charges shall be dismissed by the board. If, in the judgment of the board, such charges are of a minor nature, they shall be referred to the proper department head who shall conduct an investigation into the charges and make recommendation to the board within such time as the board may prescribe as to what disciplinary action, if any, should be taken. After such recommendation is made by the department head and after due notice of such is given in writing to the affected employee, the board may, in its discretion, adopt and effect such action or any part thereof as was recommended by the department head. However, if either the complainant or the affected employee, or both, object to the recommendation of the department head, the board shall hold a hearing on the matter, and take such disciplinary action as in their judgment is warranted by the evidence. All hearings before the board shall be open to the public. All testimony given in all hearings before the board shall be recorded. In all cases, the decision of the board shall be reduced to writing and entered in the record of the case. In all proceedings before the board, the city attorney or county attorney, as the case may be, may appear and prosecute all charges instituted by the governing body of the city or county or by an elected officer or department head of either when such prosecutor is requested or directed to do so by such city or county governing body, or such officer, sheriff, or department head. It shall not be the duty of the city attorney or the county attorney to prosecute any charges brought by a private citizen. In all proceedings before the board, the city attorney or county attorney may represent the interests of the city or county and give such legal advice and legal assistance to the board as may be requested by it.

Section 12. The board or its duly authorized representatives shall have the power to administer oaths, take depositions, certify official acts, and issue subpoenas to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of evidentiary papers and documents which may be relative to any hearing, investigation, or proceeding within the purview of this act. The person so designated by the board shall handle service of process for the board, and shall attend and preserve order at all public hearings conducted by the board. In case a person refuses to obey such subpoena, the board or its authorized representative may invoke the aid of the circuit court in order that the testimony or evidence sought shall be produced. Upon proper showing, such court may, in its discretion, issue a subpoena or order requiring the person to appear before the board or its representative and produce all evidence and give all testimony relating to the matter of issue. The fees of witnesses for attendance and travel shall be the same as fees for witnesses in the circuit courts of this state, which fees shall be paid from the treasury of the city or county.

Section 13. If the employee is aggrieved by the board's decision, such employee may appeal such decision to the circuit court of St. Clair county within thirty days from the rendition of such decision by the board. Review by the court shall be without a jury and be confined to the record and to a determination of the questions of law presented.

Section 14. When needed to transact business, the county governing body shall provide the board an office in the county courthouse; such office shall be suitably equipped and furnished for the operation of the board's business, including, but not limited to telephone service, postage supplies, stationery, and other supplies necessary for the board's operation.

Section 15. Any person who violates any provision of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, shall be punished as prescribed by law; additionally, any employee appointed or approved for county or municipal service pursuant to the provisions of this act who wilfully violates any provision of this act, including any rule or regulation promulgated by the board, shall be dismissed immediately and shall not be eligible for reappointment for a period of two years.

Section 16. All expenses incurred in the implementation of the provisions of this act shall be financed from a special fund provided by the county and participating municipalities therein for such purposes. The total cost of maintaining the personnel administration function shall be paid into this special fund on a prorated basis from those participating. The board shall submit an annual budget and financial report.

Section 17. The provisions of this act are severable. If any part of the act is declared invalid or unconstitutional, such declaration shall not affect the part which remains.

Section 18. All laws or parts of laws which conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Section 19. This act shall become effective immediately upon its passage and approval by the governor, or upon its otherwise becoming a law.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION

WISHING MRS. LINDA PRUETT A SPEEDY AND COMPLETE RECOVERY.

WHEREAS, the Legislature of Alabama was distressed to learn, as were all Alabamians, of the cowardly sniper's attack near Tuscaloosa which resulted in grave and serious injuries to Mrs. Linda Pruett of Warner Robins, Georgia; and

WHEREAS, stunned by the reality that such tragedy could occur on our state's highways and within the borders of the State of Alabama, this body expresses sincere regret both to Mrs. Pruett and to all members of her family whose concern we deeply share; and

WHEREAS, it is our desire that Mr. and Mrs. Pruett be aware that this body vehemently deplores such cowardly acts of violence, for whatever cause and by whomever responsible; now therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF ALA-

Act No. 79-256

H. 196—Manley

AN ACT

To amend section 7-9-204, 7-9-301, 7-9-302, 7-9-306 and 7-9-312 of the Code of Alabama 1975 relating to security interests so as to extend the time period for perfecting security interests in order to obtain priority over other creditors.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of Alabama:

Section 1. Sections 7-9-204, 7-9-301, 7-9-302, 7-9-306 and 7-9-312 of the Code of Alabama 1975 are hereby amended to read as follows:

“§ 7-9-204. (1) A security interest cannot attach until there is agreement (subsection (3) of section 7-1-201) that it attach and value is given and the debtor has rights in the collateral. It attaches as soon as all of the events in the preceding sentence have taken place unless explicit agreement postpones the time of attaching.

“(2) For the purposes of this section the debtor has no rights:

“(a) In crops until they are planted or otherwise become growing crops, in the young of livestock until they are conceived;

“(b) In fish until caught, in oil, gas or minerals until they are extracted;

“(c) In a contract right until the contract has been made;

“(d) In an account until it comes into existence.

“(3) Except as provided in subsection (4), a security agreement may provide that collateral, whenever acquired, shall secure all obligations covered by the security agreement.

“(4) No security interest attaches under an after-acquired property clause:

“(a) To crops which become such more than one year after the security agreement is executed except that a security interest in crops which is given in conjunction with a lease or a land purchase or improvement transaction evidenced by a contract, mortgage or deed of trust may if so agreed attach to crops to be grown on the land concerned during the period of such real estate transaction;

“(b) To consumer goods other than accessions (section 7-9-314) when given as additional security unless the debtor acquires rights in them within 20 days after the secured party gives value.

“(5) Obligations covered by a security agreement may include future advances or other value whether or not the advances or value are given pursuant to commitment.

“§ 7-9-301. (1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (2), an unperfected security interest is subordinate to the rights of:

“(a) Persons entitled to priority under section 7-9-312;

“(b) A person who becomes a lien creditor without knowledge of the security interest and before it is perfected;

“(c) In the case of goods, instruments, documents, and chattel paper, a person who is not a secured party and who is a transferee in bulk or other buyer not in ordinary course of business to the extent that he gives value and receives delivery of the collateral without knowledge of the security interest and before it is perfected;

“(d) In the case of accounts, contract rights, and general intangibles, a person who is not a secured party and who is a transferee to the extent that he gives value without knowledge of the security interest and before it is perfected.

“(2) If the secured party files with respect to a purchase money security interest before or within 20 days after the collateral comes into possession of the debtor, he takes priority over the rights of a transferee in bulk or of a lien creditor which arise between the time the security interest attaches and the time of filing.

“(3) A ‘lien creditor’ means a creditor who has acquired a lien on the property involved by attachment, levy or the like and includes an assignee for benefit of creditors from the time of assignment, and a trustee in bankruptcy from the date of the filing of the petition or a receiver from the time of appointment. Unless all the creditors represented had knowledge of the security interest such a representative of creditors is a lien creditor without knowledge even though he personally has knowledge of the security interest.

“§ 7-9-302. (1) A financing statement must be filed to perfect all security interests except the following:

“(a) A security interest in collateral in possession of the secured party under section 7-9-305;

“(b) A security interest temporarily perfected in instruments or documents without delivery under section 7-9-304 or in proceeds for a 20-day period under section 7-9-306;

“(c) A purchase money security interest in farm equipment having a purchase price not in excess of $2500.00; but filing is required for a fixture under section 7-9-313 or for a motor vehicle required to be licensed; goods; but filing is required for a fixture under section 7-9-313 or for a motor vehicle required to be licensed;

“(d) A purchase money security interest in consumer;

“(e) An assignment of accounts or contract rights which does not alone or in conjunction with other assignments to the same assignee transfer a significant part of the outstanding accounts or contract rights of the assignor;

“(f) A security interest of a collecting bank (section 7-4-208) or arising under the article on sales (see section 7-9-113) or covered in subsection (3) of this section.

“(2) If a secured party assigns a perfected security interest, no filing under this article is required in order to continue the perfected status of the security interest against creditors of and transferees from the original debtor.

“(3) The filing provisions of this article do not apply to a security interest in property subject to a statute:

“(a) Of the United States which provides for a national registration or filing of all security interests in such property; or

“(b) Of this state which provides for central filing of, or which requires indication on a certificate of title of, such security interests in such property.

“(4) A security interest in property covered by a statute described in subsection (3) can be perfected only by registration or filing under that statute or by indication of the security interest on a certificate of title or a duplicate thereof by a public official.

“(5) The filing provisions of this article also do not apply to a security interest in personal property or fixtures of any corporation or other business entity primarily engaged in the railroad or street railway business, the telephone or telegraph business, the transmission of oil, gas or petroleum products by pipeline, or the transmission, production or distribution of electricity, steam, gas or water, which security interest is created by a mortgage, deed of trust or other security agreement which also covers real property situated in the state of Alabama and which has been filed for record in accordance with the laws of Alabama governing mortgages of real property. Such security interest shall be perfected by such filing, whether such filing shall have been accomplished before or after the effective date set out in section 7-10-101; and such security interest shall be and remain effective, both as to the personal property or fixtures covered by the security interest at the time that it is perfected and as to personal property or fixtures which may subsequently be covered by the security interest under any after-acquired property provision of the mortgage, deed of trust or other security agreement creating the security interest, as long as such mortgage, deed of trust or other security agreement shall remain in effect, without the necessity for any refiling under the provisions of this article 9.

"Except as provided in the preceding paragraph of this subsection 7-9-302(5), notwithstanding anything in this article 9 to the contrary, the proper place to file a financing statement in order to perfect a security interest in personal property or fixtures of a corporation or other business entity of the type described in said preceding paragraph is in the office of the secretary of state; and the security interest covered by the financing statement shall continue perfected, both as to the personal property or fixtures covered by the security interest at the time that it is perfected and as to personal property or fixtures which may subsequently be covered by the security interest under any after-acquired property provision of the security agreement creating the security interest, without the necessity for any refiling under the provisions of this article 9, for as long as may be provided for in the security agreement creating the security interest. When the financing statement covers goods of a corporation or other business entity of the type described in said preceding paragraph, which goods are or are to become fixtures, no description of the real estate concerned or name of the record owner thereof is required.

"§ 7-9-306. (1) 'Proceeds' includes whatever is received when collateral or proceeds are sold, exchanged, collected or otherwise disposed of. The term also includes the account arising when the right to payment is earned under a contract right. Money, checks and the like are 'cash proceeds.' All other proceeds are 'noncash proceeds.'

"(2) Except where this article otherwise provides, a security interest continues in collateral notwithstanding sale, exchange or other disposition thereof by the debtor unless his action was authorized by the secured party in the security agreement or otherwise, and also continues in any identifiable proceeds including collections received by the debtor.

"(3) The security interest in proceeds is a continuously perfected security interest if the interest in the original collateral was perfected but it ceases to be a perfected security interest and becomes unperfected 20 days after receipt of the proceeds by the debtor unless:

"(a) A filed financing statement covering the original collateral also covers proceeds; or

"(b) The security interest in the proceeds is perfected before the expiration of the 20-day period.

“(4) In the event of insolvency proceedings instituted by or against a debtor, a secured party with a perfected security interest in proceeds has a perfected security interest:

“(a) In identifiable noncash proceeds;

“(b) In identifiable cash proceeds in the form of money which is not commingled with other money or deposited in a bank account prior to the insolvency proceedings;

“(c) In identifiable cash proceeds in the form of checks and the like which are not deposited in a bank account prior to the insolvency proceedings; and

“(d) In all cash and bank accounts of the debtor, if other cash proceeds have been commingled or deposited in a bank account, but the perfected security interest under this paragraph (d) is:

“(i) Subject to any right of setoff; and

“(ii) Limited to an amount not greater than the amount of any cash proceeds received by the debtor within 20 days before the institution of the insolvency proceedings and commingled or deposited in a bank account prior to the insolvency proceedings less the amount of cash proceeds received by the debtor and paid over to the secured party during the 20-day period.

“(5) If a sale of goods results in an account or chattel paper which is transferred by the seller to a secured party, and if the goods are returned to or are repossessed by the seller or the secured party, the following rules determine priorities:

“(a) If the goods were collateral at the time of sale for an indebtedness of the seller which is still unpaid, the original security interest attaches again to the goods and continues as a perfected security interest if it was perfected at the time when the goods were sold. If the security interest was originally perfected by a filing which is still effective, nothing further is required to continue the perfected status; in any other case, the secured party must take possession of the returned or repossessed goods or must file.

“(b) An unpaid transferee of the chattel paper has a security interest in the goods against the transferor. Such security interest is prior to a security interest asserted under paragraph (a) to the extent that the transferee of the chattel paper was entitled to priority under section 7-9-308.

“(c) An unpaid transferee of the account has a security interest in the goods against the transferor. Such security interest is subordinate to a security interest asserted under paragraph (a).

“(d) A security interest of an unpaid transferee asserted under paragraph (b) or (c) must be perfected for protection against creditors of the transferor and purchasers of the returned or repossessed goods.

“§ 7-9-312. (1) The rules of priority stated in the following sections shall govern where applicable: section 7-4-208 with respect to the security interest of collecting banks in items being collected accompanying documents and proceeds; section 7-9-301 on certain priorities; section 7-9-304 on goods covered by documents; section 7-9-306 on proceeds and repossessions; section 7-9-307 on buyers of goods; section 7-9-308 on possessory against nonpossessory interests in chattel paper or nonnegotiable instruments; section 7-9-309 on security interests in negotiable instruments, documents or securities; section 7-9-310 on priorities between perfected security interests and liens by operation of law; section 7-9-313 on security interests in fixtures as against interests in real estate; section 7-9-314 on security interests in accessions as against interest in goods; section 7-9-315 on conflicting security interests where goods lose their identity or become part of a product; and section 7-9-316 on contractual subordination.

“(2) A perfected security interest in crops for new value given to enable the debtor to produce the crops during the production season and given not more than three months before the crops become growing crops by planting or otherwise takes priority over an earlier perfected security interest to the extent that such earlier interest secures obligations due more than six months before the crops become growing crops by planting or otherwise, even though the person giving new value had knowledge of the earlier security interest.

“(3) A purchase money security interest in inventory collateral has priority over a conflicting security interest in the same collateral if:

“(a) The purchase money security interest is perfected at the time the debtor receives possession of the collateral; and

“(b) Any secured party whose security interest is known to the holder of the purchase money security interest or who, prior to the date of the filing made by the holder of the purchase money security interest, had filed a financial statement covering the same items or type of inventory, has received notification of the purchase money security interest before the debtor receives possession of the collateral covered by the purchase money security interest; and

“(c) Such notification states that the person giving the notice has or expects to acquire a purchase money security interest in inventory of the debtor, describing such inventory by item or type.

“(4) A purchase money security interest in collateral other than inventory has priority over a conflicting security interest in the same collateral if the purchase money security interest is perfected at the time the debtor receives possession of the collateral or within 20 days thereafter.

“(5) In all cases not governed by other rules stated in this section (including cases of purchase money security interests which do not qualify for the special priorities set forth in subsections (3) and (4) of this section), priority between conflicting security interests in the same collateral shall be determined as follows:

“(a) In the order of filing if both are perfected by filing, regardless of which security interest attached first under section 7-9-204(1) and whether it attached before or after filing;

“(b) In the order of perfection unless both are perfected by filing, regardless of which security interest attached first under section 7-9-204(1) and, in the case of a filed security interest, whether it attached before or after filing; and

“(c) In the order of attachment under section 7-9-204(1) so long as neither is perfected.

“(6) For the purpose of the priority rules of the immediately preceding subsection, a continuously perfected security interest shall be treated at all times as if perfected by filing if it was originally so perfected and it shall be treated at all times as if perfected otherwise than by filing if it was originally perfected otherwise than by filing.”

Section 2. This act shall become effective immediately upon its passage and approval by the governor, or upon its otherwise becoming a law.

"(6) INDUSTRIAL WASTES. Liquid or other wastes resulting from any process of industry, manufacture, trade or business or from the development of natural resources.

"(7) OTHER WASTES. All other substances, whether liquid, gaseous or solid, or energy in the form of heat from all other sources including, but not limited to, any vessels or other conveyances traveling or using the waters of this state, except industrial wastes or sewage.

"(8) PERSON. Any and all persons, natural or artificial, including, but not limited to, any individual, any responsible corporate officer, any firm or association, any municipal, public or private corporation organized or existing under the laws of this or any other state or country, or any other body politic or corporate.

"(9) DISCHARGE. The addition, introduction, leaking, spilling or emitting of any sewage, industrial waste, pollutant or other wastes into waters of the state."

Section 2. Section 22-22-4 of the Code of Alabama 1975 is hereby amended to read as follows:

"§ 22-22-4. The commission shall appoint, in accordance with the merit system law of this state, a director, who shall be a person fully trained and experienced in water pollution control. The director shall exercise administrative supervision of water quality control programs adopted by the commission and, in the interim between meetings of the commission, shall have authority to perform in the name of the commission all functions and duties delegated to him by the commission. The commission may, acting through its director, employ, compensate and prescribe the powers and duties of such officers, employees and consultants, in accordance with the merit system and other laws of this state, as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this chapter. The commission may delegate any of the powers and duties vested in it by this chapter to the director, except the adoption and promulgation of standards, rules and regulations, revocation of permits and the issuance, modification or revocation of orders. However, in emergencies the director may issue, modify or revoke orders. The commission may appoint hearing officers as may be necessary or desirable in the administration of its duties and responsibilities."

Section 3. Section 22-22-8 of the Code of Alabama 1975 is hereby amended to read as follows:

"§ 22-22-8. The commission shall meet regularly, at least one meeting every 60 days and such additional meetings as may be prescribed by commission rules, or by the call of the chairman or by any three public-at-large commission members, upon delivery of written notice to each member at least 72 hours prior to the meeting. All commission meetings shall be open to the public, and public notice shall be given at least 24 hours in advance of each meeting. In an emergency, the requirement for 72 hours' advance notice and the public notice may be dispensed with, and commission members and the public shall receive such notice as is reasonable under the circumstances. Three public-at-large members of the commission shall constitute a quorum. The commission shall keep a complete and accurate record of all its meetings, a copy of which shall be kept on file in the office of the director and open to public inspection."

Section 4. Section 22-22-9 of the Code of Alabama 1975 is hereby amended to read as follows:

"§ 22-22-9. (a) It shall be the duty of the commission to control pollution in the waters of the state, and it shall specifically have the following powers:

"(1) To study and investigate all problems concerned with the improvement and conservation of the waters of the state;

"(2) To conduct, independently and in cooperation with others, studies, investigation and research and to prepare, or in cooperation with others prepare, a program or programs, any or all of which shall pertain to the purity and conservation of the waters of the state or to the treatment and disposal of sewage, industrial wastes or other wastes, which studies, investigations, research and program or programs shall be intended to result in the reduction of pollution of the waters of the state according to the conditions and particular circumstances existing in the various communities throughout the state; and

"(3) To propose remedial measures insofar as practical means are available for abatement of such pollution.

"To this end, the commission may cooperate with any public agency, including federal agencies, or with any private agency in the conduct of such experiments, investigations and research and may receive, in behalf of the state, any moneys which any such agency may contribute as its share of the cost under any such cooperative arrangement; provided, that such moneys shall be used only for the purposes for which they are contributed and any unexpended balance remaining after the conclusion of the experiments, investigation and research, or other uses for which such moneys were granted or donated, shall remain to the credit of the water improvement commission fund, unless the terms of such grant, gift or donation specifically require the return of any unexpended balance.

“(b) It shall be the duty of the commission to conduct surveys with respect to the pollution of any waters of the state, either navigable or not navigable, to establish criteria standards and limitations for recognized limits of pollution and, independently or in cooperation with other agencies, both public and private, to promote, through education and demonstration, water conservation and the abatement of water pollution.

“(c) The commission may require any person discharging, or applying to discharge, pollution into the waters of the state to establish and maintain such records, make such reports, install, use and maintain such monitoring equipment or methods, sample pollution, in accordance with such methods, at such locations, intervals and procedures as the commission shall prescribe and provide such other information as the commission reasonably may require. Any records, reports or information obtained under this chapter shall be available to the public; except, that upon a showing satisfactory to the commission by any person that records, reports or information, or a particular part thereof, other than effluent data, to which the commission has access under this chapter, if made public, would divulge production or sales figures or methods, processes or production unique to such person or would otherwise tend to affect adversely the competitive position of such person by revealing trade secrets, the commission shall consider such record, report, or information, or particular portion thereof, confidential in the administration of this chapter. Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to prevent disclosure of such report, record or information to federal or state representatives as necessary for purposes of administration of any federal or state water quality control laws or when relevant in any proceeding under this chapter. The fees of witnesses for attendance and travel shall be the same as fees of witnesses before the courts of record and shall be paid from the appropriation for the expenses of the commission. Any judge of a court of record, either in term time or vacation, upon application of the chairman or vice-chairman of the commission, shall compel the attendance of witnesses, the production of books and papers and the giving of testimony before the commission, or any agent thereof, by attachment, contempt or otherwise in the same manner as the production of evidence shall be compelled before said court. The director shall require the attendance of employees who are needed as witnesses without subpoena. Any member of the commission or its employees or agents may enter any property or any industrial or other establishment at any reasonable time for the purpose of collecting such information, and no owner or official in charge shall refuse to admit such member, em-plover or agent for any purposes necessary to the discharge of his official duty.

“(d) It shall be the duty of the commission to render a report annually to the governor and each succeeding legislature in regular session assembled of its activities and progress, and it must include any recommendations for amendment to this chapter.

“(e) It shall be the further duty of the commission to extend its cooperation and to advise industries and municipalities relative to the control of waste and other deleterious matter of pollutive nature and to make available to industries and municipalities the benefits of its studies and findings.

“(f) It shall be the duty of the commission to exercise general supervision over the administration and enforcement of all laws relating to pollution of the waters of the state. Whenever the commission determines that any person is violating, or is about to violate, any of the provisions of this chapter, or any rule or regulation or order of the commission promulgated thereunder, the commission may notify such person of such determination of the commission. The notice may be served by registered or certified mail or by an officer empowered to serve process under existing laws or by an officer or agent of the commission. Within such time as may be specified in such notice, such person shall file with the commission a full report showing steps that have been taken and are being taken to control such discharge or pollution. Thereupon, the commission may make such orders as in its opinion are deemed reasonable.

“(g) It shall be the duty of the commission, after notice as provided in this subsection and after consideration of the purpose of this chapter, to establish such standards of quality for any waters in relation to their reasonable and necessary use as shall be in the public interest, recognizing that, because of variable factors and varied use of waters, no single standard of treatment and no single standard of quality are practical and that the degree of treatment of sewage, industrial wastes, and other wastes must take into account the present and future uses, and such general policies relating to existing or proposed future pollution as it shall deem necessary to accomplish the purposes of this chapter and to modify, amend or cancel the same. Any provision of law to the contrary notwithstanding, the quality of pollution existing in an effluent at any time shall be subject to the control of the commission if it creates a health hazard. Prior to establishing standards as provided in this subsection, the commission shall cause to be published in a newspaper published in and of general circulation in each county within which any such waters, wholly or partially, are located, a notice in substantially the following form:

"NOTICE

"Of Water Improvement Commission

"Notice is hereby given that a hearing before the Water Improvement Commission of the state of Alabama will be held on the day of, 19....., at for the purpose of establishing standards of quality in those certain waters in the county or counties of Alabama, described as follows (Describe Waters) Anyone desiring to be heard may appear at said meeting.

Water Improvement Commission

By: (Director)

"Such notice shall be published once a week for three consecutive weeks prior to the holding of any hearing of the commission for consideration of such standards; provided, that in any county where no such newspaper is available for publishing said notice, the prescribed notice shall be posted at the county courthouse of said county for a period of three weeks prior to holding of any such hearing of the commission. Any hearing required by this subsection may be conducted by a hearing officer appointed by the commission.

"(h) It shall be the duty of the commission to receive and examine applications, plans, specifications and other data and to issue permits for the discharge of sewage, industrial wastes entering directly or through a municipal or private treatment facility and other wastes into the waters of the state, stipulating in each permit the conditions under which such discharge may be permitted.

"(i) It shall be the duty of the commission, and it shall have the authority, to adopt rules and regulations to carry out the provisions of this chapter and to accomplish the purpose of this chapter.

"(j) (1) It shall be the duty of the commission to issue, modify or revoke orders:

"a. Prohibiting or abating discharges of sewage, industrial wastes or other wastes directly or indirectly into the waters of the state; and

"b. Requiring the construction of new treatment or disposal systems, or any parts thereof, or the modification, extension or alteration of existing treatment or disposal systems, or any parts thereof or the adoption of other remedial measures to prevent, control or abate pollution.

“(2) It shall be the duty of the commission to issue, continue in effect, revoke, modify or deny, under such conditions as it may prescribe, to prevent, control or abate pollution, permits for the discharge of sewage, industrial wastes or other wastes into the waters of the state and for the installation, modification or operation of treatment or disposal systems or any parts thereof.

“(3) Every person who, prior to November 21, 1971, is discharging any sewage, industrial wastes or other wastes into any waters of the state under a permit of the then existing water improvement commission may continue to do so under said permit unless and until the commission modifies or alters the terms of the permit.

“(4) Every person who, prior to November 21, 1971, is proceeding to comply with a plan toward control of the pollution for which the plan was developed under a permit of the then existing water improvement commission must do so within the time limit specified by said plan and/or permit.

“(5) Every person, who, prior to November 21, 1971, is discharging any pollution into any waters of this state without a permit covering such discharge shall, in accordance with the terms of this chapter, apply in writing, within 30 days of November 21, 1971, for a permit and obtain a permit as a condition of continuing such discharge. Said permit shall be granted upon the submission to, and approval by, the commission of a plan to control such discharge within two years from date of application.

“(6) Subsequent to November 21, 1971, every person, prior to discharging any new or increased pollution into any waters of this state shall apply to the commission in writing for a permit and must obtain such permit before discharging such pollution.

“(7) Any and all pollution is hereby declared to be a public nuisance and, if it creates, or is about to create, a health hazard shall be subject to immediate control of the commission by order or injunction. Any order issued under this subsection shall be deemed to be final and conclusive for the purposes of this chapter.

“(k) The commission may enter into agreement with the responsible authorities of the federal government and of other states, subject to the approval of the governor, relative to policies, methods, means and procedures to be employed to control pollution of any interstate waters and to carry out such agreements by procedures provided for in this chapter. This power shall not be deemed to extend to the modification of any agreement with any other state concluded by direct legislative act, but, unless otherwise expressly provided, the commission shall be the agency for the administration and enforcement of any such legislative agreement.

“(1) Whenever the commission has cause to believe that any person is violating any rule or regulation promulgated by the commission, the commission shall cause a prompt investigation to be made in connection therewith. If, upon inspection, the commission discovers a condition which is in violation of the provisions of this chapter, or any rule or regulation promulgated pursuant thereto, it shall be authorized to order such violation to cease and to take such steps necessary to enforce such an order. The said order shall state the items which are in violation and shall provide a reasonable specified time within which the violation must cease. The person responsible shall make the corrections necessary to comply with the requirements of this chapter, or rule or regulation promulgated pursuant thereto, within the time specified in the order. Nothing in this subsection shall be deemed to prevent the commission or the attorney general from prosecuting any violation of this chapter, or any rule or regulation promulgated pursuant thereto, notwithstanding that such violation is corrected in accordance with any order.

“(m) Any person aggrieved by an order of the commission under this chapter may, upon application made within 15 days after notice thereof, be entitled to a hearing before the commission, which shall, within a reasonable time thereafter, hold a hearing, of which at least 15 days' written notice shall be given to such persons. Within 30 days after such hearing, the commission shall issue an appropriate order modifying, approving or disapproving its order. A copy of such order shall be served upon all interested parties. Pending the determination by the commission, and upon application therefor, the commission may stay the operation of such order upon such terms and conditions as it may deem proper. The testimony taken at any hearing shall be under oath and recorded stenographically, but the parties shall not be bound by the strict rules of evidence prevailing in the courts. True copies of any transcript and of any other record made of or at such hearing shall be furnished to any party thereto upon request and at his expense. Any hearing required by this chapter to be held before the commission shall be held before a hearing officer designated by the commission, who shall have power to subpoena witnesses and compel their attendance, administer oaths and require the production for examination of any books or papers relating to any matter under investigation in any such hearing. The commission, at the request of any interested person, may subpoena and compel the attendance of such witnesses as such person may designate and require the production for examination of any books or papers relating to any matter under investigation in any such hearing.

“(n) Any duly designated employee of the commission may administer oaths to witnesses and may conduct hearings or investigations, and any such duly designated employee of the commission may sign and issue subpoenas requiring persons to appear before him or the commission, and the commission, through its designated officers, shall have the power to serve said subpoenas upon any such person by sending a copy of such subpoena through the United States mail, postage prepaid, which said mail shall be registered or certified with return receipt attached, and such service shall be complete when said registered or certified mail shall be delivered to said person and such receipt returned to the commission, or its designated employee, signed by the person sought to be subpoenaed. Obedience to a subpoena issued by the commission or any person authorized and designated by the commission to issue said subpoena may be enforced by application to any judge of the circuit court of the county in which said subpoena was issued or to the judge of any circuit court in which such person subpoenaed resides in the same manner as is provided by law for the grand jury of a county to enforce its subpoenas and with the same penalty as provided therefor for the failure of any person failing or refusing to comply with such subpoena.

“(o) Any person who violates any provision of this chapter, or any rule or regulation adopted by the commission, or any order or permit which has been issued by the commission as provided for in this section or who discharges sewage, industrial wastes or other wastes into the waters of Alabama without a permit as required by this chapter shall be liable to a penalty of not less than $100.00 nor more than $10,000.00 for said violation, which may be recovered in a civil action in the circuit court. Each and every day during which such violation continues shall constitute a separate violation for purposes of this subsection. It shall be the duty of the commission and the attorney general or any district attorney to commence such actions to recover said penalties. In any such action, any person may intervene as a matter of right. The issuance of an order shall not be a condition precedent to the commencement of any action under this section; however, where an order has been issued, the alleged violator shall be afforded an opportunity to be heard upon said order as provided in this section before any action is commenced under this section.

“(p) The commission, the attorney general or any district attorney may commence a civil action for damages for pollution of the waters of the state including, but not limited to, any reasonable costs to prevent, minimize or clean up any damage resulting from pollution resulting from the wrongful act, omission or negligence of a person. Such civil actions may be filed in the name of the state by the commission or the attorney general in the county or counties where pollution occurs or in which the defendant resides or does business. Both punitive and compensatory damages may be recovered in a case where pollution resulted from willful or wanton conduct on the part of the defendant; compensatory damages alone may be awarded when the pollution is caused by a negligent act or omission. Should a verdict for damages be obtained in any such action, the court shall also assess and tax as costs against the defendant all reasonable costs incurred by the particular department or agency which investigated the pollution in such action. Such costs, as testified to by sworn affidavit, shall be paid over by the court to that department or agency which performed the investigation.

“(q) Any person who violates any of the provisions of, or fails to perform any duty imposed by, this chapter, or regulation issued under this chapter, or who violates any order or determination of the commission promulgated pursuant to this chapter and causes the death of fish or other wildlife shall, in addition to the penalties and remedies provided in subsections (o) and (p) of this section, be liable to pay to the state an additional amount equal to the sum of money reasonably necessary to restock such waters or replenish such wildlife, as determined by the commission after consultation with the game and fish division or the marine resources division of the department of conservation and natural resources or any other governmental agency. Such sums as may thus be recovered, including punitive damages, if any, shall be credited, regardless of who instituted such action, to the game and fish and/or seafood fund as the commissioner of conservation and natural resources may determine. If the pollution has caused damage to fish and/or other wildlife in excess of $5,000.00, as determined by the Alabama department of conservation and natural resources or any other governmental agency, and testified to by sworn affidavit, the damage shall be presumed to have been the direct and proximate result of negligence of the person shown to be responsible for such pollution, and the burden shall then be upon such person to prove freedom of negligence in causing the pollution in such cases.

“(r) Nothing contained or authorized in this chapter and no civil action by the commission, or the attorney general or any district attorney, as provided for in this section, shall be construed to impair, or abridge or abrogate any cause of action which any person or class of persons may have by any other statutory or case law for the alleviation, abatement, control or prevention of pollution or for the restitution for damages resulting therefrom. Nor shall any provision of this chapter be construed so as to create a new cause or causes of action with reference to this subsection.

“(s) The commission, the attorney general or any district attorney may bring a civil action to enjoin any actual or threatened violation of any provision of this chapter, or violation of any rule, regulation or order made under this chapter, or to control a health hazard resulting from pollution.”

Section 5. Section 22-22-10 of the Code of Alabama 1975 is hereby amended to read as follows:

“§ 22-22-10. The commission is authorized to accept and use such funds, facilities or personnel as may be, or may become, available for the purposes of this chapter, either directly to the commission or in any of the state departments or from federal or other agencies represented; but nothing in this section shall be construed to limit, modify or supersede any of the powers or duties of said cooperating departments or agencies unless in direct conflict with this chapter, nor to interfere with the power of each such department or agency to determine the disposition of funds specifically appropriated to it and to select, employ and control all of its employees regardless of the fact that said employees may be assigned and devoting the whole or a part of their time to work under the direction of the commission. There is hereby created and there shall be a fund which shall be known as the water improvement commission fund. This fund shall consist of:

“(1) All moneys appropriated to the commission by the state legislature of Alabama;

“(2) All moneys received by the commission by appropriation from county or municipal governments;

“(3) All gifts, grants, bequests or donations from individuals, associations, corporations or industries;

“(4) All moneys derived through any source of federal aid; and

“(5) All moneys accruing to the commission from any source whatever.

"The fund shall be used and expended by the commission in accordance with the terms of the gift, grant, bequest, appropriation or donation from which said moneys are derived and, in the absence of any such terms or stipulations, shall be expended by the commission in furtherance of any of the provisions of this chapter. All necessary expenses of the commission shall likewise be paid out of said fund on the requisition of the commission as may be deemed advisable. The commission is authorized to employ such consultants and full-time technical and clerical and other workers as are necessary and within the available funds to carry out the purposes of this chapter."

Section 7. Section 22-22-14 of the Code of Alabama 1975 is hereby amended to read as follows:

"§ 22-22-14. (a) Any person who willfully or with gross negligence violates any provision of the chapter, or rule, regulation or standard adopted under this chapter, or any condition or limitation in a permit issued under this chapter shall be punished by a fine of not less than $2,500.00 nor more than $25,000.00 per day of violation or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both. If the conviction is for a violation committed after a first conviction of such person under this subsection, punishment shall be by a fine of not more than $50,000 per day of violation or by imprisonment for not more than two years, or by both.

"(b) Any person who knowingly makes any false statement, representation or certification in any application, record, report, plan or other document filed, or required to be maintained, under this chapter or who falsifies, tampers with or knowingly renders inaccurate any monitoring device or method required to be maintained under this chapter shall, upon conviction, be punished by a fine of not more than $10,000.00 or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both.

Section 8. This act shall become effective immediately upon its passage and approval by the Governor, or upon its otherwise becoming law.

Act No. 79-280

S. 361—Keener

AN ACT

Relating to the City of Gadsden, Alabama; amending Sections 12, 14 and 20 of Act No. 904, H. 1848 of the 1975 Regular Session (Acts 1975, Vol. III, p. 1787), which relate to the city's policemen and firemen retirement fund and certain limitations of benefits and the time requirements therefor and restrictions or reemployment, so as to broaden certain benefits; and removing all restrictions of reemployment in state or local government after retirement, except by the City of Gadsden.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of Alabama:

Section 1. Sections 12, 14 and 20 of Act No. 904, H. 1848 of the 1975 Regular Session (Acts 1975, Vol. III, p. 1787) are amended to read as follows:

"Section 12. 1. In order to preserve the financial integrity of said pension fund, the Board of Trustees, if it deems necessary, shall have the authority to prorate those benefits received by said members who retired before, on, or after October 1, 1975 as follows:

"(a) Excluding retirement benefits and interest received from personal bank accounts, those members who report personal gross income on federal income tax returns in excess of $10,000 a year may have their benefits reduced by thirty percent.

"(b) Excluding retirement benefits and interest received from personal bank accounts, those members who report personal gross income on federal income tax returns in excess of $7,500 but less than $10,000 a year may have their benefits reduced by twenty percent.

"(c) Excluding retirement benefits and interest received from personal bank accounts, those members who report personal gross income on federal income tax returns in excess of $5,000 but less than $7,500 may have their benefits reduced by ten percent.

"Provided that the provisions of this section concerning prorated payments shall not be interpreted to include those members drawing survivors benefits and those members of said fund who are one-hundred percent disabled and have no other personal income except those benefits derived from the provisions of this act.

"The Board of Trustees shall have the power to do whatever is necessary and proper to enforce the provisions of section 12, subsection 1.

"2. No person retired after October 1, 1975 under the policemen's and firemen's retirement fund can be reemployed full time by the City of Gadsden in any department, without first having signed an agreement forfeiting his or her pension benefits during the time of reemployment. For purposes of this act, full time employment means twenty (20) hours or more per week. Benefits shall be resumed upon termination of employment. In no instance shall the benefits lost during the time of reemployment be recovered by said person. The provisions of this section shall not be interpreted to include those members drawing survivor's benefits.

"3. Any member of the police and fire department of a city to which this act applies who has been in continuous service thereof for as long as twenty years, upon making written application to the Board of Trustees therefor shall, without medical examination or disability, be retired from service in such department and upon such retirement the Board of Trustees shall direct the payment to such retired member, monthly from such fund the amount hereinafter provided for his or her particular position, office, salary, or class of work. However, any member of such police or fire department who has become a new employee as of October 1, 1975, must serve a mandatory thirty (30) years consecutive service before receiving retirement benefits. Also, any person employed on or before June 1, 1975, who will have served twenty-five (25) years effective June 1, 1981, may then retire at 55% of his or her salary not to exceed $5,000.00 per year. Also, any person employed on or before June 1, 1975, who will have served thirty (30) consecutive years effective June 1, 1985, may then retire at 60% of his or her salary not to exceed $6,000.00 per year.

"In no instance however, may any employee be eligible to retire at 55% of his or her salary not to exceed $5,000.00 per year until or unless on June 1, 1981 he or she shall have then already served twenty-five (25) consecutive years in such police or fire departments, and in no instance, however, may any employee be eligible to retire at 60% of his or her salary not to exceed $6,000.00 per year until or unless on June 1, 1985, he or she shall have then already served thirty (30) consecutive years. Each rank must be held three years before retirement. Any person having met the requirements for retiring under this section must undergo a moratorium period of ninety (90) days before receiving any monthly payment of benefits.

"4. All members retiring before the twenty-fifth (25) anniversary date must undergo a moratorium period of at least one full year before receiving any monthly payment of benefits unless the board feels that for reasons of mental or physical disability or some similar tragic circumstances, this requirement could be waived.

"5. All members employed prior to June 1, 1975 who retire before the twenty-fifth (25) anniversary date shall undergo a moratorium period of at least one full year before receiving any monthly payment of benefits unless the board feels that for reasons of mental or physical disability or some similar tragic circumstance, this requirement could be waived.

"Section 14. Except as otherwise provided in this subdivision each member who has been or who hereafter is retired shall receive a retirement benefit equal to fifty per centum of the salary received at the date of his retirement.

"Provided, further, each member who retires after twenty years consecutive service shall ninety days after retirement (unless retired at age 65 or later or for reasons of disability) be paid a retirement benefit of 50% of the salary he or she was receiving at the time of retirement. Each member who retires after having served twenty-five consecutive years and whose retirement commences on or after June 1, 1981, shall be paid a retirement benefit of 55% of the salary (not to exceed $5,000.00) he or she was receiving at the time of retirement — effective date June 1, 1981. Each member who retires after having served thirty consecutive years and whose retirement commences on or after June 1, 1985, shall be paid a retirement benefit of 60% of the salary (not to exceed $6,000.00) he or she was receiving at the time of retirement effective June 1, 1985. This section supercedes any subdivision of the law which may be in conflict herewith. In no instance, however, shall any retired member or survivor be entitled to receive an adjustment monetarily to his, or to her retirement benefit, which he or she is now receiving.

"Provided, further, that retired personnel shall, if six of the seven trustees approve, receive, ninety (90) days after the approval, up to a maximum of 20% of any increase in salary accorded active members.

"Section 20. If any employee terminates his or her employment before becoming eligible for retirement benefits, such employee shall receive a lump payment from the Board of Trustees, within 90 days after filing a written application with said board, said lump sum payment to be based on the following scale:

“(A) From 0 to and including the 5th year said employee will receive 100% of all amounts he or she has contributed to said fund.

“(B) From 6 to and including the 10th year said employee will receive 100% of all amounts he or she has contributed plus an amount equal to 1% per year of employment contributed by the City of Gadsden.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION

URGING A POLICY FOR THE UNITED STATES THAT PROHIBITS THE SHIPMENT OF AGRICULTURE SURPLUSES TO THOSE COUNTRIES THAT WOULD CAPITALIZE ON THE OIL SHORTAGES OF OUR NATION.

WHEREAS, it is estimated that some fifty percent of the oil consumed in the United States is imported from OPEC nations of the world; and

WHEREAS, these nations have together instituted the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries for the obvious and indefensible purpose of profiting from the oil shortage of the United States; even more reprehensible is the fact that these countries take such action against the United States which supplied most of the technical know-how necessary to sink wells and otherwise devise means for retrieving this valuable and necessary resource. then generously but foolishly allowed the OPEC nations to take over our oil companies; and

WHEREAS, the United States currently shares, as it has traditionally, its agricultural surpluses with those nations in need, including members of the OPEC nations, without exploiting the food shortages of said recipients, either through threat of embargo or by a constant and precipitous rise in price; now therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF ALABAMA, BOTH HOUSES THEREOF CONCURRING, That we do most earnestly and urgently request that the President of the United States and the Congress take immediate and all necessary action to adopt a policy for the United States that would prohibit the shipment of agricultural surpluses to any country in the world that would, through individual action or through joint action of conspiracy between one or more nations, exploit our nation's oil shortage in any manner whatsoever.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That this body is totally and diametrically opposed to a present policy which not only continues to supply the needs of foreign ingrates regardless of their export policy toward the United States, but oftentimes at prices far below those paid by American consumers.

RESOLVED FURTHER, That copies of this resolution be sent to President Carter and to all members of the Alabama Congressional Delegation in Washington, D. C.

In fiscal years beginning after October 1, 1979, the percentage of the in-lieu-of-taxes payments received by this local governments shall be increased 10 percent each fiscal year after the fiscal year beginning October 1, 1979, until 70 percent is obtained, and in the fiscal year beginning October 1, 1985, the amount shall be increased five percent until 75 percent of the total in-lieu-of-taxes payments are distributed to these local governments. Any such bonds may be executed and delivered by the Authority at any time and from time to time, shall be in such form and denominations and of such tenor and maturities, shall contain such provisions not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act and shall bear such rates or rates of interest, payable and evidence in such manner as may be provided by resolution of the Authority. Bonds of the Authority may be sold at either public or private sale in such manner and at such price or prices and at such time or times as may be determined by the Authority to be most advantageous. The principal of or interest on any bonds issued or obligations assumed by the Authority may thereafter at any time (whether before, at or after maturity of any such principal and whether at, after or not exceeding six months prior to the maturity of any such interest) and from time to time be refunded by the issuance of refunding bonds of the Authority, which may be sold by the Authority at public or private sale at such price or prices as may be determined by the Authority to be most advantageous or which may be exchanged from the bonds or other obligations to be refunded. The Authority may pay all expenses, premiums and commissions which it may deem necessary and advantageous in connection with any financing done by it. All bonds issued by the Authority shall be construed to be negotiable instruments though payable from a specified source. All obligations created or assumed by the Authority shall be solely and exclusively an obligation of the Authority and shall not create an obligation or debt of any county or municipality or of the state; provided, that the provisions of this sentence shall not be construed to release the original obligor from liability on any bond or other obligation assumed by the Authority. Any bonds issued by the Authority shall be limited or special obligations of the Authority payable solely out of the revenues of the Authority specified in the proceedings authorizing those bonds. Any such proceedings may provide that the bonds therein authorized shall be payable solely out of the revenues derived from the operation of all property and facilities, owned or operated by the Authority or solely out of the revenues from the operation of any one or more of such property and facilities, or parts thereof, regardless of the fact that those bonds may have been issued with respect to or for the benefit of only certain particular property and facilities of the Authority. The Authority may pledge for the payment of any of its bonds issued or obligations assumed the revenues from which such bonds or obligations are payable and may execute and deliver a trust indenture evidencing any such pledge or a mortgage and deed or trust conveying as security for such bonds or obligations the property and facilities, or any part of any thereof, the revenues or any part of the revenues from which are so pledged. Any mortgage and deed of trust or trust indenture made by the Authority may contain such agreements as the Authority may deem advisable respecting the operation and maintenance of the property and the use of the revenues subject to such mortgage and deed of trust or affected by such trust indenture and respecting the rights, duties and remedies of the parties to any such instrument and the parties for the benefit of whom such instrument is made; provided, that no such instrument shall be subject to foreclosure.

Section 6. Same - Contracts to secure payment. As security for payment of the principal and interest on bonds issued or obligations assumed by it, the Authority may enter into a contract or contracts binding itself for the proper application of the proceeds of bonds and other funds, for the continued operation and maintenance of any property and facilities, owned or controlled and operated by it or under its Authority or any part or parts thereof; for the imposition and collection of reasonable rates and rentals for and the promulgation of reasonable regulations respecting the use of property and facilities, of the Authority and any service furnished therefrom, for the disposition and application of its gross revenues or any part thereof and for any other act or series of acts not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act for the protection of the bonds and other obligations being secured and the assurance that revenues from such property and facilities, will be sufficient to cover the cost of all direct operation of such property and facilities, by the Authority and the maintenance in good condition of such property and facilities, owned and controlled by the Authority, the payment of the principal of and interest on any bonds payable from such revenues and the maintenance of such reserves as may be deemed appropriate for the protection of the bonds, the efficient operation of such property and facilities, and the making of replacements thereof and the capital improvements thereto. Any contract pursuant to the provisions of this Section may be set forth in any resolution of the Authority authorizing the issuance of bonds or the assumption of obligations or in any mortgage and deed of trust and trust indenture made by the Authority under this Act.

Section 7. Same - Creation of statutory mortgage lien. Any resolution of the Authority or trust indenture under which bonds may be issued pursuant to the provisions of this Act may contain provisions creating a statutory mortgage lien in favor of the holders of such bonds and of the interest coupons applicable thereto on the property and facilities, or any part thereof (including any after-acquired property) out of the revenues from which such bonds are made payable. The said resolution of the Authority of the said trust indenture may provide for the filing of record in the office of the judge of probate of each county in which any property and facilities, or any part thereof may be located of a notice containing a brief description of such bonds and a declaration that said statutory mortgage lien has been created for the benefit of the holders of such bonds and the interest coupons applicable thereto upon such property and facilities, or any thereof, including additions thereto and extensions thereof. Each judge of probate shall receive and record and index any such notice filed for record in his office. The recording of such notice, as provided in this Section, shall operate as constructive notice of the contents thereof.

Section 8. Same - Use of proceeds from sale. All moneys derived from the sale of any bonds issued by the Authority shall be used solely for the purpose or purposes for which the same are authorized and any costs and expenses incidental thereto. Such costs and expenses may include, but shall not be limited to:

(1) The fiscal, engineering, legal and other expenses incurred in connection with the issuance and sale of the bonds;

(2) In the case of bonds issued to pay costs of the Authority, interest on such bonds (or, if a part only of bonds of any series is issued for construction purposes, interest on that portion of the bonds of that series that is issued to pay construction costs) prior to and during such construction; and

(3) In the case of bonds issued for the purpose of refunding principal and interest or either with respect to bonds issued or obligations assumed by the Authority, any premium that it may be necessary to pay in order to redeem or retire the bonds or other obligations to be refunded.

Section 9. Exemptions from taxation; payment of fees, costs. The property and income of the Authority, all bonds issued by the Authority, the income from such bonds or from any other sources, the interest and other profits from such bonds enuring to and received by the holders thereof, conveyances by and to the Authority and leases, mortgages and deeds of trust by and to the Authority shall be exempt from all taxation in the state of Alabama. The Authority shall not be obligated to pay or allow the payment of any fees, taxes or costs to the secretary of state in connection with its incorporation or with any amendment to its certificate of incorporation or otherwise or to any judge of probate of any county in connection with the recording by it of any document or otherwise, the Authority being hereby exempted from the payment of any such fees, taxes or costs. No license or excise tax may be imposed by any Authority with respect to the privilege of engaging in any of the activities by this Act.

Section 10. Venue and Jurisdiction of Actions Pertaining to Bonds. The Authority's legal situs or residence for the purpose of this Act shall be Montgomery County. Any action to protect or enforce any rights under the provisions of this Act, including the validation of obligations issued by the Authority as herein permitted, shall be brought in the Circuit Court of Montgomery County, Alabama, and said Court shall have exclusive original jurisdiction of all such actions.

Section 11. Interest of Bondholders Protected. While any of the revenue bonds issued by the Authority remain outstanding, the powers, duties or existence of the Authority or of any of its officers shall not be diminished or impaired in any manner that will affect adversely the interest and rights of the holders of such revenue bonds. The provisions of this Act shall be for the benefit of the State, the Authority and the holders of any such revenue bonds, and, upon issuance of the revenue bonds as herein provided, such provisions shall constitute a contract with the holders of such revenue bonds. The provisions of any bond resolution, indenture, or trust agreement shall be a contract with every holder of such revenue bonds and the duties of the Authority under any such bond resolution, indenture or trust agreement shall be enforceable by any bondholder by mandamus or other appropriate suit, action, or proceeding at law or in equity.

Section 12. Moneys Received by the Authority Considered Trust Funds. All moneys received by the Authority pursuant to this Act shall be deemed to be trust funds for the holders of the bonds and interest coupons thereto appertaining and shall be held and applied for the benefit of the bondholders of the respective issues as provided in this Act and as provided in the authorizing resolutions of the Authority.

Section 13. Projects; Title. The Authority may hold title to any Project financed by it but shall not be required to do so.

Section 14. Severability. The provisions of this Act are severable. If any part of the Act is declared invalid or unconstitutional, such declaration shall not affect the part which remains.

Section 15. Repealer. All laws or parts of laws which conflict with this Act are hereby repealed.

Section 16. Effective Date. This Act shall become effective immediately upon its passage and approval by the Governor, or upon its otherwise becoming a law.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION

URGING IMMEDIATE TRIAL AND SWIFT PUNISHMENT OF THOSE RESPONSIBLE FOR THE BRUTAL AND SAVAGE ATTACK UPON A YOUNG MONTGOMERY WOMAN ON JUNE 23, 1979.

WHEREAS, in shock and utter disbelief, this body is unable to even comprehend such depravity as that displayed by those responsible for the savage and brutal rape of a young Montgomery woman on June 23, 1979; and

WHEREAS, shown no mercy, the young mentally retarded victim was then shot three times and left for dead by ruthless savages who themselves deserve no mercy at the hands of those who must decide their fate; and

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF ALABAMA, BOTH HOUSES THEREOF CONCURRING, That such brutal lawlessness cannot and will not be tolerated in the State of Alabama, and we hereby demand justice, swift and certain, for the despicable degenerates who would commit such crimes against a young woman, childlike in mentality and in her trust of others.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That authorities are urged to bring those perpetrators to trial at the earliest possible moment as a possible deterrent to others would commit such atrocities.

AN ACT

To amend Sections 5-18-2, 5-18-4, 5-18-10, 5-18-13, 5-18-15, 5-18-17 and 5-18-18 so as to increase the size of loans covered under the Alabama Small Loan Act and further provide for insurance relating to loans under its provisions.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of Alabama:

Section 1. Sections 5-18-2, 5-18-4, 5-18-10, 5-18-13, 5-18-15 and 5-18-18 are amended to read as follows:

“§ 5-18-2.

“(a) The legislature finds as facts and determines that:

“(1) There exists among citizens of this state a widespread demand for small loans. The scope and intensity of this demand have been increased progressively by many social and economic forces;

“(2) The expense of making and collecting small loans, which are usually made on comparatively unsubstantial security to wage earners, salaried employees and other persons of relatively low incomes, is necessarily high in relation to the amounts lent;

“(3) Such loans cannot be made profitably under the limitations imposed by existing laws relating to interest and usury. These limitations have tended to exclude lawful enterprises from the small loan field. Since the demand for small loans cannot be legislated out of existence, many small borrowers have been left to the mercy of those willing to bear the opprobrium and risk the penalties of usury for a large profit;

“(4) Interest charges are often disguised by the use of subterfuges to evade the usury law. These subterfuges are so complicated and technical that the usual borrower of small sums is defenseless even if he is aware of the usurious nature of the transaction and of his legal rights;

“(5) As a result, borrowers of small sums are being exploited to the injury of the borrower, his dependents and the general public. Charges are generally exorbitant in relation to those necessary to the conduct of a legitimate small loan business, trickery and fraud are common and oppressive collection practices are prevalent; and

“(6) These evils characterize and distinguish loans of $749.00 or less. Legislation to control this class of loans is necessary to protect the public welfare.

“(b) It is the intent of the legislature in enacting this law to bring under public supervision those engaged in the business of making such loans, to eliminate practices that facilitate abuse of borrowers, to establish a system of regulation for the purpose of insuring honest and efficient small loan service and of stimulating competitive reductions in charges, to allow lenders who meet the conditions of this chapter a rate of charge sufficiently high to permit a business profit and to provide the administrative machinery necessary for effective enforcement.

“(a) License required.--No person shall engage in the business of lending in amounts of $749.00 or less and contract for, exact or receive, directly or indirectly, on or in connection with any such loan, any charges whether for interest, insurance, compensation, consideration or expense, which in the aggregate are greater than the interest that the lender would be permitted by law to charge for a loan of money if he were not a licensee under this chapter, except as provided in and authorized by this chapter and without first having obtained a license from the supervisor. For the purpose of this section, a loan shall be deemed to be in the amount of $749.00 or less if the net amount or value advanced to or on behalf of the borrower, after deducting all payments for interest, expenses and charges of any nature taken substantially contemporaneously with the making of the loan, does not exceed $749.00.

“(b) Exemptions.--This chapter shall not apply to any person doing business under the authority of, and as permitted by, any law of this state or of the United States relating to banks, trust companies, savings or building and loan associations, credit unions as defined by law nor to any lawful, bona fide pawnbroking business, nor shall this chapter apply to any person making loans to their tenants engaged in agriculture, nor to loans by agricultural suppliers to persons whose principal business is farming, nor shall it apply to agricultural credit corporations or associations organized under an act of the congress of the United States, nor shall it apply to the business of financing the purchase of motor vehicles, refrigerators or other personal property, nor shall it apply to loans insured or guaranteed by the United States or any of its agencies.

“(c) Evasions.--The provisions of subsection (a) of this section shall apply to any person who seeks to evade its application by any device, subterfuge or pretense whatsoever including, but not thereby limiting the generality of the foregoing: the loan, forbearance, use or sale of credit (as guarantor, surety, endorser, comaker or otherwise), money, insurance, goods or things in action; the use of collateral or related sales or purchases of goods or services or agreements to sell or purchase, whether real or pretended; and, receiving or charging compensation for goods or services, whether or not sold, delivered or provided and the real or pretended negotiation, arrangement or procurement of a loan through any use of activity of a third person, whether real or fictitious.

“(d) Penalties.--Whoever violates or participates in the violation of any provision of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punishable by a fine of not more than $500.00 nor less than $100.00, or by imprisonment in the discretion of the court. Any contract of loan in the making or collection of which any act shall have been done which violates this section shall be void, and the lender shall have no right to collect, receive or retain any principal, interest or charges whatsoever.

“(a) Annual examinations of licensees.--At least once each year and at such other time as may be deemed necessary by the supervisor of the bureau of loans, an examination shall be made of the place of business of each licensee and of the loans, transactions, books, papers and records of such licensee so far as they pertain to the business licensed under this chapter. As cost of examination, the licensee shall pay to the bureau of loans the actual cost of each examination, the amount of which shall be reasonably prescribed under rules and regulations promulgated by the Superintendent of Banks; provided, however, the cost for each day of examination by each examiner shall not exceed eight (8) times the average hourly rate for auditing purposes as charged by three (3) recognized certified public accountancy firms in the City of Montgomery, Alabama. In addition thereto, the licensee shall pay as per diem the amount authorized by law for state employees traveling inside the state in the service of the state. All such fees shall be paid into the special fund set up by the State Treasury pursuant to Title 5-1-5, Code of Alabama 1975, and used in the supervision and examination of licensees.

“(b) Investigations.--For the purpose of discovering violations of this chapter or of securing information lawfully required hereunder, the supervisor or his duly authorized representatives may at any time investigate the business and examine the books, accounts, papers and records used therein of (1) any licensee, (2) any other person engaged in the business described in subsection (a) of section 5-18-4 or participating in such business as principal, agent, broker or otherwise and (3) any person who the supervisor has reasonable cause to believe is violating or is about to violate any provisions of this chapter, whether or not such person shall claim to be within the authority or beyond the scope of this chapter. For purposes of this section, any person who shall advertise for, solicit or hold himself out as willing to make loan transactions in the amount or of the value of $749.00 or less shall be presumed to be engaged in the business described in subsection (a) of section 5-18-4.

“(c) Access to records; witnessess.--For the purposes of this section, the supervisor or his duly authorized representatives shall have and be given free access to the offices and places of business, files, safes and vaults of all such persons and shall have the authority to require the attendance of any person and to examine him under oath relative to such loans or such business or to the subject matter of any examination, investigation or hearing.

“(d) Cease and desist orders; injunctions; receivers.--Whenever the supervisor has reasonable cause to believe that any person is violating or is threatening to or intends to violate any provision of this chapter, he may in addition to all actions provided for in this chapter and in addition to all other remedies that he may have at law and without prejudice thereto enter an order requiring such person to desist or to refrain from such violation, and an action may be brought on the relation of the attorney general or the supervisor to enjoin such person from engaging in or continuing such violation or from doing any act or acts in furtherance thereof. In any such action, an order or judgment may be entered awarding such preliminary or final injunction as may be deemed proper. In addition to all other means provided by law for the enforcement of a restraining order or injunction, the court in which such action is brought shall have power and jurisdiction to impound and to appoint a receiver for the property and business of the defendant, including books, papers, documents and records pertaining thereto or so much thereof as the court may deem reasonably necessary to prevent violations of this chapter through or by means of the use of said property and business. Such receiver, when appointed and qualified, shall have such powers and duties as to custody, collection, administration, winding up and liquidation of such property and business as shall from time to time be conferred upon him by the court.

“(a) Advertising, etc.--No licensee or other person subject to this chapter shall advertise, display, distribute or broadcast or cause to permit to be advertised, displayed, distributed or broadcast in any manner whatsoever any false, misleading or deceptive statement or representation with regard to the rates, terms or conditions for loans in the amount or of the value of $749.00 or less. The supervisor may require that charges or rates of charge, if stated by a licensee, be stated fully and clearly in such manner as he may deem necessary to prevent misunderstanding thereof by prospective borrowers. The supervisor may permit or require licensees to refer in their advertising to the fact that their business is under state supervision, subject to conditions imposed by him to prevent an erroneous impression as to the scope or degree of protections provided by this chapter.

“(b) Schedule of charges.--Each licensee shall prominently display in each licensed place of business a full and accurate schedule of the rates of charge upon all classes of loans currently to be made by him.

“(a) Maximum rates of interest and charge.--Every licensee under this chapter may contract for and receive interest on any loan of money not exceeding $749.00 an amount at a rate not exceeding three percent a month on that part of the unpaid principal balance not in excess of $200.00, two percent a month on that part of the unpaid principal balance in excess of $200.00 but not exceeding $749.00.

“(b) Charges on loans of seventy-five dollars or less.--On a cash advance of $75.00 or less a licensee may charge, in lieu of the charges specified in subsection (a) of this section, not in excess of $1.00 for each $5.00 of cash advanced to the borrower, up to the amount of $75.00, and a period of at least 15 days must be allowed for the repayment of each $5.00 of the cash advanced. Such charges cannot be assessed by any subterfuge or device on any loan over $75.00 or on any balance of $75.00 or less when the original cash advanced was greater than $75.00.

“(c) Method of computing charges.

“(1) Interest or charges on loans made under this chapter shall not be paid, deducted, discounted or received in advance or compounded, but the rate of charge authorized by this section may be precomputed as provided in subdivision (2) of this subsection. For the purpose of this section one month shall be that period of time from any date in a month to a corresponding date in the next month and, if there is not such corresponding date, then to the next day of the next month, and a day shall be considered one thirtieth of a month when computation is made for a fraction of a month.

“(2) When the loan contract requires repayment in substantially equal and consecutive monthly installments of principal and charges or interest combined, the charges or interest may be precomputed at the agreed monthly or periodic rate not in excess of that provided for in subsection (a) or (b) of this section on scheduled unpaid principal balances according to the terms of the contract and added to the principal of the loan. Every payment may be applied to the combined total of principal and precomputed charge until the contract is fully paid. The acceptance or payment of charges on loans made under the provisions of this subsection shall not be deemed to constitute payment, deduction or receipt thereof in advance nor compounding under subdivision (1) above.

“(d) Refunds.

“(1) When any loan contract is paid in full by cash, a new loan, renewal or otherwise one month or more before the final installment date, the licensee shall refund or credit the borrower with that portion of the total charges which shall be due the borrower as determined by schedules prepared under the rule of seventy-eighths or sum of the digits principle as follows: The amount of the refund or credit shall be as great a proportion of the total charges originally contracted for as the sum of the periodic time balances of the contract schedules to follow the date of prepayment bears to the sum of all the periodic time balances of the contract, both sums to be determined according to the payment schedule originally contracted for.

“(2) If the loan contract is not prepaid in full but becomes partially prepaid in an amount equal to three or more installments, the licensee shall reduce the balance due by the amount that would be required to be refunded for prepayment in full on the date of such partial prepayment and compute charges as payments are made thereafter in the manner prescribed in subdivision (1) of subsection (c) of this section, or the licensee may with the consent of the borrower reschedule the remaining installments and precompute charges as prescribed in subdivision (2) of subsection (c) of this section.

“(e) Default or extension charges.--If the contract so provides, the additional charge for any installment past due 15 or more days, whether by reason of default or extension agreement, may be three percent of the installment past due, and said amount may be charged once and no more. It is the intent of this subsection that if the payment date of all wholly unpaid installments is deferred or extended one or more full months and the contract so provides, the licensee may charge and collect a deferment or default charge only on the installment which is delinquent at the date the contract is extended or deferred.

“(f) Rules and regulations.--In addition to the general authority granted to him by subsection (a) of section 5-18-12, the supervisor shall have power and authority to make such rules and regulations as he may deem necessary or advisable to insure that rebates, default charges and deferment charges are so computed, paid to or collected from borrowers that the total charges collected by licensees under subdivision (2) of subsection (c) of this section are substantially equivalent to charges authorized to be collected by licensees under subsection (a) or (b) of this section.

“(g) Recording fees.--The licensee may collect from the borrower the actual fees paid a public official or agency of the state for filing, recording or releasing any instrument securing the loan.

“(h) Further charges; splitting of contracts; certain contracts void.--No further or other charges shall be directly or indirectly contracted for or received by any licensee, including insurance premiums of any kind, except those specifically authorized by this chapter. No licensee shall divide into separate parts any contract made for the purpose of or with the effect of obtaining charges in excess of those authorized by this section. All balances due to a licensee from any person as a borrower, or as an endorser, guarantor or surety for any borrower or otherwise, or due from any husband or wife, jointly or severally, shall be considered a part of any loan being made by a licensee to such person for the purpose of computing charges. If any amount in excess of the charges permitted by this section is charged, contracted for or received, except as the result of an accidental and bona fide error of computation, the contract of loan shall be void and the licensee shall have no right to collect or receive any cash advanced, charges or recompense whatsoever, and the licensee and the several members, officers, directors, agents and employees thereof who shall have participated in such violation shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punishable by a fine of not more than $500.00 and not less than $100.00 or by imprisonment of not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court. Any borrower may recover the full amount of principal and charges paid by him on any contract made in violation of this section, together with a reasonable attorney fee, by an action at law brought within 12 months from the date of the last payment of principal or charges on such contract.

“(i) Installment payments; contract period.--No licensee shall enter into any contract of loan under this chapter in which the borrower agrees to make any scheduled repayment of the cash advance more than 25 calendar months from the date of making such contract or loan. Every loan contract shall require payment of the cash advance and charges in installments which shall be payable at approximately equal periodic intervals; except, that payment dates may be omitted to accommodate borrowers with seasonal incomes. No installment contracted for shall be substantially larger than any preceding installment.

“(j) Interest after due date of final installment.--Interest as provided in this section shall not accrue or be recovered or charged on any loan made under this chapter for any longer than six months after the due date of the final installment of principal or interest. Be It Enacted by the Legislature of Alabama:

Section 1. Section 5-19-3, Code of Alabama 1975 is hereby amended to read as follows:

“(a) The maximum finance charge for any loan or forbearance and for any credit sale, except under open-end credit plans, may equal but not exceed the total of the following:

“(1) Fifteen dollars per $100.00 per year for the first $750.00 of the original principal amount of the loan or amount financed; and

“(2) Ten dollars per $100.00 per year for that portion of the original principal amount of the loan or original amount financed exceeding $750.00 and not exceeding $2,000.00; and

“(3) Eight dollars per $100.00 per year for that portion of the original principal amount of the loan or original amount financed exceeding $2,000.00.

“(b) The maximum finance charge under subsection (a) of this section shall be determined by computing the maximum rates authorized by subsection (a) on the original principal amount of the loan or original amount financed for the full term of the contract without regard to scheduled payments and the maximum finance charge so determined, or any lesser amount, may be added to the original amount financed.

“(c) If the debt is created under an open-end credit plan, the maximum finance charge in connection therewith shall be one and one-half percent per month on the unpaid balance from time to time thereunder.

“(d) A creditor, in connection with any credit sale other than a sale made under an open-end credit plan, may contract for and

“(1) Charges shall be computed on unpaid balances of the principal amount outstanding from time to time, for the actual time outstanding. Each payment shall be applied first to accumulated charges and the remainder of the payment applied to the unpaid principal balance, except that if the amount of the payment is insufficient to pay the accumulated charges, unpaid charges continue to accumulate to be paid from the proceeds of subsequent payments and are not added to the principal balance.

“(2) Creditors shall not make charges under this subsection payable in advance, nor may charges be compounded; however, if part of all of the consideration for a new loan contract is the unpaid principal balance of a prior loan, then the principal amount payable under such new loan contract may include any unpaid charges which have accrued. The resulting loan contract shall be deemed a new and separate loan transaction for all purposes.

“The principal balance of a loan on which charges have been made pursuant to Subsection (a) shall be the balance due after refund or credit is given the borrower.

“Borrowers under this subsection may pay in advance the principal balance, including any charges, of a loan contract without penalty.

“For purposes of computing charges for a fraction of a month, a day shall be considered one-thirtieth of a month.

The said governing body shall consider the said application and shall find and determine whether it is wise, expedient, necessary or advisable that the Authority be formed; if the said governing body finds and determines that it is not wise, expedient, necessary or advisable that the Authority be formed, it shall deny the application, but if it finds and determines that it is wise, expedient, necessary or advisable that the Authority be formed and if it approves the proposed form of the certificate of incorporation of the Authority, the governing body shall adopt a resolution declaring that it has reviewed the application and has found and determined as a matter of fact that it is wise, expedient, necessary or advisable that the Authority be formed and declaring that it has approved the proposed form of certificate of incorporation of the Authority. The certificate of incorporation shall be signed and acknowledged by the Incorporators before an officer authorized by the laws of the State to take acknowledgments to deeds. When the certificate of incorporation is filed for record, there shall be attached to it (a) a certified copy of the resolution adopted by the governing body of the Determining Municipality in accordance with this Section 3 and (b) a certificate by the Secretary of State that the name proposed for the Authority is not identical to that of any other corporation organized under the laws of the State or so nearly similar thereto as to lead to confusion and uncertainty. The Judge of Probate shall promptly examine all such documents and shall determine whether they are complete and regular on their face and whether the form and content of the certificate of incorporation comply with the provisions of this Act. If the Judge of Probate shall find that all such documents are complete and regular on their face and that the form and content of the certificate of incorporation comply with the provisions of this Act, he shall require all such documents to be recorded in the permanent records maintained in his office. Upon the filing of the said documents, the Authority shall come into existence and shall constitute a public corporation and instrumentality of the State under the name set forth in the said certificate of incorporation. The Judge of Probate shall thereupon send a notice to the Secretary of State that the certificate of incorporation of the Authority has been filed for record.

The authorization of the incorporation of one Authority shall not preclude the authorization by the governing body of any Municipality of the incorporation of other such Authorities; provided, that such other Authorities shall be required to adopt names or designations sufficient to distinguish them from any Authority theretofore incorporated.

Section 4. Amendments to Certificate of Incorporation. The certificate of incorporation of any Authority may at any time and from time to time be amended in the manner provided in this Section 4. The Board of the Authority shall first adopt a resolution proposing an amendment to the certificate of incorporation, which amendment shall be set forth in full in the said resolution and may include any matters which might have been included in the original certificate of incorporation of any Authority organized on the date of the adoption of the said resolution proposing the amendment.

After the adoption by the Board of a resolution proposing an amendment to the certificate of incorporation of any Authority, the Board shall file a written application with the governing body of the Determining Municipality. Such application shall (i) state that it is wise, expedient, necessary or advisable for the said amendment to be made and (ii) request that the governing body of the Determining Municipality adopt a resolution declaring that it has reviewed the application and has found and determined as a matter of fact that it is wise, expedient, necessary or advisable for the said amendment to be made. Every such application shall be accompanied by a certified copy of the said resolution adopted by the Board proposing the said amendment to the certificate of incorporation, together with such documents in support of the application as the Board may consider appropriate. As promptly as may be practicable after the filing of the said application with it, the governing body of the Determining Municipality shall review the said application and shall find and determine whether it is wise, expedient, necessary or advisable for the said amendment to be made. In finding and determining whether it is wise, expedient, necessary or advisable for the said amendment to be made, the said governing body may consider, in conjunction with any other factors, — it may deem relevant, alternative means of accomplishing any lawful objective or purpose of the said amendment affecting the public interest. If the said governing body finds and determines that it is wise, expedient, necessary or advisable for the said amendment to be made, it shall adopt a resolution declaring that it has reviewed the said application and has found and determined as a matter of fact that it is wise, expedient, necessary or advisable for the said amendment to be made; if the said governing body finds and determines that it is not wise, expedient, necessary or advisable for the said amendment to be made, it shall deny the application.

Within forty (40) days following the adoption by the governing body of the Determining Municipality of a resolution finding and determining as a matter of fact that it is wise, expedient, necessary or advisable for said amendment to be made, the chairman of the Authority and the secretary of the Authority shall sign, and file for record in the office of the Judge of Probate of the County in which the certificate of incorporation of the Authority was filed, a certificate in the name of and in behalf of the Authority, under its seal, reciting the adoption of said respective resolutions by the Board and by the said governing body, and setting forth the said proposed amendment. If the proposed amendment provides for a change in the name of the Authority, there shall be filed, together with the certificate required by the immediately preceding sentence, a certificate by the Secretary of State showing that the proposed new name of the Authority is not identical to that of any other corporation then in existence and organized under the laws of the State, or so nearly similar to that of any other such corporation as to lead to confusion and uncertainty. The Judge of Probate shall promptly examine each such certificate and shall determine whether it is complete and regular on its face and whether the proposed amendment complies with the provisions of this Act. If the Judge of Probate shall find that each such certificate is complete and regular on its face and that the proposed amendment complies with the provisions of this Act, he shall require each such certificate to be recorded in the permanent records maintained in his office. Upon the filing of the aforesaid certificates, the said amendment to the certificate of incorporation shall become effective. If the proposed amendment effects a change in the name of the Authority, the Judge of Probate shall promptly send a notice to the Secretary of State, advising him of such change.

Section 5. Board of Directors. Every Authority shall be governed by a board of directors. All powers of the Authority shall be exercised by the Board or pursuant to its authorization. The Board shall consist of three Directors elected in the manner hereinafter prescribed, as soon as may be practicable after the organization of the Authority, by the governing body of the Determining Municipality for staggered terms as follows: the first term of one Director shall begin immediately upon his election and shall end at noon on the second Monday of November of the next succeeding odd-numbered calendar year following his election; the first term of another Director shall begin immediately upon his election and shall end at noon on the second Monday of November of the second succeeding odd-numbered calendar year following his election; and the first term of the remaining Director shall begin immediately upon his election and shall end at noon on the second Monday of November of the third succeeding odd-numbered calendar year following his election. Thereafter, the term of office of each Director shall be six years, commencing at noon on the second Monday of November when the term of the immediate predecessor Director ended. If at any time there should be a vacancy on the Board, a successor Director to serve for the unexpired term applicable to such vacancy shall be elected by the governing body of the Determining Municipality. Each election of a Director subsequent to the selection of the initial Directors, whether for a full six-year term or to complete an unexpired term, shall be made not earlier than thirty days prior to the date on which such Director is to take office as such. If the term of office being served by any Director shall expire prior to the election of such Director for a new term or prior to the election of his successor by the governing body of the Determining Municipality, such Director shall continue to serve until his successor is elected and qualified, and if such Director is elected for a new term after the expiration of the immediately preceding term which he has been serving, his new term of office shall be deemed to have commenced as of the expiration of such immediately preceding term.

No officer of the State or of any County or Municipality shall, during his tenure as such officer, be eligible to serve as a Director. Each Director must be a qualified elector and the owner of real property in the Determining Municipality. Directors shall be eligible for re-election. Each Director shall serve without compensation, except that he may be reimbursed for expenses actually incurred by him in and about the performance of his duties. No Director shall vote on or participate in the discussion or consideration of any matter coming before the Board in which he, his immediate family, or any business enterprise with which he is associated has any direct or indirect pecuniary interest; provided, however, that when any such matter is brought before the Board any Director having an interest therein which may be in conflict with his obligations as a Director shall immediately make a complete disclosure to the Board of any direct or indirect pecuniary interest he may have in such matter prior to removing himself and withdrawing from the Board's deliberations and vote on the matter presented. A majority of the Directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. No vacancy in the membership of the Board or the voluntary disqualification or abstention of any member thereof shall impair the right of a quorum to exercise all of the powers and duties of the Authority. Any Director of an Authority may be impeached and removed from office in the same manner and on the same grounds provided by Section 175 of the Constitution of Alabama, or successor provision thereof, and the general laws of the State for impeachment and removal of the officers mentioned in said Section 175, or successor provisions thereof. All proceedings of the Board shall be reduced to writing by the secretary of the Authority and maintained in the permanent records of the Authority. Copies of such proceedings, when certified by the secretary of the Authority under the seal of the Authority, shall be received in all courts as evidence of the matters therein certified.

Section 6. Officers of the Authority. The officers of an Authority shall consist of a chairman, vice chairman, secretary, treasurer and such other officers as its Board shall deem necessary or appropriate. The offices of secretary and treasurer may but need not be held by the same person. The chairman and vice chairman of an Authority shall be elected by the Board from the membership thereof; the secretary, the treasurer, and any other officers of the Authority may but need not be members of the Board and shall also be elected by the Board. The chairman, vice chairman and secretary of the Authority shall also be the chairman, vice chairman and secretary of the Board, respectively.

Section 7. Powers of Authority. (a) Every Authority shall have all of the powers necessary and convenient to carry out and effectuate the purposes and provisions of this Act, including (without limiting the generality of the foregoing) the following powers:

(1) to have succession in its corporate name for the duration of time (which may be in perpetuity, subject to the provisions of Section 21 hereof) specified in its certificate of incorporation;

(2) to sue and be sued in its own name in civil suits and actions and to defend suits against it;

(3) to adopt and make use of a corporate seal and to alter the same at pleasure;

(4) to adopt, alter and repeal bylaws, regulations and rules, not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, for the regulation and conduct of its affairs and business;

(5) to acquire, whether by gift, purchase, transfer, foreclosure, lease or otherwise, and to expand, improve, maintain, equip and furnish one or more Facilities, including all real and personal properties that its Board may deem necessary in connection therewith, regardless of whether or not any such Facility shall then be in existence and, if in existence, regardless of whether or not any such Facility is then owned or leased by any User to which such Facility may subsequently be sold or leased by such Authority;

(6) to borrow money and to sell and issue bonds, notes or other obligations as hereinafter provided for any corporate use or purpose;

(7) to lease to a User or Users any or all Facilities that may be owned by it, to charge and collect rent therefor and to terminate any such lease upon the failure of the lessee to comply with any of the obligations thereof, all upon such terms and conditions as its Board may deem advisable;

(8) to contract to sell and convey, and to sell and convey, to a User or Users any or all Facilities that may be owned by it and to grant options to any User or Users to purchase any or all Facilities that may be owned by it, all for such consideration and upon such terms and conditions as its Board may deem advisable;

(9) to lend, upon such terms and conditions as its Board may deem advisable, all or any portion of the proceeds derived from the issuance of its bonds, notes or obligations to a User, whether pursuant to one or more loan agreements or in conjunction with the lease or sale of one or more Facilities to such User or the purchase of an Authorized Purpose Obligation relating to a Facility or Facilities operated by such User, for one or more or any combination of the following purposes: (i) to enable such User to borrow an amount not substantially in excess of the equity (determined on any basis not resulting in a higher value for any Facility in question than the estimated replacement cost or the appraised market value thereof, whichever may be greater) which such User may then have in any Facility or Facilities; (ii) to enable such User to refinance any outstanding indebtedness incurred or assumed in connection with the acquisition, improvement or operation of any existing Facility or Facilities; (iii) to enable such User to finance the costs of acquiring (by purchase, construction or otherwise) one or more Facilities and/or the costs of expanding or improving one or more Facilities, regardless of whether any such Facility has theretofore been owned or leased by such User or is to be acquired or leased by such User; and (iv) to enable such User to borrow working capital for use in the operation of one or more

Facilities;

(10) to contract to acquire, hold, pledge, assign, sell and transfer, and to acquire, hold, pledge, assign, sell and transfer, one or more Authorized Purpose Obligations that are entered into or issued in whole or in part with respect to one or more Facilities;

(11) to pledge for payment of any bonds, notes or obligations issued by the Authority any revenues from which such bonds, notes or obligations are payable as herein provided, and to mortgage or pledge any or all of its Facilities or any part or parts thereof or any Authorized Purpose Obligation, whether then owned or thereafter acquired, and to pledge the revenues, rentals and receipts therefrom or from any part thereof or any revenues from which such bonds are payable as herein provided as security for the payment of the principal of and the interest and premium (if any) on any bonds, notes or obligations so issued and any agreements made in connection therewith;

(12) to make, enter into, and execute such contracts, agreements, leases and other instruments and to take such other actions as may be necessary or convenient to accomplish any purpose for which such Authority was organized or to exercise any power expressly granted hereunder;

(13) to enter into contracts with, to accept aid, loans and grants from, to cooperate with, and to do any and all things not specifically prohibited by this Act or the Constitution or other applicable laws of the State that may be necessary in order to avail itself of the aid and cooperation of the United States of America, the State or any agency, instrumentality or political subdivision of either thereof in furtherance of the purposes of this Act;

(14) to receive and accept from any source aid or contributions in the form of money, property, labor or other things of value, to be held, used and applied to carry out the purposes of this Act, subject to any lawful condition upon which such aid or contributions may be given or made;

(15) to appoint, employ and contract with such employees and agents, including but not limited to architects, engineers, attorneys, accountants, financial experts, fiscal agents, and such other advisors, consultants and agents as may in its judgment be necessary or desirable, and to fix their compensation;

(16) to enter into a management contract or contracts with any governmental agency, nonprofit organization or private business entity as may in the judgment of such Authority be necessary or desirable in order to perform more efficiently or economically various clerical, accounting and administrative functions for which it may become responsible in the exercise of the powers conferred upon it by this Act;

(17) to procure insurance against any loss in connection with its property and other assets in such amounts and from such insurers as its Board may deem desirable;

(18) to the extent permitted by the contracts of such Authority with the holders of its bonds, notes and other obligations and if not otherwise specifically prohibited by any other provision of this Act, to invest its moneys (including, without limitation, (i) the moneys held in any special fund created pursuant to any trust indenture or resolution securing any of its bonds, notes or other obligations and (ii) proceeds from the sale of any bonds or notes) not required for immediate use in Eligible Investments;

(19) to include in any borrowing by such Authority such amounts as may be deemed necessary by its Board to pay bond discount, commissions or other financing charges, interest on the obligations issued in evidence of such borrowing for such period as its Board shall deem advisable, fees and expenses of financial advisors and planning and management consultants, all legal, accounting, publishing, printing, recording and filing fees and expenses, and such other expenses as shall be necessary or incident to such borrowing;

(20) to the extent permitted by its contracts with the holders of its bonds, notes and other obligations, to purchase bonds or notes of such Authority out of any of its funds or moneys available therefor, and to hold, cancel or resell such bonds or notes;

(21) to procure or agree to the procurement of insurance or guarantees from the United States of America or any agency or instrumentality thereof, or from any private insurance company, of the payment of any bonds, notes or any other obligations issued by such Authority, and to pay premiums or fees for any such insurance or guarantees; and

(22) to do any and all things necessary or convenient to carry out its purposes and to exercise its powers pursuant to the provisions of this Act.

(b) No Authority shall have the power to operate any Facility other than as a lessor thereof; provided, however, that the foregoing restriction on the power of any Authority to operate any Facility shall not be construed to prohibit, limit or impair (i) the right of such Authority to terminate any lease of any Facility that is in default, to take possession of such Facility and to operate the same for such temporary period as may be necessary to protect and enforce the rights and remedies of the holders of any of its notes or bonds and (ii) to exercise any other right or remedy which may be necessary to prevent or cure any default under any contract of such Authority which provides for or relates to the security for any of its notes, bonds or other obligations.

Section 8. Bonds and Notes of Authority. Any Authority shall have power to issue from time to time its bonds and notes in such principal amount as its Board shall determine to be necessary to provide sufficient funds for achieving any of its corporate purposes, including the payment of interest on any of its notes and bonds, the establishment of reserves to secure any such notes and bonds and all other expenditures of such Authority incident to and necessary or convenient to carry out its corporate purposes and powers. Any Authority shall also have the power to issue from time to time notes to renew notes and bonds to pay notes, including interest thereon and, whenever it deems refunding expedient, to refund any bonds by the issuance of new bonds, whether the bonds to be refunded have or have not matured, and to issue bonds partly to refund bonds then outstanding and partly for any other of its corporate purposes.

If deemed advisable by the Board of any Authority, there may be retained in the resolution adopted by such Board authorizing the issuance of any bonds or notes an option to redeem all or any part thereof as specified in such resolution at such price or prices and after such notice or notices and on such terms and in such manner as may be provided in such resolution and as may be recited in summary form on the face of the bonds or notes; provided, that any bond of any Authority having a specified maturity more than fifteen (15) years after its date shall be made subject to redemption at the option of such Authority at the expiration of fifteen (15) years from its date and on any interest payment date thereafter at such price or prices and after such notice or notices and on such terms and in such manner as may be provided in the resolution adopted by the Board of such Authority authorizing the issuance of such bond. Any Authority may pay all expenses, premiums and commissions which its Board may deem necessary and advantageous in connection with the issuance of any of its bonds or notes. Issuance by any Authority of one or more series of bonds for one or more purposes shall not preclude it from issuing other bonds, but the resolutions whereunder any subsequent bonds may be issued shall recognize and protect any prior pledge or mortgage made for the benefit of any prior issue of bonds unless in the proceedings authorizing such prior issue the right was reserved to issue subsequent bonds on a parity with such prior issue.

Notes or bonds issued by any Authority may, as its Board may deem advisable, be either general obligations of such Authority or limited obligations payable only out of certain specified revenues or assets of such Authority; provided that any Authority may enter into contracts with the holders of any of its bonds or notes preventing such Authority from thereafter issuing general obligation bonds or notes or limiting the amount of such bonds or notes that may thereafter be issued. To the extent permitted by any contracts with the holders of outstanding bonds and notes and any other contractual obligations or requirements, any Authority may pledge any of its revenues or mortgage or assign any of its assets (whether real or personal and whether tangible or intangible) to secure the payment of any of its bonds or notes.

All obligations created or assumed by any Authority and all bonds or notes issued thereby shall be solely and exclusively an obligation of such Authority and shall not create an obligation or debt of the State, the Determining Municipality, or any other political subdivision of the State or public corporation or governmental agency existing under the laws thereof; provided, that the provisions of this sentence shall not be construed to release the original obligor from liability on any bond or other obligation assumed by any Authority.

The notes and bonds issued by any Authority shall be authorized by resolution or resolutions adopted by its Board, shall bear such date or dates and shall mature at such time or times as such resolution or resolutions may provide, except that no bond shall mature more than forty-five (45) years from the date of its issue. The bonds of any Authority may be issued as serial bonds payable in annual installments or as term bonds or as a combination thereof. The notes and bonds of any Authority shall bear interest at such rate or rates, be in such form and denominations, either coupon or registered, carry such registration privileges, be executed by such officers of such Authority and in such manner, be payable in such medium of payment, at such place or places within or without the State and be subject to such terms of redemption as may be provided in the resolution or resolutions by which they are authorized to be issued. The notes and bonds of any Authority may be sold by such Authority at public or private sale, at such price or prices as such Authority shall determine.

Any resolution or resolutions authorizing bonds or notes of any Authority may contain provisions, which shall constitute a part of the contract or contracts with the holders of such bonds or notes, pertaining to, among other things, the following matters:

- (1) pledging all or any part of the revenues of such Authority to secure the payment of such bonds or notes, subject to contracts with the holders of its then outstanding bonds and notes;

(2) pledging, assigning or mortgaging all or any part of the assets of such Authority to secure the payment of such bonds or notes, subject to contracts with the holders of its then outstanding bonds and notes;

(3) the setting aside of reserves, sinking funds or other funds and the regulation and disposition thereof;

(4) limitations on the purpose to which the proceeds of sale of such notes or bonds may be applied and pledging such proceeds to secure the payment of such bonds or notes;

(5) limitations on the issuance of additional bonds or notes, the terms upon which additional bonds or notes may be issued and secured, and the refunding of outstanding bonds or notes;

(6) the procedure, if any, by which the terms of any contract with the holders of such bonds or notes may be amended or abrogated, the amount of bonds or notes the holders of which must consent thereto and the manner in which such consent may be given;

(7) limitations on the amount of moneys to be expended by such Authority for its operating expenses;

(8) vesting in a trustee or trustees such property, rights, powers and duties as such Authority may determine;

(9) defining the acts or omissions to act that shall constitute a default in the performance of the obligations and duties of such Authority to the holders of such bonds or notes and providing for the rights and remedies of such holders in the event of such default; provided, however, that such rights and remedies shall not be inconsistent with the general laws of the State and the other provisions of this Act; and

(10) any other matters, of like or different character, which in any way affect the security or protection of the holders of such bonds or notes.

Any mortgage of property granted by any Authority, any security interest in property created by it, or any assignment or pledge of revenues or contract rights made by it, in each case to secure the payment of its bonds or notes, shall be valid and binding from the time when such mortgage is granted, such security interest created, or such assignment or pledge is made, as the case may be, and the property so mortgaged, the property with respect to which such security interest is so created, and the revenues and contract rights so assigned or pledged shall immediately (or as soon thereafter as such Authority obtains any right thereto or interest therein) be subject to such mortgage, security interest, assignment or pledge, as the case may be, without physical delivery of any property, revenues or contract documents covered thereby or any further act, and the lien of any such mortgage, security interest, assignment or pledge shall be valid and binding as against all persons having claims of any kind in tort, contract or otherwise against such Authority, irrespective of whether such persons have actual notice thereof, from the time notice of such mortgage, security interest, assignment or pledge is filed for record (i) in the office of the Judge of Probate in which the certificate of incorporation of such Authority was filed for record and (ii) in the case of any mortgage or security interest covering any tangible property, whether real, personal or mixed, in the office of the Judge of Probate of the County in which such property is or is to be located pursuant to any agreement made by such Authority with any User respecting the location and use of such property. Such notice shall contain a statement of the existence of any such mortgage, security interest, assignment or pledge, as the case may be, a description of the property, revenues or contract rights subject thereto and a description of the bonds or notes secured thereby, all in terms sufficient to give notice to a reasonably prudent person of the existence and effect of any such mortgage, security interest, assignment or pledge. If the requirements of the preceding sentence are met, such notice may consist of (i) a summary statement prepared specially for the purpose of serving as such notice, (ii) an executed counterpart of any mortgage, security agreement, assignment, trust indenture or other instrument granting such mortgage, creating such security interest or making such assignment or pledge, as the case may be, or (iii) a certified copy of the resolution adopted by the Board of such Authority authorizing such mortgage, security interest, assignment or pledge, as the case may be.

Any Authority shall have power, subject to contracts with the holders of its then outstanding bonds or notes, to purchase for retirement and cancellation any of its bonds and notes, and to use any of its available funds for such purpose, provided that (i) if such bonds or notes are then redeemable, the purchase price thereof shall not exceed the redemption price then applicable, plus accrued interest thereon to the date of purchase, and (ii) if such bonds or notes are not then redeemable, the purchase price thereof shall not exceed the redemption price applicable on the earliest date after such purchase upon which such bonds or notes become subject to redemption, plus accrued interest thereon to the date of purchase.

The bonds or notes of any Authority may, at the discretion of such Authority, be issued under and secured by a trust indenture or trust indentures by and between such Authority and a corporate trustee, which may be any trust company or bank having the power of a trust company within or without the State. Any such trust indenture may contain such provisions for protecting and enforcing the rights and remedies of bondholders or noteholders as may be reasonable and proper and not in violation of law, including covenants setting forth the duties of such Authority in relation to the exercise of its corporate powers and the custody, safeguarding and application of all moneys. Such Authority may provide by any such trust indenture for the payment to the trustee thereunder or other depository of (i) the proceeds of any bonds or notes issued thereunder and (ii) any revenues pledged for the security of such proceeds and revenues, with such safeguards and restrictions as it may determine. All expenses incurred in connection with such trust indenture may be treated as part of the operating expenses of such Authority.

Whether or not the notes and bonds of any Authority are of such form and character as to be negotiable instruments under the terms of the Alabama Uniform Commercial Code, such notes and bonds are hereby made negotiable instruments within the meaning of the Alabama Uniform Commercial Code and for all purposes thereof, subject only to any registration provisions of such notes and bonds. In case any of the Directors or officers of any Authority whose signatures appear on any notes, bonds or coupons appertaining to any bond shall cease to be such Directors or officers before the delivery of such notes, bonds or coupons, such signatures shall, nevertheless, be valid and sufficient for all purposes to the same extent as if such Directors or officers had remained in office until such delivery.

The Directors and officers of any Authority shall not be subject to any personal liability by reason of the issuance of any bonds or notes of such Authority.

Section 9. Reserve Funds and Other Funds. Any Authority may establish and maintain one or more special debt service reserve funds and such other special fund or funds as may be necessary or desirable for its corporate purposes and may pay into each such fund (i) any moneys contributed or granted to such Authority for the purpose of such fund by any governmental or public entity or any private party, (ii) any proceeds from the sale of bonds or notes to the extent provided in the resolution adopted by the Board of such Authority authorizing the issuance of such bonds or notes and (iii) any other moneys which may be made available to such Authority for the purpose of such fund from any other source or sources.

Section 10. Refunding Obligations - Issuance and Sale. Any Authority may issue refunding bonds or notes (i) for the purpose of refunding any bonds or notes then outstanding which have been issued under the provisions of this Act, including the payment of any redemption premium thereon, any interest accrued or to accrue to the date of maturity or earlier redemption of such bonds or notes, and any expenses of such refunding (including, without limitation to, attorneys' fees, costs of printing the refunding bonds or notes, financial advisors' fees and accountants' fees), and (ii) for the purpose of refunding any of its bonds or notes in combination with any other corporate purpose of such Authority. The issuance of such refunding bonds or notes, the maturities and other details thereof, the rights of the holders thereof, and the rights, duties and obligations of such Authority in respect thereof shall be governed by the provisions of this Act relating to the issuance of bonds and notes generally, to the extent that such provisions may be appropriate therefor.

Refunding bonds or notes issued by any Authority may be sold or exchanged for outstanding bonds or notes issued under this Act and, if sold, the proceeds thereof may be applied, in addition to any other authorized purposes, to the purchase, redemption or payment of such outstanding bonds or notes. Pending the application of the proceeds of any such refunding bonds or notes for any of the purposes provided in this Section 10, such proceeds may be invested in any Eligible Investments pursuant to an escrow agreement providing for the future application of such proceeds in accordance with such purposes.

Section 11. Notes and Bonds as Legal Investments. The notes and bonds of any Authority shall be legal investments in which the State and its agencies and instrumentalities, all Counties, Municipalities and other political subdivisions of the State and public corporations organized under the laws thereof, all insurance companies and associations and other persons carrying on an insurance business, all banks, savings banks, savings and loan associations, trust companies, credit unions and investment companies of any kind, all administrators, guardians, executors, trustees and other fiduciaries, and all other persons whatsoever who are now or may hereafter be authorized to invest in bonds or other obligations of the State, may properly and legally invest funds in their control or belonging to them.

Section 12. Tax Exemption. Every Authority shall exercise its powers in all respects for the benefit of the people of the State, for their well being and for the improvement of their health and social condition, and the exemptions from taxation hereinafter described are hereby granted in order to promote the more effective and economical exercise of such powers.

No income, excise or license tax shall be levied upon or collected in the State with respect to any corporate activities of an Authority or any of its revenues, income or profit. No ad valorem tax or assessment for any public improvement shall be levied upon or collected in the State with respect to any property during any time that title to such property is held by an Authority, including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, (i) any time that such property is leased to a User by an Authority pursuant to a lease which provides that title to such property shall automatically pass to such User upon expiration of the lease term or which gives such User the right to purchase such property from such Authority for a nominal consideration and (ii) any time that title to such property is retained by an Authority pursuant to a contract of sale with a User which provides that title to such property shall not pass to such User until the purchase price thereof has been paid in full.

No privilege or license taxes payable in respect of the recording or filing for record of any mortgage, deed or other instrument (including, without limitation, the privilege taxes now imposed by Chapter 22 of Title 40 of Code of Alabama 1975) shall be levied, charged or collected in connection with the recording or filing for record of (i) any mortgage, deed or other instrument evidencing a conveyance to or the creation of any property interest in an Authority, (ii) any agreement or instrument to which an Authority is a party and (iii) any mortgage, deed or other instrument evidencing a conveyance from an Authority to another party or the creation by an Authority of any property interest in another party.

If, pursuant to any contractual arrangement between an Authority and a User, any Facility has been or is to be acquired by such Authority and leased or sold to such User or has been or is to be financed by a loan from such Authority, then in such case the gross proceeds of the sale of any property used in the construction and equipment of such Facility, regardless of whether such sale is to such Authority, such User or any contractor or agent of either thereof, shall be exempt from the sales tax imposed by Article 1 of Chapter 23 of Title 40 of Code of Alabama 1975 and from all other sales and similar excise taxes now or hereafter levied on or with respect to the gross proceeds of any such sale by the State or any County, Municipality or other political subdivision or instrumentality of any thereof. Further, if, pursuant to any contractual arrangement between an Authority and a User, any Facility has been or is to be acquired by such Authority and leased or sold to such User or has been or is to be financed by a loan from such Authority, then in such case any property used in the construction and equipment of such Facility, regardless of whether such property has been purchased by such Authority, such User or any contractor or agent of either thereof, shall be exempt from the use tax imposed by Article 2 of Chapter 23 of Title 40 of Code of Alabama 1975 and all other use and similar excise taxes now or hereafter levied on or with respect to any such property by the State or any County, Municipality or other political subdivision or instrumentality of any thereof.

All bonds, notes or other obligations issued by any Authority, their transfer, and the income therefrom (including the interest income thereon and any profits made on the sale thereof) shall at all times be free from taxation by the State or any County, Municipality or other political subdivision or instrumentality of the State, excepting inheritance, estate and gift taxes.

Section 13. Exemption from Usury and Interest Laws. Any Authority and all contracts made by it shall be exempt from the laws of the State governing usury or prescribing or limiting interest rates, including, but without limitation to, the provisions of Chapter 8 of Title 8 of Code of Alabama 1975, as such laws may at any time be amended. Further, any payment payable directly or indirectly by any User pursuant to any lease, installment sale contract, loan agreement or other contract to which an Authority is a party, any payment pursuant to any Authorized Purpose Obligation, or any payment pursuant to any other obligation constituting the source of payment for any obligation of an Authority which, in any such case under the laws of the State in effect at the time, constitutes interest, or a payment in the nature of interest, shall be exempt from all such laws of the State governing usury or prescribing or limiting interest rates.

Section 14. Exemption from Competitive Bid Laws. Any Authority and all contracts made by it shall be exempt from the laws of the State now or hereafter in effect that require competitive bids for any contract to be entered into by municipalities or by public corporations authorized by such municipalities, including, but without limitation to, the provisions of Article 3 of Chapter 16 of Title 41 of Code of Alabama 1975.

Section 15. Prohibition of Sectarian Use of Facilities. The purpose of this Act is to encourage private not-for-profit organizations, whether or not having any religious affiliation, to satisfy secular needs concerning the housing, care and treatment of persons requiring special care, which needs, if not so satisfied by such private not-for-profit organizations, would have to be satisfied in some degree by governmental agencies at public expense. No Facility acquired, improved, financed or in any way provided or assisted by any Authority pursuant to the provisions of this Act shall be used by a User to promote any sectarian purpose or to advance or inhibit any religious activity, nor shall any such Facility be operated by any User in a manner so pervaded by religious activities that the secular objectives of this Act cannot be separated from the sectarian interests or purposes of such User to the extent required by the Constitution of Alabama and the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States of America. Nothing contained in this Act, however, shall be construed to prohibit any User from providing such facilities and assistance as are necessary to enable the residents at any Facility to have such opportunities for religious experience as they may individually desire and be entitled to in accordance with the principles of religious freedom guaranteed by the Constitution of Alabama and the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States of America.

Section 16. Limitations Concerning the Use of Management Contracts in the Operation of Facilities. The User of any Facility acquired, improved, financed or in any way provided or assisted by any Authority pursuant to the provisions of this Act shall not employ any third party that is not a governmental agency or a not-for-profit organization to administer or manage such Facility unless the following conditions with respect to such third party and the employment arrangement or management contract between such User and such third party are satisfied:

(a) such User shall be completely unrelated to such third party and shall be free from any aspect of control or undue influence by such third party, it being the intention of this Act that prohibited control or undue influence shall be deemed to arise from circumstances such as (i) the promotion or encouragement of the organization of such User by such third party for the primary purpose of having such User own or lease any Facility that is to be managed by such third party, (ii) the selection or nomination by such third party of any of the members of the initial or any subsequent governing body of such User or (iii) the past or present existence of any substantial business relationship between any member of the governing body of such User and any person who has a substantial economic interest in such third party or who by reason of being a partner, officer, director or stockholder of such third party has any significant influence in the management of its affairs;

(b) such User shall retain ultimate control of the operation of such Facility, including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, (i) the power to make all significant decisions relating to the financial management of such Facility, (ii) the power to employ, or to terminate the employment of, the chief administrator of such Facility and all other employees holding positions of significant responsibility in the management of such Facility and (iii) the power to determine all terms and conditions upon which the benefits and services provided by such Facility shall be made available to persons needing or desiring to use the same;

(c) the employment arrangement or management contract between such User and such third party shall fix the compensation of such third party on a basis that is reasonably related to the value of the services performed by such third party and that does not transfer to such third party a substantial part of the financial burdens or benefits of the ownership of such Facility; and

(d) no management contract between such User and such third party shall have a term greater than three years, including in such term any period for which such contract may be renewed or extended at the option of such third party.

If the relationship between any User and any third party employed to administer or manage any Facility complies with the foregoing provisions of this section, then in such case nothing contained in this Act shall be construed (i) to prohibit the employment of such third party to administer or manage such Facility or (ii) to mean that such User does not operate such Facility for any purpose of this Act.

Section 17. Liberal Construction. This Act shall be construed liberally to effect its purposes and neither this Act nor anything herein contained is or shall be construed as a restriction or limitation upon any powers which any Authority might otherwise have under any laws of the State, and the provisions of this Act are cumulative to any such powers. This Act does and shall be construed to provide a complete, additional and alternative method for the doing of the things authorized thereby and shall be regarded as supplemental and additional to other laws. However, the issuance of bonds, notes and other obligations of any Authority under the provisions of this Act need not comply with the requirements of any other law of the State generally applicable to the issuance of bonds, notes and other obligations by other public corporations organized under the laws of the State.

Section 18. Cooperation; Aid from Other Bodies. For the purpose of attaining the objectives of this Act, any County, Municipality or other political subdivision, public corporation, agency or instrumentality of the State may, upon such terms and with or without consideration, as it may determine, do any or all of the following: (i) lend or donate money to any Authority or perform services for the benefit thereof; (ii) donate, sell, convey, transfer, lease or grant to any Authority, without the necessity of authorization at any election of qualified voters, any property of any kind; and (iii) do any and all things, whether or not specifically authorized in this Section 18, not otherwise prohibited by law, that are necessary or convenient to aid and cooperate with any Authority in attaining the objectives of this Act.

Section 19. Earnings of the Authority. Every Authority shall be a not-for-profit public corporation and no part of its net earnings remaining after payment of its expenses shall inure to the benefit of any private person, except that in the event the Board of any Authority shall determine that sufficient provision has been made for the full payment of the expenses, bonds, notes and other obligations of such Authority, then any net earnings thereafter accruing shall be paid to the Determining Municipality.

Section 20. Notice of Bond or Note Resolution. Upon the adoption by the Board of any Authority of any resolution providing for the issuance of bonds or notes, such Authority may, in the discretion of its Board, cause a notice respecting the issuance of such bonds or notes to be published once a week for two consecutive weeks in each County in which shall be located any Facility financed or in any way assisted by the issuance of such bonds or notes, such publication in each such County to be in a newspaper having general circulation therein. Such notice shall be in substantially the following form (the blanks being properly filled in) at the end of which shall be printed the name and title of either the chairman or secretary of such Authority: "_____, a public corporation and instrumentality of the State of Alabama, on the ____ day of _____, authorized the issuance of $_____ principal amount of bonds (or notes, as the case may be) of the said public corporation for purposes authorized in the act of the Legislature of Alabama under which the said public corporation was organized. Any action or proceeding questioning or contesting the validity of the said bonds (or notes), or the instruments securing the same, or the proceedings authorizing the same, must be commenced on or before _____ (here insert a date determined in accordance with the provisions of the next paragraph of this section)."

The date stated in such notice as the date on or before which any action or proceeding questioning or contesting the validity of the bonds or notes referred to therein must be commenced shall be a date at least thirty (30) days after the date on which occurs the last publication of such notice necessary for it to have been published at least once in all counties in which it is required to be published. Any action or proceeding in any court to set aside or question the proceedings for the issuance of the bonds or notes referred to in such notice or to contest the validity of any such bonds or notes, or the validity of any instruments securing the same, must be commenced on or before the date determined in accordance with the preceding sentence and stated in such notice as the date on or before which any such action or proceeding must be commenced. After such date no right of action or defense shall be asserted questioning or contesting the validity of such bonds or notes, or the instruments securing the same, or the proceedings authorizing the same, nor shall the validity of such bonds or notes or such instruments or proceedings be open to question in any court on any ground whatsoever, except in an action or proceeding commenced on or before such date.

Section 21. Dissolution of any Authority and Vesting of Title to Its Properties. At any time when any Authority does not have any bonds, notes or other obligations outstanding and when there shall be no other obligations assumed by such Authority that are then outstanding, the Board of such Authority may adopt a resolution, which shall be duly entered upon its minutes, declaring that the Authority shall be dissolved. Upon the filing for record of a certified copy of said resolution in the office of the Judge of Probate in which the Authority's certificate of incorporation was filed, the Authority shall thereupon stand dissolved, and in the event it owned any assets or property at the time of its dissolution, the title to all such assets or property shall thereupon vest in the Determining Municipality. The formation or dissolution of one or more Authorities authorized by any Determining Municipality shall not prevent the subsequent formation of other Authorities authorized by the same Determining Municipality.

Section 22. Severability. The provisions of this Act are expressly declared to be severable. If any provision of this Act shall be adjudged to be invalid by any court of competent jurisdiction, such judgment shall not affect, impair or invalidate the remainder of this Act, and the operation of such judgment shall be limited to the provision thereof directly involved in the action in which such judgment shall have been rendered.

Section 23. Effective Date of Act. This Act shall become effective immediately upon its passage and approval by the Governor of the State, or upon its otherwise becoming a law.

CREATING A COMMITTEE TO STUDY THE
FEASIBILITY OF CONSTRUCTING A BUILDING TO HOUSE
THE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT AND CONVERTING THE PRESENT BUILDING FOR LEGISLATIVE AND OTHER
DEPARTMENTAL USE, AND TO CONSIDER BUYING AND HOLDING ADDITIONAL PROPERTY FOR FUTURE USE.

WHEREAS, there exists a serious shortage of office space for members and staff of the Alabama Legislature; and

WHEREAS, the State of Alabama already owns property near or adjacent to buildings currently in use by the State Highway Department; and

WHEREAS, the Highway Department can function and perform their duties equally as well away from the Capitol Complex as they do now in their present location, but legislative offices and some other state departments, by virtue of the services they perform, must and should be located in close proximity to the Capitol; and

WHEREAS, should additional property be needed in the future by the Highway Department, it is only logical and fiscally responsible that property be purchased in an area where property values are much lower than those in the downtown or Capitol area;
and

WHEREAS, it is the intent of the Legislature to incorporate by reference the provisions of H.J.R. 37 and H.J.R. 51, which are Act No. 79-64 and 79-71, respectively, and to extend the deadline for reporting; now therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF ALABAMA, BOTH HOUSES THEREOF CONCURRING, That there is hereby created a joint committee to study the availability and feasibility of acquiring additional office space for members of the Legislature and, in the alternative, to study the feasibility of constructing a building to house the Highway Department on state-owned property where the highway shops are now located, and to study the feasibility of converting the present Highway Department building for use by the Legislature and by other state departments that need to remain close to the Capitol Complex but are currently located in buildings leased from private owners. Such committee shall be composed of the legislative members of the State Building Commission and up to twelve members as follows: the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall appoint up to six members from the House and the Lieutenant Governor shall appoint up to six members from the Senate. The members of the committee shall elect from their membership a chairman. The committee shall consider the state's buying the property East of the Capitol, between Washington and Monroe, and using any suitable buildings thereon as a source of rental income for the state until such property is needed for building purposes. If, however, said buildings are unusable, the state shall be authorized to demolish them and hold this property for use as needed in the future to expand the Capitol Complex for departments needing close physical access to the Capitol.

Upon the request of the chairman of such committee, the secretary of the Senate and the clerk of the House shall provide such clerical assistance as may be necessary for the committee's work. The committee shall report its findings, conclusions and recommendations to the Legislature not later than the 5th legislative day of the 1980 Regular Session, whereupon the committee shall be dissolved. Each member of the committee shall be entitled to his regular legislative compensation, his per diem and travel expenses for each day he attends a meeting of the committee which shall be paid out of any funds appropriated to the use of the Legislature, on warrants drawn on the state comptroller upon requisition signed by the committee's chairman.

Acts, 1951, pp. 1579-1599), herein called "Act 929," which said Act 929 established for every city of the State of Alabama having a population of Two Hundred Fifty Thousand (250,000) or more, according to the last or any succeeding federal census, a pension and relief system for officers and employees of such city, and which said Act 929 was amended by Act No. 1272 of the Regular Session of the Legislature of Alabama of 1973 (Ala. Acts, 1973, pp. 2124-2155).

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of Alabama:

Section 1. It is hereby provided that Section 4 of ARTICLE VIII of Act 929 is amended so as to read as follows:

Section 4. Members in Armed Forces.

(a) If any participant, either before July 1, 1945, and after October 16, 1940, or after July 1, 1945, and prior to declaration by the Congress or President of the United States of termination of the unlimited national emergency declared by the President in his proclamation of May 27, 1941, shall have left the service for the purpose of entering the Armed Forces of the United States, after having been in the service for at least one year next before such leaving, and shall have left in the Fund all contributions made by him prior to such leaving, and shall have resumed a position of qualified employee in the service of the City within forty days after his separation from such Armed Forces, and, in any event, within one year after declaration by the Congress or the President of the United States of termination of the unlimited national emergency declared by said President in said proclamation of May 27, 1941, and shall not have been dishonorably discharged from such Armed Forces, then, and in all such events, the City shall promptly pay into the Fund an amount double that which the Participant would have contributed to the Fund from his salary had he continued in the service of the City as a Participant throughout the period between the time of so leaving the service and the time of resumption of position in the service at the same rate of pay he was receiving at the time he so left the service, and, upon such payment into the Fund, the Participant shall be entitled to count as credited service the entire aforesaid period, provided, however, that if such Participant becomes disabled to perform his customary duties at any time within two years after such resumption of position, the amount of any benefits to which he might otherwise be entitled hereunder for any period shall be reduced by any amount paid or payable to him by the federal government for the same period, and provided further that no part of such payment by the City shall be returnable by the Fund under any provision of the System for return of contributions made by Participants. In order to extend the benefits of this Section to some "Korean Veterans" to whom such benefits would not otherwise extend, the unlimited national emergency declared by the President of the United States in his proclamation of May 27, 1941, shall, for the purposes of this Section, be deemed to have been by the Congress or the said President declared terminated at midnight, January 31, 1955, the time designated by the President in Executive Order No. 10585, dated January 1, 1955, "as the date of termination of combatant activities" in the Korean Zone and also the time fixed by said President in Proclamation No. 3080, dated January 1, 1955, as a terminal time for various purposes in respect of service in the Armed Forces.

In order to extend the benefits of this Section to other veterans to whom such benefits would not otherwise extend, it is hereby provided that if any Participant shall have left the service prior to April 20, 1954, for the purpose of serving in the Armed Forces of the United States after having been in the service for at least one year next before leaving, and shall have entered such Armed Forces promptly after such leaving, and shall have left in the Fund all contributions made by him prior to such leaving, and shall have resumed a position of Participant in the service within forty days after his separation from such Armed Forces, and in any event prior to the 21st day of May, 1956, and shall not have been dishonorably discharged from such Armed Forces, then and in all such events, the City shall promptly pay into the Fund an amount double that which the employee would have contributed to the Fund from his salary had he continued in the service as a Participant throughout the period between the time of so leaving the service and the time of resumption of position in the service at the same rate of pay he was receiving at the time he so left the service, and, upon such payment into the Fund, the Participant shall be entitled to count as credited service the entire aforesaid period, provided, however, that if such Participant becomes disabled to perform his customary duties at any time within two years after such resumption of position, the amount of any benefits to which he might otherwise be entitled hereunder for any period shall be reduced by any amount paid or payable to him by the federal government for the same period, and provided further that no part of such payment by the City shall be returnable by the Fund under any provision of the System for return of contributions made by Participants.

As hereafter used in this Section 4, the term "period of hostilities" means any period subsequent to April 20, 1954, when the United States was, is or shall be engaged in hostilities with any foreign state whether as a result of a declared war or not. In order to further extend the benefits of this Section to other veterans to whom such benefits would not otherwise extend, it is hereby provided that if any Participant shall have left the service subsequent to April 20, 1954, for the purpose of serving in the Armed Forces of the United States, during a period of hostilities, after having been in the service for at least one year next before such leaving and shall have entered such Armed Forces promptly after such leaving, and shall have left in the Fund all contributions made by him prior to such leaving, and shall have resumed a position of qualified employee in the service within forty (40) days after his separation from such Armed Forces, and shall not have been dishonorably discharged from such Armed Forces, then in all such events the City shall promptly pay into the Fund an amount double that which the employee would have contributed to the Fund from his salary had he continued in the service as a Participant throughout the period between the time of so leaving the service and the time of resumption of position in the service at the same rate of pay he was receiving at the time he so left the service, and, upon such payment into the Fund, the Participant shall be entitled to count as credited service the entire aforesaid period, provided, however, that if such Participant becomes disabled to perform his customary duties at any time within two years after such resumption of position, the amount of any benefits to which he might otherwise be entitled under Section 7 of ARTICLE VI for any period shall be reduced by any amount paid or payable to him by the federal government for the same period, and provided further that no part of such payment by the City shall be returnable to the Fund under any provision of the System for return of contributions made by Participants.

Anything to the contrary contained in this Section notwithstanding, no Participant who has entered the Armed Forces of the United States subsequent to April 20, 1954, and who otherwise qualifies for the benefits provided herein, shall be entitled to receive such benefits upon return to service unless he shall return to such service within five (5) years after having left such service to enter said Armed Forces.

(b) (1) Purpose of subsection (b). The provisions of subsection (a), above, adopted at different times, provide that a Participant's service in the Armed Forces of the United States during a "period of hostilities", as defined in subsection (a), shall be counted as credited service, subject to certain conditions prescribed in said subsection (a). The purpose of this subsection (b) is to provide that when a Participant has served, or is serving, in the Armed Forces of the United States, in response to an order that he enter such Armed Forces, such Participant shall be entitled to count as credited service the entire aforesaid period, without regard to such period being a period of hostilities, subject, however, to the conditions stated in this subsection (b).

(2) As herein used in this subsection (b), these terms have the meanings here given them: "order of the United States" means an order of the United States requiring a person to report for duty in the Armed Forces of the United States.

Subject to the conditions hereinbelow stated in this subsection (b), if any Participant, either before or after the adoption of this subsection (b), shall have left the service for the purpose of entering the Armed Forces of the United States, in response to an order of the United States, after having been in the service for at least 6 months next before such leaving, and shall have left in the Fund all contributions made by him prior to such leaving, and shall have resumed a position of qualified employee in the service of the city within 40 days after his separation from such Armed Forces, and shall not have been dishonorably discharged from such Armed Forces, then, and in all such events, the city shall promptly pay into the Fund an amount double that which the Participant would have contributed to the Fund from his salary had he continued in the service of the city as a Participant throughout the period between the time of so leaving the service and the time of his resumption of position in the service at the same rate of pay he was receiving at the time he so left the service, and upon such payment into the Fund, the Participant shall be entitled to count as credited service the entire aforesaid period, provided, however, that if such Participant becomes disabled to perform his customary duties at any time within two years of such resumption of position, the amount of any benefits to which he might otherwise be entitled hereunder for any period shall be reduced by any amount paid or payable to him by the federal government for the same period, and provided, further, that no part of such payment by the city shall be returnable by the Fund under any provision of the system for return of contributions made by Participants.

Anything to the contrary contained in this subsection (b) notwithstanding, no Participant who otherwise qualifies for the benefits provided for hereby shall be entitled to receive such benefits upon return to service unless he shall have returned to such service within five (5) years after having left such service to enter said Armed Forces.

This subsection (b) shall not apply to any Participant retiring from the service prior to the adoption of this subsection (b), provided, however, that if any Participant retiring before the adoption of said subsection (b) returns to active service, said subsection (b) shall apply to any period of such Participant's service in the Armed Forces of the United States subsequent to his returning to active duty.

Section 2. This Act shall become effective upon its approval by the Governor or on its otherwise becoming a law.

S. 114—Goodwin

AN ACT

To provide for appointment and designation of supernumerary sheriffs of the several counties within this state; to prescribe qualifications for the participants in such commission as supernumerary sheriff; to prescribe regulations and procedures for participation in such commission as supernumerary sheriff and to repeal conflicting statutes.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of Alabama:

Section 1. Any sheriff on or after the effective date of this act of any county of this state may elect to participate in the supernumerary sheriff's program provided by this act. Any sheriff on or after the effective date of this act of any county of this state:

(a) who has had twelve (12) years of service credit as a law enforcement officer, four (4) of which have been as a sheriff and who has become permanently and totally disabled, proof of such disability being made by certificate of three reputable physicians; or

(b) who has had sixteen (16) years of service credit as a law enforcement officer, twelve (12) of which have been as a sheriff, and who has reached the age of fifty-five (55) years, may elect to become a supernumerary sheriff of the county by filing a written declaration to that effect with the Governor not more than 90 days prior to the end of the sixteen year period or reaching age of fifty-five years, both having been fulfilled, or at any time thereafter. If the Governor shall find that any such declarant is qualified under either subdivision (a) or (b), hereinabove set forth, he shall then issue such declarant a commission as supernumerary sheriff. The office of sheriff made vacant by the election of such declarant shall be filled by appointment of the Governor as now provided by law. This section shall apply only to sheriffs who have been elected to that office.

Section 2. The governing body of each county shall begin deducting, upon the effective date of this act and each month thereafter, from the salaries of such sheriffs an amount equal to six percent (6%) of the monthly salary paid such sheriff. Such sum shall be deducted monthly and paid into the general fund of the county. If any sheriff, subject to the provisions of this act, shall end his tenure of office prior to having reached age of fifty-five years, but having had sixteen years of service as a law enforcement officer, twelve of which have been as sheriff, his supernumerary allowance as set out in Section Three (3) of this act, shall be vested and held in the general fund of the county until he attains age fifty-five at which time, or any time thereafter, he may elect to become a supernumerary sheriff as set out in Section One (1) of this act. If any sheriff, subject to the provisions of this act, shall end his tenure of office prior to having had sixteen years of service as a law enforcement officer, twelve of which was served as sheriff, as provided herein, an amount equal to the total paid by him into the general fund of the county under the provisions of this section shall be repaid to him. In the event a sheriff should die in office prior to his eligibility or his election to be commissioned a supernumerary sheriff, then, in that event, the total amount paid by him to the general fund of the county hereunder shall be paid to his named beneficiary. In the event of the death of any supernumerary sheriff in whose favor a monthly retirement allowance is accruing, his spouse shall be entitled to a monthly allowance equal to fifty per centum (50%) of the retirement allowance the supernumerary sheriff was receiving when he died, as hereinafter specified for a period of up to 15 years. No spouse shall receive any benefits under this act unless such spouse was married to the deceased supernumerary sheriff at the time of his death and any benefits of a spouse under this act shall terminate in the event the spouse remarries. This Section Two (2) shall not apply in any county in which the sheriff of said county is eligible to become entitled to any other state or county retirement act, which he may elect to come under.

Section 3. Those persons eligible under either Sections 1 (a) or 1 (b) of this act, who have sixteen (16) years of creditable service as a law enforcement officer, twelve of which were served as sheriff, shall be entitled to receive an amount equal to fifty percent (50%) to the monthly salary paid such person at the time of the completion of his service in office, and shall be entitled to receive an additional amount equal to two percent (2%) of such person's said monthly salary for each additional year of service up to a maximum of sixty-five percent of such monthly salary, but in no event shall any person receive payments pursuant to both the supernumerary and disability supernumerary provisions simultaneously. All such payments shall be paid from the general fund of the county in which said eligible person is serving upon his election to become a supernumerary sheriff or to become a supernumerary sheriff due to a disability.

Section 4. Any sheriff serving on the effective date of this act of any county of this state who elects to participate in the supernumerary sheriff's program shall receive service for supernumerary status for any time served as sheriff after the effective date of this act. Any sheriff in order to receive service credit for prior service as a sheriff or law enforcement officer shall pay into the county general fund an amount equal to the total contribution he would have made as a sheriff based on six percent (6%) of his current salary as sheriff for a period not to exceed five year or the time of prior service as sheriff whichever is lesser. Any prior service credit must be purchased within one year of the effective date of this act. No sheriff shall be eligible to go on supernumerary status with less than five years of creditable service including prior service credit purchased as provided above.

Section 5. If any sheriff is eligible for retirement benefits under any other county, state or municipal retirement plan or act, then, in that event, he shall elect the plan or act in which he desires to participate and shall so notify the proper authority within sixty days after he becomes eligible for any payments under this act. It is further provided, however, that such election shall not affect such person's entitlement to benefits under the provisions of Act No. 999, H. 288, 1969 Regular Session (Acts 1969, p. 1815).

Section 6. Each supernumerary sheriff shall take the oath of office prescribed for sheriffs and shall be subject to call by the governor in the event of a vacancy in the office of the sheriff.

Section 7. All laws or parts of laws which conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Section 8. The provisions of this act are severable. If any part of the act is declared invalid or unconstitutional, such declaration shall not affect the part which remains.

Section 9. This act shall become effective immediately upon its passage and approval by the Governor, or upon its otherwise becoming a law.

H. 238—Johnson (Roy)

Relating to Tuscaloosa County; to provide for the imposing, levying and collecting of an additional tax of four percent on the charge for lodging, room and personal property rental, services and accommodations furnished to transient occupants for a consideration by any hotel, motel, inn, tourist camp or tourist cabin in Tuscaloosa County; and to prescribe penalties for violations.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of Alabama:

Section 1. There is hereby levied and imposed in Tuscaloosa County, in addition to all other taxes of every kind now imposed by law, a privilege or license tax upon every person, firm or corporation engaging in the business of renting or furnishing any room or rooms, lodging or accommodations to transients in any hotel, motel, inn, tourist camp, tourist cabin or any other place in which rooms, lodgings or accommodations are regularly furnished to transients for a consideration, in an amount to be determined by the application of the rate of four percent of the charge for such room, rooms, lodgings or accommodations, including the charge for use or rental of personal property and services furnished in such rooms; provided that there is exempted from the tax levied under the provisions of this Act any rentals or services taxed under the provisions of Sections 40-23-1 to 40-23-38 of the Code of Alabama 1975, as heretofore or hereafter amended from time to time. The tax shall not apply to rooms, lodgings or accommodations supplied for a period of 30 continuous days or more in any place.

Section 2. State and municipal privilege taxes which are levied and collected by the application of a flat percentage rate on gross sales or gross receipts from sales, and which are passed on directly by the licensee-seller to the purchaser-consumer or user shall be excluded from gross sales or gross receipts, as the case may be, in the computation of the county lodgings tax levied and imposed by this Act. The taxes levied and collected under Sections 40-26-1 through 40-26-21 of the Code of Alabama 1975, shall also be excluded in the computation of the county lodgings tax levied and imposed by this Act.

Section 3. The taxes levied under the provisions of this Act, except as otherwise provided, shall be due and payable in monthly installments on or before the twentieth day of the month next succeeding the month in which the tax accrues. On or before the twentieth day of each month after this Act has taken effect, every person, firm or corporation on whom the taxes levied by this Act are imposed shall render to the department of revenue, hereinafter referred to as the department, on a form prescribed by the department, a true and correct statement showing the gross proceeds of the business for the next preceding month, together with such other information as the department may demand and require, and at the time of making such monthly report the taxpayer shall compute the taxes due and shall pay to the department the amount of taxes shown to be due. The department, for good cause, may extend the time for making any return required under the provisions of this Act, but the time for filing any such return shall not be extended for a period greater than 30 days from the date such return is due to be made.

Section 4. Any person, firm or corporation taxable under this Act having a cash and credit business may report such cash business and the taxpayer shall thereafter include in each monthly report all credit collections made during the month preceding and shall pay the taxes due thereon at the time of filing such report, but in no event shall the gross proceeds of such credit business be included in the measure of the tax to be paid until collections of such credit business shall have been made.

Section 5. On or before 30 days after the end of the tax year, each person, firm or corporation liable for the payment of a privilege tax as levied by this Act shall make a return showing the gross proceeds of business done and compute the amount of tax chargeable against him or it in accordance with the provisions of this Act and deduct the amount of monthly payments as hereinbefore provided, if any have been made, and transmit with this report a remittance in the form required by this Act covering the residue of the tax chargeable against him, to the office of the department, and such report shall be verified by oath.

Section 6. It shall be the duty of every person, firm or corporation engaging, or continuing in Tuscaloosa County in any business taxed hereunder to keep and preserve suitable records of the gross proceeds of such business and such other books or accounts as may be necessary to determine the amount of tax for which he or it is liable under the provisions of this Act. Such records shall be kept and preserved for a period of two years and shall be open for examination at any time by the department, or its duly authorized agent.

Section 7. The monthly reports herein required to be made are not required to be made on oath, but wherever in this Act any report is required to be sworn to, the same shall be sworn to by the taxpayer or his agent before some officer authorized to administer oaths; and any false statement of a material fact made with intent to defraud shall constitute perjury, and upon conviction thereof the person so convicted shall be punishable as provided by law.

Section 8. Any person, firm or corporation subject to the provisions of this Act who fails to make the reports or any of them as herein required, or who fails to keep the records as herein required, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined not less than $25.00 nor more than $500.00 for each offense. Each month of such failure shall constitute a separate offense.

Section 9. Any person, firm or corporation subject to the provisions of this Act willfully refusing to make the reports herein required, or who shall refuse to permit the examination of his or its records by the department of revenue, or its duly authorized agents, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not less than $50.00 nor more than $500.00 for each offense, and in addition may be imprisoned in the county jail for a period not to exceed six months. Each month of failure to make such report shall constitute a separate offense and each refusal of a written demand of the department to examine, inspect or audit such records shall constitute a separate offense.

Section 10. Any person, firm or corporation who fails to pay the tax herein levied within the time required by this Act shall pay, in addition to the tax, a penalty of 10 percent of the amount of tax due, together with interest thereon at the rate of one half of one percent per month, or fraction thereof, from the date at which the tax herein levied became due and payable, such penalty and interest to be assessed and collected as a part of the tax; provided, that the department, if a good and sufficient reason is shown, may waive or remit the penalty or any portion thereof.

Section 11. If any taxpayer fails to make the returns herein required, the department shall issue written notice by certified or registered mail, to the taxpayer to make such returns forthwith, and if the taxpayer fails or refuses to make such return, or returns, within 30 days from the date of this notice, then the department shall make such return for the delinquent taxpayer upon such information as it may obtain, and shall assess the taxes due thereon, and shall add a penalty for failure to make such return and payment of 25 percent of the tax due, as assessed by the department, and interest at the rate of one half of one percent per month, or fraction thereof, from the date such taxes were due; provided, that the department, if a good and sufficient reason is shown for such delinquency, may waive or remit the penalty or any portion thereof.

Section 12. Whenever the department in examining and auditing the records of any taxpayer or from other information shall ascertain that the amount, or amounts, previously paid by any taxpayer for any period or periods is incorrect, the department shall compute the correct amount of tax due, and if it appears that the amount paid by the taxpayer is in excess of the correct amount due, such excess shall be refunded to the taxpayer in accordance with law, under the rules and regulations of the department. If it appears that the amount paid by such taxpayer is less than the amount due, the department shall notify the taxpayer, and shall demand payment therefor. If the amount demanded is not paid within 10 days from the date of such demand, or if the taxpayer does not request an extension of time within 10 days from the date of such demand, the department shall make an assessment against the taxpayer of the amount due and shall add a penalty of one half of one percent per month from the date such taxes or any part thereof became due; provided, that the department, if a good and sufficient reason is shown, may waive or remit the penalty or any portion thereof. If within 10 days from the date of notice of a deficiency the taxpayer requests in writing an extension of time, the department shall grant an extension of 30 days. If at the end of such extended period the deficiency has not been paid, the department shall proceed with the assessment. If the department be of the opinion that there was a willful or fraudulent intent by the taxpayer to evade the tax due it may assess a penalty of 25 percent of the tax. Upon such appeal, such action shall be reviewable.

Section 13. Notice of the assessment of the tax hereby levied and an opportunity for a hearing thereon shall be given in the same manner that notice of the assessment of sales tax is given and hearings thereon are provided, and appeals from the assessments then made may be taken in the same manner that appeals from sales tax assessments are taken.

Section 14. The tax hereby levied together with interest and penalties imposed by this Act shall be a lien on the property of any person, firm or corporation subject to the provisions of this Act, and the provisions of the revenue laws of the state of Alabama applying to liens for the collection of license taxes shall apply to the taxes herein levied for the benefit of Tuscaloosa County as a subdivision of the State of Alabama.

Section 15. If any final assessment of taxes is not paid within 30 days after such assessment becomes final, if no appeal has been taken in cases where an appeal is authorized, the department shall issue an execution therefor, directed to any sheriff of the state of Alabama, commanding him to levy upon and sell the real and personal property of the person against whom such execution is directed in the same manner that levy and sale of property is done in connection with the collection of sales tax.

Section 16. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation engaged in or continuing within Tuscaloosa County in any business for which a license or privilege tax is required by this Act to fail or refuse to add to the price of the service rendered the amount due by the taxpayer on account of the tax levied by this Act. Nor shall any person refund or offer to refund all or any part of the amount collected as tax under this Act or to absorb such tax or to advertise directly or indirectly the absorption or refund of such tax or any portion of the same. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined in a sum not less than $50.00 nor more than $100.00, or may be imprisoned in the county jail for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and each act or violation of the provisions of this Act shall constitute a separate offense.

Section 17. Any taxpayer who shall violate any of the provisions of this Act may be restrained from continuing in business, and the proper prosecution shall be instituted in the name of the state of Alabama by its attorney general, by the counsel of the department or under their direction by any district attorney of the state until such person shall have complied with the provisions of this Act.

Section 18. The administration of this Act is vested in and shall be exercised by the department of revenue, except as otherwise herein provided, and the enforcement of any of the provisions of this Act in any of the courts of the state shall be under the jurisdiction and supervision of the department, and the department may require the assistance of, and act through the district attorney of any county and the attorney general of the state and any legal counsel of the department of revenue. The department shall appoint as needed such additional agents, clerks and stenographers as may be necessary to enforce the provisions of this Act under the provisions of the merit system who shall perform such duties as may be required, and such duly appointed and qualified agents are authorized to act for the department as it may direct and as is authorized by law.

Section 19. The department shall from time to time promulgate such rules and regulations for making returns and for ascertainment, assessment and collection of the tax imposed hereunder as it may deem necessary to enforce the provisions of this Act, and upon request shall furnish to the taxpayer a copy of such rules and regulations.

Section 20. The governor may, by executive order, authorize the state department of revenue to provide by proper rules and regulations for the allowance of a discount of taxes due and payable to the state for Tuscaloosa County by persons subject to the lodgings tax levied by this Act, in the same manner and to the same extent as the discount allowed persons licensed under the provisions of Sections 40-23-1 through 40-23-38 of the Code of Alabama 1975, as heretofore or hereafter amended from time to time. The discount provided for herein shall not exceed five percent of the first $100.00 of taxed levied and two percent of the taxes levied over $100.00 and due and payable to said county by persons subject to this Act. It is provided, however, that the discount provided for herein shall be authorized or allowed only upon taxes which are paid before delinquency.

Section 21. The taxes received and collected under the provisions of this Act shall be collected by the department of revenue of the State of Alabama and remitted without delay monthly to the County of Tuscaloosa. The department of revenue shall deduct and retain five percent of the amount collected in order to cover the expenses of collecting said taxes.

Section 22. Of those revenues provided by the additional four percent tax, two percent shall be placed in the General Fund of the Tuscaloosa County Commission and shall be used solely for the promotion of tourism in Tuscaloosa County. The remaining two percent of the additional four percent tax shall be earmarked for the Tuscaloosa County Park and Recreation Authority. These funds shall be used for capital outlay and the development of recreational facilities in Tuscaloosa County. The Tuscaloosa County Park and Recreation Authority Board shall have the authority under the provisions of this act to borrow money or sell bonds and pledge the proceeds derived from this additional tax as collateral for such credit or bonds.

Section 23. The provisions of this Act are severable. If any part of the Act is declared invalid or unconstitutional, such declaration shall not affect the part which remains.

Section 24. All laws or parts of laws which conflict with this Act are hereby repealed.

Section 25. This Act shall become effective immediately upon its passage and approval by the Governor, or upon its otherwise becoming a law and its approval by the electorate of Tuscaloosa County in an election to be held at a time to be fixed by the Probate Judge of Tuscaloosa County.

Section 1. Subsection (a) of Section 4 of Act No. 497 of the Regular Session of the Legislature of Alabama of 1965 (Ala. Acts, 1965, pp. 717-739), as heretofore amended, is hereby further amended so that said subsection (a), as further amended, will provide as follows:

“(a) Part (1). The provisions of this Part (1) of subsection (a) are subject to the conditions and exceptions contained in Part (2) of said subsection (a), below.

“All officers or employees, including retired officers or employees, who are members of either of the previous retirement systems on the date of the establishment of this system shall become members of this system as of the date of its establishment. Except as herein otherwise provided, every person who is an employee of the County on the effective date of this Act, shall become a member of the system as of such date. Any person who is an employee of the County on the effective date of this Act and who is not a member of either of the previous retirement systems on said date shall not become a member of the system unless and until he exercises his option to become a member within the time and in the manner hereinafter provided. The next foregoing sentence shall apply to every employee not belonging to either of the previous retirement systems on the effective date of this Act, regardless of whether he is, or is not, subject to the civil service system applicable to the County. Except as herein otherwise provided, every person becoming an employee of the County subsequent to the effective date of this Act and occupying a position subject to the civil service system applicable to the County shall become a member of the system on the date he enters the service of the County. Except as herein otherwise provided, every person becoming an employee of the County subsequent to the effective date of this Act and occupying a position not subject to the Civil Service System applicable to the County shall not become a member of the system unless he exercises his option to become a member in the manner and within the time hereinafter specified. A person who is an officer of the County on the effective date of this Act and who does not belong to either of previous retirement systems on said date and any person who becomes an officer of the County subsequent to the effective date of this Act shall have the option to become a member of the system in the manner and within the time hereinafter specified. Any officer or employee who has the option to become a member of the system shall state, on a form furnished by the Pension Board, or by the Secretary of said Board, that he elects to become a member; and he shall become a member on the first day of the calendar month next succeeding the month in which he completes the said form and files it in the office of the Pension Board. A person serving as an employee or officer of the County on the effective date of this Act and who is granted such option shall have six (6) months from said date in which to exercise the said option. A person becoming an officer or employee of the County subsequent to the effective date of this Act and who is granted such option shall exercise said option within six (6) months from the date on which he enters the service of the County. The period during which one is temporarily employed by the County shall not be considered in determining the said six (6) months. The option, once exercised, shall be irrevocable.

“If a person who has exercised his option to become a member of the system thereafter leaves the service of the County, he shall become a member of the system upon the date on which he returns to the service of the County if he occupies a position rendering him eligible for membership in the system.

“Part 2. Any person entering the service of the County, including the classified service, who at the time of such entry is of such age that he cannot accumulate sufficient paid membership time to entitle him to a pension by the time he reaches the then established age of mandatory retirement from the County service, may elect not to become a member of the system.

“Any person in the service of the County, including the classified service, who is of such age that he cannot accumulate sufficient paid membership time to entitle him to a pension by the time he reaches the then established age of mandatory retirement from the County service, may elect to withdraw from the system in the manner provided for in the sentence next following. Any member desiring to withdraw from the system, under the next foregoing sentence shall deliver to the Pension Board a statement in writing notifying the Board of his election to withdraw from the pension system because of his age which shall be recited in said statement. If the Pension Board, after considering the said statement and other pertinent information, finds that the member submitting said statement is of such age that he cannot accumulate sufficient paid membership time to entitle him to a pension by the time he reaches the then established age of mandatory retirement from the County service, the Pension Board shall permit the member to withdraw from the System and shall return to him his contributions to the system, as provided for by Section 13 of this Act.”

AN ACT

Relating to Bibb County; establishing a bi-unit road maintenance, repair and construction system; providing for two shop and storage yards; providing for the construction, maintenance and repair of public roads, highways, bridges, ferries and certain driveways under the county bi-unit system; authorizing and requiring the county governing body to employ and regulate the compensation of a county engineer; providing for the manner of selecting said engineer; prescribing his qualifications and requiring bond; defining his authority, powers and duties and those of the county governing body in relation to the roads, bridges and ferries of Bibb County; providing for compensation to be paid to county officers, employees and laborers; and providing for a referendum.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of Alabama:

Section 1. There shall be a bi-unit road maintenance, repair and construction system in Bibb County. There shall be two maintenance and repair shops for county equipment. One shall be located in the northern part of the county and the other shall be located in the southern part of the county. Located adjacent to said shops shall be a storage yard for the storage of equipment and materials for the construction, maintenance and repair of county roads and bridges.

Section 2. The Bibb County Commission or any succeeding county governing body performing the functions of the county governing body in said county, shall employ a county engineer, who shall be a thoroughly qualified and competent civil engineer, possessing all of the qualifications as specified for county engineers under the general laws of the State of Alabama; and he shall devote his entire time and attention to the maintenance and construction of the Bibb County public roads, highways, bridges and ferries, and shall, during his employment, reside in Bibb County, Alabama.

Section 3. It shall be the duty of the said county engineer, (1) to employ, supervise and direct all such assistants as are necessary properly to maintain and construct the public roads, highways, bridges, and ferries of Bibb County, and he shall have authority to prescribe their duties, and to discharge said employees for cause, or when not needed; (2) to perform such engineering and surveying service as may be required, and to prepare and maintain the necessary maps and records; (3) to maintain the necessary accounting records to reflect the cost of the county highway system;

(4) to build, or construct new roads, or change old roads, but only when ordered to do so by proper order of the commission; (5) it shall be his further duty, insofar as is feasible, to construct and maintain all county roads on the basis of the county as a unit, without regard to any district or beat lines.

Section 4. It shall be the duty of the commission to fix, from time to time, in accordance with prevailing economic conditions, the various scales of wages or salaries to be paid for employees, assistants and labor necessary in the maintenance and construction of said roads, bridges, and ferries, and said wage or salary scale shall not be exceeded by said engineer in the employment of labor, employees and assistants.

Section 5. The commission shall fix the amount of the salary of the said county engineer, payable in equal monthly installments from the road and highway funds of Bibb County.

Section 6. Before entering upon his duties, the said county engineer shall make and enter into a surety bond in the amount of five thousand dollars ($5,000.00), payable to Bibb County, conditioned for the faithful discharge and performance of his duties as such engineer, and for the faithful accounting of all monies or property of said county, which may come into his possession or custody. Said bond shall be executed by a surety company authorized and qualified to do business in Alabama, and be approved by the commission. The premiums thereon shall be paid by the county.

Section 7. The commission shall furnish the county engineer with an office at the courthouse, or elsewhere, at the county seat, and all necessary office supplies, and shall furnish him with necessary transportation in connection with his duties under this Act.

Section 8. The county engineer shall be the custodian of all road tools, machinery, supplies and equipment of Bibb County, and he shall be accountable for the same, at all times. The commission shall furnish the necessary storage facilities in which to keep said tools, machinery, supplies and equipment, and the county engineer shall keep on file in his office, at all times, an up-to-date inventory, containing a list of all said tools, machinery, equipment and supplies belonging to Bibb County.

Section 9. The authority of said county engineer shall be limited to the expenditure of such funds for the purpose of construction, maintenance or repairs of public roads, bridges, and ferries of Bibb County as may be set aside and appropriated by the commission as hereinafter provided; it shall be the duty of said commission at some meeting in September of each calendar year, or not later than the first meeting in October following, by order or resolution spread upon the minutes, to fix and determine the amount of funds which will be available for the purpose of building, maintaining and constructing public roads, bridges and ferries of Bibb County for the current fiscal year, beginning on October 1, which said amount, other than the salary of said county engineer and his necessary expenses, shall not be exceeded by him in building, maintaining and constructing public roads, bridges and ferries in Bibb County during said period; provided, however, that said commission is authorized, from time to time within any such period, to increase the amount so allowed to be expended by said county engineer during said period, when such authorization will not conflict with provisions of the general law under the Budget Act, Section 11-8-3 of the Code of Alabama 1975. Provided further, that if such funds are presently available, and have not heretofore been set aside by the present Bibb County Commission, immediately upon the passage and approval of this Act, it shall be the duty of the commission to set aside a sufficient portion of said funds for the maintenance of said roads, bridges, and ferries until the meeting in January or February, 1980, as hereinabove provided for.

It is further provided that the county road maintenance program is hereby authorized to construct or maintain, for a reasonable fee to be determined by the county commission, the driveways of private landowners for a distance not to exceed $\frac{1}{4}$ of a mile beyond any public road of the county.

Section 10. The county engineer shall make written requisition to the chairman of the commission for all materials, machinery, equipment, and necessary supplies needed for the construction, maintenance, or repair of the public roads, bridges and ferries of Bibb County. Said requisitions shall be filed and presented by the chairman to the commission at its next meeting, for the approval of the commission. Provided, however, that the chairman shall have full power and authority to make said purchases without first obtaining the approval of the whole board if the delay caused by the hereinabove procedure, might, in his judgment, cause an unnecessary and harmful interruption in the operation of the county road system. The chairman of the commission shall be solely responsible and accountable for purchasing the materials, machinery, equipment, and supplies under the approved requisitions.

Section 11. It shall be the further duty of the county engineer to inspect all materials, machinery, equipment, and supplies, purchased by Bibb County for use on public roads, bridges, and ferries, when the same is delivered, and the same shall not be accepted and paid for without its first having been approved by him.

Section 12. In the event an emergency should arise, in which it would be impossible for the commission to employ an engineer, as hereinabove provided for, then, in that event the commission shall employ a competent road supervisor who need not be an engineer, but, when so employed, he shall have all the duties and authority of said engineer, and be subject to the provisions of this Act; but an emergency shall not exist so long as the state highway director can nominate an engineer who will accept employment by said commission under the terms of this Act, it being the intention of this Act to provide that, when county roads are to be maintained or constructed in said county, the supervision thereof shall be either under a county engineer, as hereinabove provided for, or, by a road supervisor, who is not a member of the commission.

Section 13. It shall be the further duty of each associate member of the commission to inspect the roads of his district from time to time, and hear the suggestions and complaints of the citizens, and report the same to the commission with his recommendations; to advise with the county engineer concerning the problems of his district, particularly; and to assist in securing rights-of-way, and assist in public relations generally.

Section 14. The total salary of the county commissioners shall be limited to $500.00 per month, effective January 1, 1980.

Section 15. The provisions of this Act are severable. If any part of the Act is declared invalid or unconstitutional, such declaration shall not affect the part which remains.

Section 16. This Act shall be inoperative and void unless it shall have been approved by a majority of the qualified electors of Bibb County who vote thereon at a referendum election held for such purpose. The election shall be held and conducted as nearly as may be in the same way as elections on amendments to the Constitution, and shall be held on the first election day in the county next following final passage of this Act. Notice of the election shall be given by the judge of probate of Bibb County, which notice shall be published once a week for three successive weeks before the day of the election. On the ballots to be used at the election, the proposition shall be stated as follows: "Do you favor the local law placing Bibb County public roads, highways, bridges and ferries under the county bi-unit system and authorizing and requiring the employment of a county engineer? Yes () ; No ()." If a majority of the votes cast at the election are in the affirmative, this Act shall be in full force and effect as of January 1, 1980. If a majority of the votes cast are in the negative, this Act shall have no further effect. The judge of probate of Bibb County shall certify the results of the election to the Secretary of State within thirty days after the returns have been canvassed.

Section 17. All laws or parts of laws which conflict with this Act are hereby repealed.

Section 18. This Act shall become effective immediately upon its passage and approval by the Governor, or upon its otherwise becoming a law.

All fees collected in this manner plus renewal fees and all gifts or grants shall be deposited in the State Treasury to the credit of the Board. There is hereby appropriated from the Treasury funds to the credit of said board to be used for printing, travel expenses of the Board, and for other necessary expenses such as are necessary to the carrying out of the provisions of this Act. Expenses shall be paid under the written direction of the Chairman of the Board in accordance with normal State procedure.

The board is required to charge an application fee to be determined by the Board.

Every licensed professional counselor or certified counselor associate engaging in private practice in this state is required to pay biennially to the Board during the month of July a renewal fee to be determined by the Board. The Chairman thereupon shall issue a document renewing his license or certificate for a term of two (2) years. The license or certificate of any counselor who fails to have his license or certificate renewed biennially during the month of July shall lapse; the failure to renew said license or certificate, however, shall not deprive said counselor or counselor associate of the right of renewal thereafter. Such lapsed license or certificate may be renewed within a period of two (2) years after such upon payment of fees in arrears, or thereafter, upon payment of a renewal fee to be determined by the Board.

Section 7. The Board shall issue a license as a licensed professional counselor to each applicant who files an application upon a form and in such a manner as the Board prescribes, accompanied by such fee as is required in this Act, and who furnishes satisfactory evidence of the following to the Board:

- (a) the applicant is at least nineteen (19) years of age;
- (b) the applicant is a citizen of the United States or has declared his intention to become a citizen. A statement by the applicant under oath that he is a citizen or that he intends to apply for citizenship when he becomes eligible to make such application, is sufficient proof of compliance with this requirement;
- (c) the applicant is of good moral character;
- (d) the applicant resides in the State of Alabama;
- (e) the applicant is not in violation of any of the provisions of this Act and the rules and regulations adopted hereunder;
- (f) the applicant has received a master's degree from a regionally accredited institution of higher learning which is primarily professional counseling in content based on not less than thirty (30) graduate semester hours, or the substantial equivalent in both subject matter and extent of training. The Board shall use the standards of nationally recognized professional counseling associations as guides in establishing the standards for counselor licensure.
- (g) the applicant has three (3) years of supervised full-time experience in professional counseling acceptable to the Board, one (1) year of which may be obtained prior to the granting of the master's degree. An applicant may subtract one (1) year of the required professional experience for every fifteen (15) graduate semester hours obtained beyond the master's degree, provided that such hours are clearly related to the field of professional counseling and are acceptable to the Board. However, in no case may the applicant have less than one (1) year of the required professional experience;
- (h) the applicant demonstrates competence in professional counseling by passing an examination, written, oral, or situational, or all three (3), as the Board will prescribe. A specialty designation may be added upon demonstration to the Board that the applicant has met the recognized minimum standards as established by nationally recognized certification agencies. Upon successful passage of an examination, written, oral, or situational, or all three (3), and upon receipt of credentials from certifying agencies the Board may, by a majority of the Board members present and voting, consider such credentials adequate evidence of professional competence and recommend to the Chairman of the Board that a license with appropriate specialty designation, if any, be approved. A professional counselor cannot claim or advertise a counseling specialty unless the qualifications of that specialty have been met and have been approved by the Board.

Section 8. The Board shall issue a certificate as a counselor associate to each applicant who files an application upon a form and in such manner as the Board prescribes accompanied by such fees as are required by this Act, and who furnishes satisfactory evidence of the following to the Board:

(a) the applicant has complied with provisions outlined in Section 7 (a), (b), (c), (d), and (e) of this Act;

(b) the applicant has received a master's degree from a regionally accredited institution of higher learning based on a program of studies which is primarily professional counseling in content, or the substantial equivalent in both subject matter and extent of training. The counselor associate may not practice without direct supervision by a licensed professional counselor. The plan for supervision of the counselor associate is to be approved by the Board prior to any actual performance of counseling on the part of the counselor associate;

(c) any certified counselor associate after meeting the requirements specified in Section 7(g) and 7(h) may petition the Board for licensure as a professional counselor.

Section 9. After investigation of the application and other evidence submitted, the Board shall not less than thirty (30) days prior to the examination, notify each applicant that the application and evidence submitted is satisfactory and accepted or unsatisfactory and rejected. If rejected, said notice shall state the reasons for such rejection.

Section 10. The place of examination shall be designated in advance by the Board, and such examination shall be given annually at such time and place and under the supervision as the Board may determine, and specifically at such other times as in the opinion of the Board the number of applicants warrants.

Section 11. The examination shall require that the applicant demonstrate his knowledge and application thereof in those areas deemed relevant to his specialty and those services he intends to offer to the public.

Section 12. The Board shall grade the examination and recommend to the Chairman action to be taken. To insure impartiality, written examination documents shall be indented by number, and no paper shall be marked in the name of any applicant but shall be anonymously graded by the Board. In the event an applicant fails to receive a passing grade on the entire examination, he may reapply and shall be allowed to take a subsequent examination. An applicant who has failed two (2) successive examinations may not reapply until after two (2) years from the date of the last examination, or has satisfactorily completed fifteen (15) graduate semester hours in the applicant's weakest portion of the examination.

Section 13. The Board is required to preserve examination materials and an accurate transcript of the questions and answers to an examination, and the grade assigned to each answer thereof, as part of its records for a period of two (2) years following the date of examination.

Section 14. Counselors licensed as a professional counselor or certified as a counselor associate by the Board shall be required to submit biennially at the time of renewal a license or certificate renewal fee to be established by the Board. No license or certificate shall be renewed unless the renewal request is accompanied by evidence satisfactory to the Board of the completion during the previous twenty-four (24) months of relevant professional and continued educational experience. The relevant experience required shall be sent in writing to all licensed and certified counselors one (1) year prior to the renewal dates.

If any professional counselor or counselor associate duly licensed or certified under this Act, by virtue of additional training and experience, is qualified to practice in a specialty other than that for which he was deemed competent at the time of initial licensing, or certification, and wishes to offer such service under the provisions of this Act, he is required to submit at the time of annual renewal of licenses or certificates, additional credentials and he is to be given the opportunity to demonstrate his knowledge and application thereof in areas deemed relevant to his specialty. This procedure is considered a necessary part of the renewal process. No charge in addition to the renewal fee is levied.

Section 15. Upon application accompanied by fee the Board is authorized to issue a license or certificate to any person who furnishes upon a form and in such manner as the Board prescribes, evidence satisfactory to the Board that he is licensed as a professional counselor or certified as a counselor associate by another state, territorial possession of the United States, District of Columbia or Commonwealth of Puerto Rico if the requirements for such licensure or certification are substantially equivalent to those of this Act.

Section 16. The Board by a majority of the Board members present and voting is authorized to withhold, deny, revoke or suspend any license or certificate issued or applied for in accordance with the provisions of this Act or otherwise discipline a licensed professional counselor or certified counselor associate upon proof by proper hearing that the applicant, licensed professional counselor or certified counselor associate:

(a) has been convicted, within or without the jurisdiction of this state, of a felony or any offense involving moral turpitude, the record of conviction being conclusive evidence thereof;

(b) has violated the current code of ethics adopted by the Board;

(c) is using any narcotic or any alcoholic beverage to an extent or in a manner dangerous to any other person or the public, or to an extent that such impairs his ability to perform the work of a professional counselor or counselor associate with safety to the public;

(d) has impersonated another person holding a professional counselor license or counselor associate certificate or allowed another person to use his license or certificate;

(e) has used fraud or deception in applying for a license or certificate or in taking an examination provided for in this Act;

(f) has allowed his name or license or certificate issued under this Act to be used in connection with any person or persons who perform counseling services in private practice outside the area of their training, experience or competence;

(g) is legally adjudicated mentally incompetent, the record of such adjudication being conclusive evidence thereof; or

(h) has willfully or negligently violated any of the provisions of this Act.

Notice of denial, revocation, suspension, or disciplinary action is required to be sent by registered mail or personal service setting forth the particular reasons for the proposed action and fixing a date not less than thirty (30) days nor more than sixty (60) days from the date of such mailing or such service, at which time the applicant, licensee or associate shall be given an opportunity for a prompt and fair hearing. The written notice shall be sent to the person's last known address, but the nonappearance of the person shall not prevent such a hearing. The hearing shall be conducted by the Board by means of sworn, recorded testimony. Parties have the right to be represented by counsel and to conduct cross-examination of witnesses.

On the basis of any hearing or upon default of applicant, licentiate, or associate, the Board shall make a determination specifying its findings of fact and conclusions of law. A copy of such determination shall be sent by registered mail or served personally upon the applicant, licentiate, or associate. The decision of the Board denying, revoking, or suspending the license or certificate shall become final thirty (30) days after so mailed or served unless within said period the applicant, licentiate, or associate appeals the decision to the courts of this State in the same manner and subject to the same powers and conditions as now provided by law in regard to rulings, orders and findings of other quasi-judicial bodies in Alabama, where not otherwise specifically provided. No such appeal while pending appropriate court action shall supersede such denial, revocation or suspension. All proceedings and evidence, together with exhibits presented at such hearings before the Board in the event of appeal, are admissible in evidence in said court.

Every order and judgment of the Board shall take effect immediately on its promulgation unless the Board in such order or judgment fixes a probationary period for applicant, licentiate, or associate. Such order and judgment shall continue in effect unless upon appeal the courts by proper order or decree terminate it earlier. The Board may make public its order and judgments in such manner and form as it deems proper.

The Board is authorized to suspend the license of a professional counselor or the certificate of a counselor associate for a period of not exceeding one (1) year. At the end of this period, the Board is required to reevaluate the suspension and may recommend to the Chairman the reinstatement or revocation of the license or certificate. A person whose license or certificate has been revoked under the provisions of this section may apply for reinstatement after a period of not less than three (3) years from the date such denial or revocation is legally effective. The Board may, upon favorable action by a majority of the Board members present and voting, recommend such reinstatement.

Section 17. When it shall appear to the Board that any person has engaged or is about to engage in any act or practice constituting a violation of any provision of this act or any rule or order hereunder, the Board in its discretion and in its own name may bring an action in any court of competent jurisdiction to enjoin such acts or practices, and to enforce compliance with this act or any rule or order hereunder, regardless of whether criminal proceedings have been or may be instituted. Upon a proper showing, a permanent or temporary injunction, restraining order, or writ of mandamus shall be granted.

H. 65—Adams (H), Whatley

AN ACT

To prescribe a procedure for complaints, investigations, findings and recommendations for payment of damages where purchasers of agricultural, vegetable, flower, tree, shrub and herb seeds suffer damages as a result of such seed not being in compliance with legal requirements which govern the sale thereof or where the seed fail to perform as represented; to create and establish an investigation and arbitration committee for this purpose and to prescribe its powers, duties and authority.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of Alabama:

Section 1. Purpose and Intent. The intent and purpose of this Act is to provide a method for assisting farmers and other seed purchasers and seed dealers to determine the validity of complaints of such seed purchasers against seed dealers relating to the quality of the seed by establishing a committee to investigate and make findings and recommendations in the nature of arbitration proceedings where damages are suffered by such seed purchasers caused by the failure of any agricultural, vegetable, flower, tree, shrub and herb seeds to perform as represented, or to conform to the description on the labeling thereof as required by the State Seed Law. The meaning of words and terms as used in this Act shall, where applicable, be construed to conform to the meaning of such words and terms as same are defined in § 2-26-1 of the Code of Alabama 1975.

Section 2. Complaints, Investigations and Findings. Any farmer, or other purchaser of agricultural, vegetable, flower, tree and shrub or herb seeds purchased for planting purposes who believes that he has been damaged by the failure of the seed to perform as represented, or to conform to the description on the labeling attached thereto or accompanying such seed as required by the State Seed Law appearing in Title 2, Chapter 26 (§ 2-26-1 through 2-26-14) of the Code of Alabama 1975, and rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, may make a sworn complaint against the seed dealer from whom such seed were purchased. The complaint shall allege the failure of the seed to perform or to conform to legal requirements and the damages sustained or to be sustained by him. The complaint shall be filed with the Commissioner of Agriculture and Industries within ten (10) days after the alleged defect or violation becomes apparent. The seed purchaser shall also mail a copy of said complaint to the dealer from which the seed were purchased by United States registered or certified mail. A filing fee of ten dollars ($10.00) shall be paid to the Commissioner of Agriculture and Industries with each complaint filed which shall be deposited to the credit of the agricultural fund of the state treasury. Within ten (10) days after receipt of a copy of the complaint, the seed dealer shall file with the Commissioner of Agriculture and Industries an answer thereto and forward a copy of same to the purchaser of the seed by United States registered or certified mail. Any seed dealer against whom a complaint is filed hereunder or any seed purchaser filing a complaint may request an investigation and other action by the committee for the investigation and arbitration as hereinafter created. The Commissioner of Agriculture and Industries shall forthwith refer the complaint and the answer to said committee for its investigation, findings and recommendation of the allegations of the complaint. Where seed which are the basis of a complaint are labeled by a person other than a seed dealer who sells directly to the farmer or other purchaser of seed, a copy of the complaint shall also be mailed by the Commissioner to the person responsible for the labeling of such seed in order that he may be entitled to file an answer. Upon receipt of such findings and recommendation, the Commissioner of Agriculture and Industries shall transmit the findings and recommendations of the committee to the farmer or other purchaser of the seed and to the seed dealer by United States registered or certified mail together with a copy thereof to any person responsible for the labeling of the seed.

Section 3. Committee, Duties, Investigation, Arbitration, Etc.--(1) There is hereby created and established a seed investigation and arbitration committee to be appointed by the Commissioner of Agriculture and Industries to consist of five (5) members. The members shall be appointed by the Commissioner of Agriculture and Industries upon the recommendation of each of the following: Dean and Director, School of Agriculture and Agricultural Experiment Station of Auburn University; Executive Committee of the Alabama Seedsmens' Association; President of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation; State Board of Agriculture and Industries, and one member shall be appointed by the Commissioner of Agriculture and Industries. Each of these members may be represented by an alternate appointed by the Commissioner of Agriculture and Industries, upon the recommendation of the recommending authority or on recommendation of the committee member when such authority has been vested in the committee member by the recommending authority. Each member shall continue to serve on the committee until a replacement has been recommended by one of the above named organizations, agencies, or officials authorized to make such recommendations or appointments, at which time the Commissioner of Agriculture and Industries shall appoint a new member from those recommended. Each alternate shall serve only for the case in which he has been appointed and only one member shall represent each of the above organizations, agencies or officials authorized to make recommendations for appointment to the committee. The committee shall elect a chairman and a secretary from its membership. The committee chairman shall conduct all meetings and deliberations held by the committee and direct the other activities of the committee. The secretary shall keep accurate and correct records on all meetings and deliberations and perform any other duties for the committee as directed by the chairman. The committee shall be known as the Seed Investigation and Arbitration Committee.

(2) The duties of the Seed Investigation and Arbitration

Committee shall be to assist farmers and other purchasers of agricultural, vegetable, flower, tree, shrub, and herb seeds and seed dealers to ascertain and determine the validity of complaints made by seed purchasers against seed dealers and recommend the settlement and payment of monetary damages by seed dealers where such damages result from the failure of the seed to perform as represented or to conform to the description of the labeling on or accompanying the seed or seed containers. The committee may be called into session by the Commissioner of Agriculture and Industries at his discretion or upon the direction of the Chairman or a majority of the committee members to consider complaints and other matters referred to it by the Commissioner of Agriculture and Industries.

(3) When the Commissioner of Agriculture and Industries refers a complaint by a farmer or other seed purchaser to the Seed Investigation and Arbitration Committee, said committee shall make a full and complete investigation of the matters complained of and at the conclusion of said investigation report its findings with its recommendations and file same with the Commissioner of Agriculture and Industries. The purchaser of the seed and the seed dealer shall upon request of either party be entitled to a hearing before the committee before any findings and recommendations are made. Notice of the date, time and place of the hearing shall be given to both parties. In conducting its investigation the committee or any member or members thereof is authorized to investigate the farmer or other purchaser's complaint and the farming or growing operation involved in the complaint and the seed dealer's sales, packaging, labeling, storage or processing operation relating to the seed alleged to be faulty. The investigation shall be conducted in a manner prescribed by the committee. The committee, or any member thereof, in the performance of its duties is authorized to enter upon any public or private premises during regular business hours in order to have access to seed and records of the sale and purchase thereof for examination and review as authorized under the provisions of § 2-26-10(b) and (d) of the Code of Alabama 1975, when necessary to perform its duties required under this Act. Any person who hinders, obstructs or refuses entry, access or review of such records shall be guilty of a violation of § 2-26-11(b)(3) and 2-26-13 of the Code of Alabama 1975. The committee shall be authorized to grow to production a representative sample of the alleged faulty seed through the facilities of the State, or Auburn University, under the supervision of the Commissioner of Agriculture and Industries or his authorized agent when such action is deemed necessary; also, to hold hearings at a time and place directed by the chairman of the committee upon reasonable notice to the farmer or other purchaser of seed and the seed dealer and to prescribe and promulgate rules of procedure to carry out the evident intent and purpose of this Act. Any investigation made by less than the whole membership of the committee shall be conducted by authority of a written directive by the chairman or by rules of procedure adopted by the committee. Investigations shall be summarized in writing and considered by the committee in a report of its findings and recommendations.

(4) The members of the committee shall receive no compensation for the performance of their duties, but shall be reimbursed for travel expenses incurred in the performance of their duties in the same manner and at the same rate paid to State employees for travel expenses when such members attend meetings or perform other required duties which shall be paid from funds appropriated or available to the Department of Agriculture and Industries upon approval of the Commissioner.

Section 4. Recommendations Relating to Damages.--The findings or recommendations of the committee shall be in the nature of arbitration or settlement, but its findings and recommendations shall not affect the rights of parties to resort to any arbitration proceedings available under authority of Chapter 6 (§ § 6-6-1 through 6-6-16) of Title 6 of the Code of Alabama 1975 or as may be otherwise provided by law, nor shall any of the provisions of this Act effect any legal or equitable rights that any person may have in a court having jurisdiction of such matters nor shall the findings or recommendations of the committee be admissible as evidence in any court of law. It is the intent and purpose of this Act to provide a simplified procedure for investigations and recommendations for monetary settlements as declared in Section 1 hereof.

Section 5. Severability.--The provisions of this Act are severable. If any part thereof is declared unconstitutional, such declaration shall not affect the part that remains.

Section 6. Effective Date.--This Act shall become effective immediately upon its passage and approval by the Governor, or upon its otherwise becoming a law.

Act No. 79-431

H. 605—Wyatt, Venable, McMillan

AN ACT

To authorize, provide for the licensing of, and to regulate the operation of and hunting on privately owned hunting preserves stocked by artificially propagated or “pen-raised” upland birds; to prescribe the fees for such licenses; to provide for their collection and distribution; to provide that the licensee shall be an agent vendor of hunting licenses; and to prescribe penalties for violation of this act.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of Alabama:

Section 1. Any person, firm, or corporation desiring to operate a hunting or shooting preserve commercially on which artificially propagated birds may be hunted, taken, captured, killed, harvested or otherwise recovered, may do so upon obtaining a hunting preserve license and complying with the provisions of this act and all rules and regulations promulgated by the commissioner of conservation and natural resources governing the operation of hunting preserves.

Section 2. Each hunting preserve shall contain a minimum of 100 acres in one tract of leased or owned land, including water area, if any, and shall be restricted to not more than 1,000 contiguous acres including water, if any. The exterior boundaries of each hunting preserve shall be bordered by a clearly marked single strand of wire or fences, except where rivers, creeks, roads, or other clearly defined demarcations or delineations form the boundary or a part thereof. Signs shall be erected at intervals of not less than 330 feet around the perimeter of the tract. At the top of each sign shall appear in letters not less than two inches high the words, "LICENSED HUNTING PRESERVE," and such other words as the commissioner of conservation may prescribe. No hunting preserve shall be located within one mile of any other such preserve or within one mile of any management area or refuge existing under state or federal law or regulations at the time of the establishment of such hunting preserve. No license shall be issued for any hunting preserve on which the shooting of turkeys is authorized.

Section 3. Game which may be hunted on a preserve licensed under this Act shall be artificially propagated or "pen-raised" bob-white quail, pheasants, chuckar partridge, and such other species of fowl as the commissioner of conservation and natural resources shall designate. A minimum stock of at least 1,000 bob-white quail, if bob-white quail are to be hunted on the preserve, or a minimum stock of 200 of each of the other species of birds, listed above, to be hunted on a licensed preserve shall be released on the licensed hunting area during each hunting period.

Section 4. The privilege license or permit fee for operating a hunting preserve shall be $25 per year for the first 100 acres of hunting preserve area plus $5 per year for each additional 100 acres or part thereof. Any person who desires to operate such a hunting preserve shall first file a request with a local state game warden, or with the state department of conservation and natural resources, to have the tract which he proposes to use as a hunting preserve inspected, and if it meets the requirements of this Act and the rules and regulations of the department of conservation and natural resources he shall have a permit issued to him to procure a license to operate such hunting preserve. The applicant shall be advised of any discrepancies in writing for remedial action and a date shall be set for reinspection. Upon presentation to the judge of probate of the county in which the preserve is located of a permit from the department of conservation and natural resources, dated not more than thirty days prior to its presentation, accompanied by the proper license fee prescribed in this section, and an issuance fee of fifty cents, the judge of probate shall issue a privilege license to operate a hunting preserve to the applicant. Privilege licenses to operate hunting preserves shall be issued on forms prescribed by the commissioner of conservation and furnished by him to the judge of probate. All fees collected by the judge of probate for issuing hunting preserve licenses shall be remitted at the same time and in the same manner that hunting and fishing license fees are remitted and shall be paid into the game and fish fund of the state department of conservation and natural resources.

Section 5. The holder of a license issued pursuant to this Act, his guest, and patrons may hunt, take, capture, kill, harvest or otherwise recover during the year no more than 80 per cent of the total number of each species of birds released on the preserve during such year. Since said bob-white are artificially propagated or "pen-raised quail" and may otherwise be commercially sold under the provisions of Section 9-11-340 through 9-11-351 of the Code of Alabama 1975, without restriction as to daily limit or any hunting season applicable to wild quail, there shall be no daily commercial limit as to the number of released "pen-raised quail" commercially taken or recovered by patrons under the provisions of this Act and the period during which each species of "pen-raised birds" may be hunted, taken, captured, killed, or otherwise recovered on such preserve shall begin on October 1 each year and extend through March 31 of the following calendar year.

Section 6. Bob-white quail shall be tagged with a self-sealing tag prior to being released on the preserve. The operators of hunting preserves shall cooperate in other requests which the commissioner of conservation and natural resources might make for scientific investigations. The Alabama department of conservation and natural resources shall specify tags which hunting preserve operators shall use, the tags to be numbered consecutively, dated by year of issuance, and carry the operator's license number.

Section 7. Each hunting preserve operator shall maintain a register and record therein the names, addresses, hunting license numbers, the date on which each hunted, and the amount and species of game taken by each hunter. An accurate record by species shall also be maintained of the total number of birds raised on the preserve or purchased, and the number of each species released thereon each year. These records shall be open to inspection by any duly authorized representative of the state department of conservation and natural resources at any reasonable time.

Section 8. Alabama hunting licenses shall be required of all persons hunting on licensed hunting preserves. Alabama residents shall be licensed under the regularly established game laws. Each non-resident hunting on a licensed preserve shall be required to possess a regular non-resident annual hunting license or a non-resident trip hunting license. To better serve the public and in order that the state will not lose revenue from the loss of sale of licenses to out-of-state visitors arriving on weekends, each hunting preserve operator licensed hereunder shall be an agent vendor of all out-of-state and resident hunting licenses with any issuance fees collected therefor to be remitted to the judge of probate of the county in which the preserve is located.

Section 9. Duly authorized agents of the state department of conservation and natural resources, game wardens, and other law enforcement officers duly authorized to enforce game and fish laws shall have authority to enforce all game and fish laws and regulations on such preserves; and for such purposes are authorized to enter and inspect licensed hunting preserves.

Section 10. Any person, firm, or corporation who is found guilty of operating a licensed hunting preserve in violation of any provision of this Act, upon conviction, shall have his hunting preserve license revoked forthwith.

Section 11. The provisions of this Act are severable. If any part of the Act is declared invalid or unconstitutional, such declaration shall not affect the part which remains.

Section 12. All laws or parts of laws which conflict with this Act are repealed.

Section 13. This Act shall become effective immediately upon its passage and approval by the Governor, or upon its otherwise becoming a law.

- (5) "Peanut grower" shall mean any person whose name appears on an MQ-94 federal-state inspection certificate.

Section 2. Within 120 days after the adjournment of the 1979 Regular Session of the Alabama legislature, the Alabama Peanut Producers Association shall provide for a referendum election of the peanut growers of the state of Alabama on the proposition of whether such insurance program as provided in this act is favored. The election shall be held after notice by registered mail at least thirty days prior to the election has been given to peanut growers and at least thirty days prior to the election a news release publicizing such election has been printed once in at least five newspapers of general circulation in southeast Alabama in the counties which produce peanuts. The election shall be conducted by mail ballot with a ballot being mailed to all peanut growers in the state. On the ballots to be used at the election, the proposition shall be stated substantially as follows: "Do you favor the establishment of an insurance program for A. flavus and freeze damage in peanuts pursuant to the provisions of Act No. _____, (herein set out the number of this act) 1979 Regular Session of the Alabama Legislature? Yes () No ()." If a majority of the votes cast at the election are in the affirmative, this act shall be effective. If a majority of the votes cast are in the negative, this act shall have no further effect.

Section 3. The Alabama Peanut Producers Association is hereby directed to establish a body corporate with the name "peanut crop insurance corporation" as hereinafter provided. The principal office of the corporation shall be located in Dothan, but there may be branch offices elsewhere in Alabama under rules and regulations prescribed by the board of directors of such corporation.

Section 4. The management of the corporation shall be vested in a board of directors. Said board shall consist of six directors to be elected by the peanut growers as hereinafter provided and the president of the Alabama Peanut Producers Association who shall serve as ex officio chairman of the board.

Section 5. Within 30 days after the referendum in which a majority of the voters vote in the affirmative for the establishment of an insurance program for A. flavus and freeze damage, the president of the Alabama Peanut Producers Association shall cause an election by mail to be held for the election of a board of directors of the peanut crop insurance corporation. In the election of the board of directors, there shall be three districts established to coincide with the existing three GFA districts. Each of the three districts shall have two places on the board. The two places for each district shall be designated as Place 1 and Place 2 and a board member shall be elected to each place by the peanut growers of the respective districts. Names of candidates for the board shall appear on the ballot only in the district in which the candidate resides. The term of office of the initial board shall commence immediately upon election and those elected in each district to Place 1 shall hold office for two years; those elected in each district to Place 2 shall hold office for four years. Only peanut growers shall vote in the election of the board members. Each director shall give bond, the premium to be paid by the board, in an amount to be determined by the board, payable to the board, conditioned upon the faithful performance of his duties as director. Such bond shall be executed by a surety company authorized to do business in this state and shall be on record in the principal office of the corporation. A director shall hold office until his successor has been elected and has qualified. Successors to the first elected directors shall likewise be elected for terms of four years at an election conducted, after notice by mail to peanut growers has been given, by such board at least one month prior to the expiration of the term of office of the incumbent directors, to be conducted by mail ballot. Vacancies occurring before the expiration of a term shall be filled for the remainder of the unexpired term by appointment by the remaining members of the board of directors, with the approval of the chairman of the board.

Vacancies in the board so long as there shall be one member representing each district in office shall not impair the powers of the board to execute the functions of the corporation, and three members in office representing the three different districts shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of the business of the board

In the event the GFA districts presently existing should be changed, the board may by unanimous vote, redistrict itself. If the vote of redistricting is less than unanimous, redistricting can be done only with the approval of a majority of the peanut growers.

Each peanut grower desiring to be a director shall file not later than ten days prior to the date set for an election a nominating petition with the board, signed by 10 or more peanut growers in the district in which he seeks election. If the candidates nominated do not exceed the positions available, they shall be declared elected by the board and the board shall issue a news release as to the results of such election. No person shall be eligible to be a director unless he is a peanut grower in the district in which he seeks election.

Members of the board shall receive no salaries but may be reimbursed for actual and necessary expenditures incurred in the performance of their duties.

Section 6. The president of the Alabama Peanut Producers Association shall call the first meeting of the board within 15 days after the election of the directors. The first order of business of such board shall be to adopt the corporate by-laws.

Section 7. The corporation shall have such powers as may be necessary or appropriate for the exercise of powers herein specifically conferred upon the corporation and all other general powers as are customary in corporations under the laws of this state.

(1) Initiate an insurance plan itself or execute a contract or contracts with an underwriter to insure farmers stock peanuts rejected by federal-state inspection service under any plan or plans of insurance determined by the board to be adapted to peanuts. Such insurance shall be against losses due to the presence or the suspected presence, resulting in a decrease in price per ton, or as the board may prescribe, of Aspergillus flavus or freeze damage.

(2) Cooperate with underwriter in fixing adequate premiums for such insurance at such rates as the board deems sufficient to cover claims for crop damages on such insurance provided that such premiums may be established on the basis of parity or comparable price for peanuts as determined and published by the secretary of agriculture of the United States or on the basis of an average market price designated by the board. Such premiums shall be collected at such time or times or shall be secured in such manner as the board may determine. The board shall adjust premiums on a year to year basis.

(3) Contract with any governmental agency or department or any division of the department of agriculture and industries or any other body for information or to provide assistance in collections and/or distributions.

(4) To adjust and pay claims for losses in the peanut production of Aspergillus flavus or freeze damage under rules prescribed by the board. The burden of proving the presence of A. flavus or freeze damage shall be on the peanut grower.

(5) Adopt and promulgate rules and regulations in the administration of such indemnity program and in the administration of this act.

Section 9. The board is hereby authorized to reimburse the Alabama Peanut Producers Association for the costs of the election of the initial board members. All subsequent elections shall be paid for by the board. The board is authorized to use premium income for the cost of collecting the premiums and for the administrative and operating costs.

Section 10. The corporation and the Alabama Peanut Producers Association, respectively, are authorized to issue such regulations as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act.

AN ACT

To amend Code of Alabama 1975, Sections 40-20-2 and 40-20-8, so as to increase the rate of tax; to provide further for distribution of the proceeds of the tax; and to provide certain exemptions from the increased rate.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of Alabama:

Section 1. Code of Alabama 1975, Section 40-20-2, is amended to read as follows:

“§ 40-20-2. (a) There is hereby levied, to be collected hereafter, as herein provided, annual privilege taxes upon every person engaging or continuing to engage within the State of Alabama in the business of producing or severing oil or gas as defined herein, from the soil or the waters, or from beneath the soil or the waters, of the state for sale, transport, storage, profit, or for use. The amount of such tax shall be measured at the rate of six per centum of the gross value of said oil or gas at the point of production. All wells producing less than 26 barrels of oil per day shall be taxed at the rate of four per centum (4%) of the gross value of said oil or gas at the point of production. All wells that come into production after the effective date of this Act shall be taxed at the rate of four per centum (4%) of the gross value of said oil or gas at the point of production for a period of ten years after production begins. Ten years after production begins, such tax shall then be imposed at the rate of six per centum (6%) on such wells that go into production after the effective date of this Act. Provided, however, that said additional increase shall be limited to those oil and gas wells from between 15,000 and 15,800 feet in the smackover formation. (b) The tax is hereby levied upon the basis of the entire production in this state, including what is known as the royalty interest, on which production the amount of such tax shall be a lien, regardless of the place of sale or to whom sold, or by whom used, or the fact that the delivery may be made to points outside the state; and the tax shall accrue at the time such oil or gas is severed from the soil or the waters, or from beneath the soil or the waters, and in its natural, unrefined, or unmanufactured condition. (c) A county, city, town or municipality of the state of Alabama shall not establish, levy, impose or collect as a condition of doing business or otherwise, any tax, fee, license or charge, whatsoever, directly or indirectly, on or with respect to the production, treating, processing, ownership, sale, storage, purchase, marketing, or transportation on any oil or gas produced in the state of Alabama and on which severance taxes have been paid to the state of Alabama, or upon the business of producing, treating, processing, owning, selling, buying, storing, marketing or transporting such oil, or gas or upon the ownership, operation or maintenance of plants, facilities, machinery, pipe lines, gathering lines or any equipment, whatsoever, which are, or may be necessary or convenient to the production, treating, processing, ownership, storage, sale, purchase, marketing, or transportation of such oil or gas; provided, that nothing herein shall be construed to prohibit, limit or restrict a county, city, town or municipality from imposing and collecting ad valorem taxes on any property, real or personal not otherwise now exempted by law; further, the limitation herein imposed upon counties, cities, towns and municipalities shall not apply to any county, city, town or municipality which does not receive a share of the severance tax under the provisions of this article. (d) Nothing contained herein shall be deemed to limit or to enlarge the authority of a county, city, town or municipality to levy taxes or licenses on oil refining facilities located therein or on the suppliers of services or goods not including oil or gas to those persons engaging in the business of producing, treating, processing, owning, selling, buying, storing, marketing or transporting such oil or gas. Any person who is a royalty owner shall be exempt from the payment of any increase in taxes herein levied and shall not be liable therefor. (e) The privilege tax herein levied shall be absorbed and paid by those persons engaged in the business of producing or severing oil or gas only, and the producer shall not pass on the costs of such tax payments, either directly or indirectly, to the consumer; it being the express intent of this act that the tax herein levied shall be borne exclusively by the producer or severer of oil or gas."

"§ 40-20-8. (a) Sixty-six and two-thirds per centum (66-2/3%) of the net amount of all taxes herein levied and collected by the department, after the same has been certified into the state treasury, shall be allocated and distributed by the comptroller to the credit of the general fund of the state and to the county in which the oil or gas was produced and to the municipalities therein in the proportion set out in the following schedule: (1) Twenty-five per centum (25%) of all taxes herein levied and collected on oil and gas produced from oil or gas wells located within any county, shall be allocated and distributed to each such county for county purposes or to be expended at the discretion of the county governing body. In all counties having a population of not less than 34,875, nor more than 36,000, according to the 1970 federal decennial census, such funds shall be allocated and distributed to the boards of education of the public schools in such counties on a pro rata basis as established by the number of children in net enrollment in the public schools during the prior school attendance year. In all counties having a population of not less than 16,000 nor more than 16,250, according to the 1970 federal decennial census, such funds shall be allocated and distributed as follows: Each year the first $150,000 shall be paid to the custodian of the county school funds and after the payment of said $150,000 each year the balance of said funds shall be divided and paid 1/3 to the custodian of the county school funds and 2/3 to the custodian of the county general funds. (2) Ten percent (10%) of all taxes herein levied and collected on oil and gas produced from oil or gas wells located within the corporate limits or the police jurisdiction of any municipality shall be allocated and distributed to each such municipality. (3) Fifty percent (50%) of the first one hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($150,000.00) remaining, or any part thereof, collected per year under the provisions of this article to the state; forty-two and one-half percent (42-1/2%) to the county; and seven and one-half percent (7-1/2%) to municipalities therein on a population basis. (4) Eighty-four per centum (84%) of all additional sums collected per year under the provisions of this article to the state; fourteen per centum (14%) to the county; and two per centum (2%) to municipalities therein on a population basis.

amount paid by such persons is in excess of the correct amount due, such excess shall be refunded to such persons or credited on any deficiency previously due by such persons as required by this act. If it appears that the amount paid by such persons is less than the amount due, the board shall compute the amount of such deficiency and shall notify such persons and shall demand payment thereof, and, if not paid within 15 days from date of such demand, the board shall add a penalty of $\frac{1}{2}$ of 1 per cent per month from the date such fees, or any part thereof, becomes due, provided, that if the board is of the opinion that there was a willful or fraudulent intent by such persons to evade the fees due, it may assess a penalty of 25 per cent of the fees, provided that upon appeal such action shall be reviewable.

“Whenever the board shall make an assessment against such persons as provided in section 9-17-106 of this act the board shall notify such persons by registered or certified mail of the amount of such assessment and shall notify such persons to appear at the board office on a day named not less than 20 days from date of such notice and show cause why such assessment should not be final. Such appearance may be by agent or attorney. If no showing is made on or before the date fixed in such notice or if such showing is not sufficient in the judgement of the board, such assessment shall be made final in the amount originally fixed or in such amount as is determined by the board to be correct. If upon such hearing, the board finds the amount due to be different from that originally assessed, it shall make the assessment final in the correct amount and in all cases shall notify such persons of the assessment as finally fixed; provided, that a notice by United States mail, addressed to such persons last known place of business, shall be sufficient.

“Whenever any such person who has duly appeared and protested an assessment by the board is dissatisfied he may make appeal of such assessment to the board at a time and place designated by the board, provided no appeal shall lie in cases where such person has failed to appear and protest.

“Detoxification” means supervised physical withdrawal from alcohol.

“Inpatient treatment” for alcoholism means care provided in a licensed hospital and is normally limited to detoxification where severe medical or psychiatric complications are present or may be anticipated.

“Short term residential alcoholism treatment” means a state certified facility which provides structured programs of intensive treatment services for people addicted to alcohol. Services may include supervised withdrawal from alcohol, backup emergency medical services for persons whose physical condition necessitates medical care, psychological and social evaluation, nutritional stabilization through proper dietary service, individual counseling, family counseling, referral to other providers who can provide additional services for continuity of care, aftercare, and followup.

"Outpatient treatment" means treatment rendered in a non-residential setting and using an intermittent, periodic schedule of visits.

Section 2. Policies, Contracts and Plans Affected by Act. No group, blanket, franchise or association health insurance policy providing coverage on an expense incurred basis, nor group, blanket, franchise or association service or indemnity type contract issued by a non-profit corporation, nor group-type self insurance plan providing protection, insurance or indemnity against hospital, medical or surgical expenses, nor health maintenance organization plan shall be issued, delivered, executed, or renewed in this State, or approved for issuance or renewal in this State by the Commissioner of Insurance after ninety (90) days beyond the effective date of this Act, unless such policy, contract or plan at the option of the policyholder or sponsor provides benefits to any insured, subscriber or other person covered under the policy, contract or plan for expenses incurred in connection with the treatment of alcoholism when such treatment is prescribed by a duly licensed doctor of medicine.

Section 3. Benefits Required. The benefits to be offered under this Act shall include inpatient or residential treatment rendered to the insured, subscriber, or other person covered, at a state licensed hospital or at a short term residential alcoholism treatment facility or detoxification facility duly licensed or certified as such by the Alabama Board of Health or the Alabama Mental Health Board.

Benefits shall also include outpatient treatment rendered to the insured, subscriber or other person covered, by a duly licensed doctor of medicine or by an alcoholism treatment facility duly licensed or certified as such by the Alabama Board of Health or the Alabama Mental Health Board.

Section 4. Extent of Coverage Required. When benefits are provided under this Act the benefits shall provide for a minimum of thirty days of inpatient treatment or its equivalent per calendar year with the equivalency to be computed based on a formula which equates two (2) days of treatment in a short term residential alcoholism treatment facility to one (1) day of inpatient treatment and which equates three (3) sessions of outpatient treatment by a licensed doctor of medicine or alcoholism treatment facility to one (1) day of inpatient treatment.

Section 5. Inconsistent Laws. All laws or provisions of law in conflict herewith are repealed insofar as they may be inconsistent with the provisions of this Act.

Section 6. Severability Clause. If any provision of this Act or the application thereof is held invalid, such invalidity shall not effect the other provisions or applications of this Act.

(g) Upon receipt of notice of dismissal of an appeal, the municipal court may issue a warrant for arrest of the defendant, who may also be arrested without a warrant as an escapee. Upon arrest, the defendant shall be delivered to the municipal authorities and punished in accordance with the judgment of the municipal court.

(h) If a judgment is entered against a defendant on appeal, the circuit court shall remand the defendant to the municipal authorities for punishment in accordance with the judgment of the circuit court, unless, when the judgment is for fine and costs only, the judgment is paid or a judgment is conferred therefor in favor of the municipality with sureties or as otherwise provided for convictions under state law.

As security for payment of the principal and interest on bonds issued or obligations assumed by it, an authority may enter into a contract or contracts binding itself for the proper application of the proceeds of bonds and other funds, for the continued operation, leasing and maintenance of any property and facilities owned or controlled and operated by it or under its authority or any part of parts thereof, for the imposition and collection of reasonable rates and rentals for and the promulgation of reasonable regulations respecting the use of property and facilities of the authority and any service furnished therefrom, for the disposition and application of its gross revenues or any part thereof and for any other act or series of acts not inconsistent with the provisions of this act for the protection of bonds and other obligations being secured and the assurance that revenues from such property and facilities will be sufficient to cover the cost of all direct operation of such property and facilities by the authority and the maintenance in good condition of such property and facilities owned and controlled by the authority, the payment of the principal of and interest on any bonds payable from such revenues and the maintenance of such reserves as may be deemed appropriate for the protection of the bonds, the efficient operation of such property and facilities, and the making of replacements thereof and capital improvements thereto. are made payable. The said resolution of the board or the said trust indenture may provide for the filing for record in the office of the judge of probate of each county in which any property and facilities, or any part thereof, may be located of a notice containing a brief description of such bonds and a declaration that the said statutory mortgage lien has been created for the benefit of the holders of such bonds and the interest coupons applicable thereto upon such property and facilities, or any thereof, including additions thereto and extensions thereof. Each judge of probate shall receive and record and index the name of the authority any such notice filed for record in his office. The recording of such notice, as provided in this section, shall operate as constructive notice of the contents thereof.

Section 11. Same - Use of proceeds from sale.

No license or excise tax may be imposed by any authority with respect to the privilege of engaging in any of the activities authorized by this act.

Section 14. Reports to governor.

Each authority shall submit to the governor a detailed report of its activities during the previous year and of its financial condition. Such annual report shall be submitted as of October 1 of each year. The governor may also require special interim reports by an authority of its activities and its financial condition; provided, that such interim reports may not be required more often than once each calendar quarter year.

Section 15. Provisions of act cumulative; provisions of act exclusive as to incorporation, issuance of bonds, etc.

This act is intended to aid the state in the execution of its duties by providing appropriate and independent instrumentalities of the state with full and adequate powers to fulfill their functions. The foregoing sections of this act shall be deemed to provide additional and alternative methods for the doing of the things authorized thereby and shall be regarded as supplemental and additional to and not in derogation of any powers conferred upon corporations created by municipalities within this state or upon any other agencies of the state or the municipalities thereof which are concerned with the restoration, renovation, preservation, improvement, protection or maintenance of or interest in any public or private property that has been listed in the National Register of Historic Places.

Neither this act nor any provision contained in this act shall be construed as a restriction or limitation upon any power, right or remedy which any corporation organized under this act may have in the absence thereof, but shall be construed as cumulative and independent of any such power, right or remedy. Upon the filing for record of a certified copy of the said resolution in the office of the secretary of state, the authority shall thereupon stand dissolved and, in the event it owned any property at the time of its dissolution, the title to all of its properties shall thereupon pass to and vest in the state.

Section 17. The provisions of this act are severable. If any part of this act is declared to be invalid or unconstitutional such declaration shall not affect the part which remains.
